Octopuses? We Know Them.
Gagging Karolyi.
Immoral Audiences.
Al Smith and Wadsworth.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Too late for that; we are used to "octopuses" and we don't mind them.

When the old Standard Oil was said to be worth a thousand millions everybody shivered and some cried "Horror." Now one little branch of the old Standard Oil in Indiana is worth in its new combination more than five hundred millions and it is NOT the biggest Standard unit.

The country no longer asks: "How much" money have you? But rather what do you do with the money you have?

The Rockefellers on the whole appear to be doing pretty well with their Foundations, their fight against disease, all the way from "Paris to Peking and from Peking to Rome." Also in Central America and all over the globe.

The Rockefellers don't squander their money, don't set a bad example, don't take scores of men away from useful work to wait on them.

It doesn't make much difference how much THEY HAVE if it pays taxes and doesn't corrupt government.

Count Karolyi, now in America, was before the war one of the richest men in Hungary, worth perhaps thirty millions.

He was the first president of the Hungarian republic. His entire fortune was confiscated. He came to this country to join his wife, granddaughter of the great Hungarian statesman, Andrassy, prime minister of Hungary 58 years ago.

In a few days Count Karolyi leaves for England, where he will speak in public concerning affairs of his own country and other countries.

Great Britain, which is a democracy, will be amused to learn that while in the United States Karolyi was forbidden, by the government, to make public speeches.

Why was he forbidden? Heaven only knows. Somebody over here who still has forty millions probably didn't want him to talk.

In England, where they have brains and a democracy, they are not afraid of free speech.

When red Indians tortured a victim the worst part of the performance was not the torture, but the fact that the entire Indian village intensely enjoyed the horrible spectacle, approved and joined in torture.

Politics in New York state may interest the whole country. Wadsworth, whose term soon ends, may fight Governor Al Smith for his seat in the senate.

Governor Smith will be fighting, not for a mere senatorship, but to show that he has New York state in the hollow of his hand, and thus make himself the "logical" Democratic candidate for president in 1928.

Noted citizens ask President Coolidge to "outlaw war."

How would you go about "outlawing war?"

How would you keep Austria from declaring war on little Serbia, following the murder of an Austrian heir to the throne?

How would you keep Germany from declaring war on France now, if she had the money, weapons and flying machines.

How would you keep Japan from declaring war on the United States, if Japan thought it her duty to change our minds about Asiatic immigration.

You can't outlaw war, but you can do much to prevent it. The way to prevent war is to be ready for it. Ten thousand first class flying machines, with good pilots, half of them swift pursuit planes, the other half heavy bombing planes, would do more for peace than all the sighs, groans and solemn nonsense about "outlawing war."

Fear works strangely. A man challenged to a duel killed himself through fear of the duel. Another whose life depended to walking across a deep chasm, on a narrow plank, jumped down to his death rather than make the effort.

Atilio Diaz, playing cards with others when masked entered, and held up the players, dived head first through an upper window and killed himself.

The bandits, ready for a fight, were not ready for that, and they left. Conquer fear and the rest is easy.

BOSTON, April 8.—Homeless families and destroyed property worth several million dollars were revealed by the sun today after forest fires had created a night of terror in a score or more towns in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

Probate Court Office And Records Damaged By Lavatory Water

Office desks and fixtures and record books were badly damaged, and file cases and the papers therein soaked as a result of water from the lavatory of court room No. 1, running through the floor and into the ceiling of the record room of the probate court last night.

When the office was opened this morning, there was nearly two inches of water on the floor. Water at noon today continued to drip from the ceiling. On account of the dampness of the record room, Judge Lodge Riddle dismissed his force of employes for the day.

HINDENBURG'S HAT IN GERMAN RING AGAINST WILHELM MARX

Field Marshal, 77, Accepts Presidential Nomination.

REICHS' ENTRY

BERLIN, April 8.—The Reichs bloc, comprising the Nationist parties and the reactionary elements, today succeeded in persuading Field Marshal Erich Von Hindenburg, the 77-year-old veteran, to accept the presidential nomination.

Von Hindenburg's acceptance was announced following a conference between the veteran general and Admiral Von Tirpitz, at Hanover. The Monarchistic forces had persuaded Germany's "grand old man of the sea" to prevail upon the "grand old man of the army" to take the step it was believed would bring victory to the Nationalists.

It was only with an effort that Von Hindenburg was persuaded to enter the race. His refusal was first reported, then his reconsideration, then again his definite refusal. Even today, before his acceptance of the candidacy, he was reported to have told Von Tirpitz:

"I am too old to accept such a difficult and responsible post."

Von Hindenburg will oppose Wilhelm Marx, former chancellor and candidate of the Republican coalition. The delay of the Nationalist bloc to secure a candidate for the second presidential election, April 26, has elated the Republicans, who were convinced by it that Marx will be victor in the run-off election.

WILHELM PLAYS POLITICAL ROLE

HANOVER, Germany, April 8.—It was a private message from the former Kaiser Wilhelm that it was the "only way to save the nation, which in luenced Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to reconsider his decision and decide to become a candidate for the presidency April 26, it was said here today.

Added to this was said to be the insistent argument of Admiral Von Tirpitz that Hindenberg was the "only man able to defeat Marx," the Republican.

The great question here following Hindenburg's decision to seek the presidency was whether Ludendorff will support him or announce his own candidacy.

Chicago Defeats Municipal Ownership Of Transit Systems

CHICAGO, April 8.—Chicago's proposed traction ordinance which was to have given the city municipaly-owned and operated transit systems and provided for the construction of subways, was defeated by approximately 100,000 votes at yesterday's referendum, today's returns showed.

Two suburbs — Evanston and Oak Park— defeated Sunday movies.

C. H. Blazer, 72, Prohibition Leader, Dies Suddenly In Home

Farmer, Grocer and Miller Succumbs After Less Than Two Hours' Illness of Acute Indigestion and Neuralgia.

Charles H. Blazer, 72 years old, lifelong resident of this city and an active church and temperance worker, died suddenly in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Homer Huff, Orchard Grove and Jennings avenues, at 12:45 o'clock this morning. Death was due to an attack of acute indigestion and neuralgia of the heart.

Mr. Blazer, who has been employed at the Faulk Brothers mill, Dresden avenue, worked yesterday, and last evening was engaged about the yard of his home. He retired about 10:30, apparently in normal health.

About 11:15 o'clock he summoned his daughter, Mrs. Huff, because of a severe pain. Dr. W. N. Bailey was immediately summoned, the physician administered medicine which relieved the pain but death followed shortly afterwards.

Mr. Blazer was born in Macomb, Ill., February 8, 1853. His father died when he was young and he came to East Liverpool with his uncle, Joseph Montgomery, who owned a large farm which is now a part of Thompson park, just outside the city. He made his home with his uncle for many years.

Funeral Services Friday.

For four years he lived with his mother in Asheville, N. C., where he was engaged in the grocery business. He later returned to East Liverpool, where he entered the employment of the Faulk Brothers company, feed dealers and millers. He has been connected with this firm for about 26 years.

He was active in the prohibition movement here. He was an elder of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church for several years and also held the same office in the First Presbyterian church. He was affiliated with the Royal Arcanum lodge.

Mr. Blazer is survived by four children: Mrs. Huff, with whom he made his home; Joseph and Miss Mary Blazer, both of this city, and Mrs. Claude Knox, of Glendale, Cal. His wife died about 33 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Huff home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

DR. W. E. BIEDERWOLF WILL RETURN FOR TWO MEETINGS IN TABERNACLE

Dr. C. F. Swift, Pittsburgh, of National Reform Association, Will Co-operate in Services on April 18-19.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, of Monticello, Ind., who conducted a six weeks' evangelistic campaign here last fall, will return to East Liverpool for a series of week-end services in the tabernacle, Second and Washington streets, Saturday and Sunday, April 18 and 19.

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Frederic A. Dean, wife of the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Dr. Biederwolf will return here under auspices of the East Liverpool Welfare association, which purchased the tabernacle building following the close of the revival services last December.

Dr. Biederwolf will conduct services in the tabernacle on Saturday and Sunday evenings. On Sunday morning he will fill the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, East End.

An afternoon meeting will also be held in the tabernacle, on April 19, at which Rev. C. F. Swift, D. D., field representative for the National Reform association, will speak on the subject, "The Pillars and Perils of Democracy."

Dr. Swift was pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church here about 25 years ago. He is an ex-member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, but for several years has been connected with the National Reform association, which maintains its headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The tabernacle services will be open to the general public. As the tabernacle must be cleared from the playground lot before May 1, these will likely be the last meetings to be held in the big shed, it was said.

CHEVROLET CAR REPORTED STOLEN

Police are searching for a Chevrolet touring car belonging to John Davis, 522 Elizabeth street, which is alleged to have been stolen while parked in front of the Davis home at 11 o'clock Monday evening.

SYMPATHY COSTS OHIOAN $1,000

LORAIN, April 8.—Paul Konienzy is through with the sympathy racket, and tears will hereafter find his heart a stone. Too much sympathy cost him $1,000.

A weeping stranger and companion offered Konienzy half of the insurance of a dead brother if he would aid in securing a pass port. As a guarantee of good faith, Konienzy put up $1,000.

"That's the last I saw of either the money or the men," he explained to police.

WILLIS CUNNING FUNERAL PLANS

Funeral services for the late Willis Cunning, president of the West End Pottery company, who died in his winter home at Princeton, Fla., Saturday afternoon following an extended illness, will be conducted at the late home, 209 West Fourth street, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Rev. John M. Withycombe, acting pastor of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church, of which Mr. Cunning was a member, will be in charge. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

Friends may view the body from 7 until 10 o'clock tonight. Members of East Liverpool lodge No. 258, B. P. O. Elks, will conduct services at 7 o'clock tonight.

In addition to his interests in the West End pottery, Mr. Cunning was connected with the Burgess & Co., stilt manufacturers, of Wellsville, and the New Lexington pottery, New Lexington, O.

EDGARLE BLOOR IS ARRESTED, THEN FREED, IN GUN PLAY CASE

Charge Against Special Policeman Withdrawn by Complainant.

PAYS DAMAGES

Mrs. M. C. Russell Acts, Then Officer Accuses Auto Driver.

As an aftermath of the alleged gun play along the River road Sunday night, in which two East End youths are said to have narrowly escaped being wounded, Special Patrolman Edgarle Bloor, Oak street, was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith, last evening, upon charges of malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound.

The charges were filed before Justice P. V. Mackall by Mrs. M. C. Russell, First avenue, East End, in behalf of her son, Evan Russell, 20, driver of an automobile which Bloor is alleged to have attempted to halt.

Upon Bloor's promise to make good the damage done to the automobile and his agreement to pay the costs of the case, Mrs. Russell withdrew the charges, she said today. Mrs. Russell added that Bloor this morning replaced the car's broken windshield and also furnished a new side curtain, both of which contained bullet holes.

Mayor Dismisses Boy.

Bloor, after being dismissed by Justice Mackall, filed a charge of fast and reckless driving against young Russell in police court. The youth was arrested at his home, late last night, by Patrolman Chester Smith and brought to city hall. He was later released and ordered to appear before Mayor Brown this morning. Mayor Brown today dismissed the boy, asserting that the charges had been dropped.

The alleged shooting occurred about 9 o'clock last Sunday night, when young Russell, his brother and three other companions were on their way down town. At a point along the River road near the Harker pottery, it is alleged another automobile had been stopped. Beside it stood two girls and a man, the Russell automobile party said.

As Evan Russell and his companions passed the machine, Bloor is said to have attempted to halt them, but believing him to be some enemy, Russell "stepped on the gas." An instant

NILES FEARS POTTERY LOSS

Atlas China Company Considers Offers to Move Plant.

The Atlas China company, of Niles, which suffered a $300,000 fire loss on March 28, when a large part of the plant was destroyed, may quit Niles, unless better fire protection is provided.

A. O. C. Ahrendts, formerly of Chester, manager of the plant, announced today that several other cities have made offers for the plant. For that reason the company is undecided whether it will rebuild in Niles or locate its plant elsewhere.

The Niles city council has already taken steps to give the plant better fire protection by extending the water mains and increasing the personnel of the fire department.

The company which was running at 100 per cent capacity at the time of the blaze, will be unable to resume operations for at least four months, it is claimed.

G. O. P. IS WINNER IN ST. LOUIS

Igoe, Democrat, by a 3,196 majority. A record vote of 237,638 was cost.

EAST LIVERPOOL HIGH SCHOOL IS AGAIN PLACED ON CLASS A LIST OF ACCREDITED INSTITUTIONS

For the twenty-third consecutive year, the East Liverpool high school is listed among the Class A institutions of accredited high schools by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, thus opening the doors of colleges for its graduates.

Official notification of the action of the association for the 1925-26 period was received today by Miss Florence Updegraff, principal.

The association, which does not issue certificates of crediting for more than one year, sends representatives to make an annual examination of high schools seeking places on the honor list.

The certificate for the East Liverpool school, which has been on the accredit list of Class A schools since 1903, will be issued on or about April 10.

Aim of Association.

"The association was founded in 1895 by a group of foresighted men representing but a small number of institutions and a very limited territory. It has steadily grown to include twenty states, Arkansas being included in 1923, and West Virginia in 1925.

"The aim of the North Central association is declared in the Constitution, Article II. It reads as follows:

"The object of the association shall be to establish closer relations between the secondary schools and institutions of higher education within the North Central states and such other territory as the association may recognize."

"That these aims are, to a large degree realized, is evidenced by the steady growth of the association in territorial accessions, in the number of affiliated and accredited schools and colleges, and in the power and prestige exercised in respect to educational policies and practices throughout the country. Twenty states are today embraced within the association. These are: Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexica, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. At the time of the annual meeting, March, 1925, the association accredited 1894 high schools and academies.

"The North Central association is seeking to promote the cause of education through three types of activities; first, by bringing about a better acquaintance, a keener sympathy and a heartier co-operation betwen the colleges and secondary schools of its territory; second, by considering common educational problems and devising ways and means of solving them; and third, by promoting the physical, intellectual and moral well being of students by urging proper sanitary conditions of school buildings, adequate library and laboratory facilities, and higher standards of scholarship.

"The association is the most generally recognized standardizing agency for high schools and colleges in the North Central states if indeed it does not rank first in prestige in the entire United States. Recognition by the North Central association means, therefore, in the educational world the same as high ranking by Dun or Bradstreet in the field of finance and business."

Factors in Classification.

In determining the classification of schools, consideration is given the location and construction of buildings; library and laboratory facilities; requirements for graduation; efficiency of instruction, acquired habits of thought and study, general intellectual and moral tone of the school and the co-operative attitude of the community; salary schedule of teachers; preparation

Probate Court Office And Records Damaged By Lavatory Water

Office desks and fixtures and record books were badly damaged, and file cases and the papers therein soaked as a result of water from the lavatory of court room No. 1, running through the floor and into the ceiling of the record room of the probate court last night.

When the office was opened this morning, there was nearly two inches of water on the floor. Water at noon today continued to drip from the ceiling. On account of the dampness of the record room, Judge Lodge Riddle dismissed his force of employes for the day.

C. H. Blazer, 72, Prohibition Leader, Dies Suddenly In Home

Farmer, Grocer and Miller Succumbs After Less Than Two Hours' Illness of Acute Indigestion and Neuralgia.

Charles H. Blazer, 72 years old, lifelong resident of this city and an active church and temperance worker, died suddenly in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Homer Huff, Orchard Grove and Jennings avenues, at 12:45 o'clock this morning. Death was due to an attack of acute indigestion and neuralgia of the heart.

Mr. Blazer, who has been employed at the Faulk Brothers mill, Dresden avenue, worked yesterday, and last evening was engaged about the yard of his home. He retired about 10:30, apparently in normal health.

About 11:15 o'clock he summoned his daughter, Mrs. Huff, because of a severe pain. Dr. W. N. Bailey was immediately summoned, the physician administered medicine which relieved the pain but death followed shortly afterwards.

Mr. Blazer was born in Macomb, Ill., February 8, 1853. His father died when he was young and he came to East Liverpool with his uncle, Joseph Montgomery, who owned a large farm which is now a part of Thompson park, just outside the city. He made his home with his uncle for many years.

Funeral Services Friday.

For four years he lived with his mother in Asheville, N. C., where he was engaged in the grocery business. He later returned to East Liverpool, where he entered the employment of the Faulk Brothers company, feed dealers and millers. He has been connected with this firm for about 26 years.

He was active in the prohibition movement here. He was an elder of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church for several years and also held the same office in the First Presbyterian church. He was affiliated with the Royal Arcanum lodge.

Mr. Blazer is survived by four children: Mrs. Huff, with whom he made his home; Joseph and Miss Mary Blazer, both of this city, and Mrs. Claude Knox, of Glendale, Cal. His wife died about 33 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Huff home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

DR. W. E. BIEDERWOLF WILL RETURN FOR TWO MEETINGS IN TABERNACLE

Dr. C. F. Swift, Pittsburgh, of National Reform Association, Will Co-operate in Services on April 18-19.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, of Monticello, Ind., who conducted a six weeks' evangelistic campaign here last fall, will return to East Liverpool for a series of week-end services in the tabernacle, Second and Washington streets, Saturday and Sunday, April 18 and 19.

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Frederic A. Dean, wife of the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Dr. Biederwolf will return here under auspices of the East Liverpool Welfare association, which purchased the tabernacle building following the close of the revival services last December.

Dr. Biederwolf will conduct services in the tabernacle on Saturday and Sunday evenings. On Sunday morning he will fill the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, East End.

An afternoon meeting will also be held in the tabernacle, on April 19, at which Rev. C. F. Swift, D. D., field representative for the National Reform association, will speak on the subject, "The Pillars and Perils of Democracy."

Dr. Swift was pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church here about 25 years ago. He is an ex-member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, but for several years has been connected with the National Reform association, which maintains its headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The tabernacle services will be open to the general public. As the tabernacle must be cleared from the playground lot before May 1, these will likely be the last meetings to be held in the big shed, it was said.

A weeping stranger and companion offered Koniezny half of the insurance of a dead brother if he would aid in securing a pass port. As a guarantee of good faith, Koniezny put up $1,000.

"That's the last I saw of either the money or the men," he explained to police.

EDGARLE BLOOR IS ARRESTED, THEN FREED, IN GUN PLAY CASE

Charge Against Special Policeman Withdrawn by Complainant.

PAYS DAMAGES

Mrs. M. C. Russell Acts, Then Officer Accuses Auto Driver.

As an aftermath of the alleged gun play along the River road Sunday night, in which two East End youths are said to have narrowly escaped being wounded, Special Patrolman Edgarle Bloor, Oak street, was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith, last evening, upon charges of malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound.

The charges were filed before Justice P. V. Mackall by Mrs. M. C. Russell, First avenue, East End, in behalf of her son, Evan Russell, 20, driver of an automobile which Bloor is alleged to have attempted to halt.

Upon Bloor's promise to make good the damage done to the automobile and his agreement to pay the costs of the case, Mrs. Russell withdrew the charges, she said today. Mrs. Russell added that Bloor this morning replaced the car's broken windshield and also furnished a new side curtain, both of which contained bullet holes.

Mayor Dismisses Boy.

Bloor, after being dismissed by Justice Mackall, filed a charge of fast and reckless driving against young Russell in police court. The youth was arrested at his home, late last night, by Patrolman Chester Smith and brought to city hall. He was later released and ordered to appear before Mayor Brown this morning. Mayor Brown today dismissed the boy, asserting that the charges had been dropped.

The alleged shooting occurred about 9 o'clock last Sunday night, when young Russell, his brother and three other companions were on their way down town. At a point along the River road near the Harker pottery, it is alleged another automobile had been stopped. Beside it stood two girls and a man, the Russell automobile party said.

As Evan Russell and his companions passed the machine, Bloor is said to have attempted to halt them, but believing him to be some enemy, Russell "stepped on the gas." An instant

NILES FEARS POTTERY LOSS

Atlas China Company Considers Offers to Move Plant.

The Atlas China company, of Niles, which suffered a $300,000 fire loss on March 28, when a large part of the plant was destroyed, may quit Niles, unless better fire protection is provided.

A. O. C. Ahrendts, formerly of Chester, manager of the plant, announced today that several other cities have made offers for the plant. For that reason the company is undecided whether it will rebuild in Niles or locate its plant elsewhere.

The Niles city council has already taken steps to give the plant better fire protection by extending the water mains and increasing the personnel of the fire department.

The company which was running at 100 per cent capacity at the time of the blaze, will be unable to resume operations for at least four months, it is claimed.

EAST LIVERPOOL HIGH SCHOOL IS AGAIN PLACED ON CLASS A LIST OF ACCREDITED INSTITUTIONS

For the twenty-third consecutive year, the East Liverpool high school is listed among the Class A institutions of accredited high schools by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, thus opening the doors of colleges for its graduates.

Official notification of the action of the association for the 1925-26 period was received today by Miss Florence Updegraff, principal.

The association, which does not issue certificates of crediting for more than one year, sends representatives to make an annual examination of high schools seeking places on the honor list.

The certificate for the East Liverpool school, which has been on the accredit list of Class A schools since 1903, will be issued on or about April 10.

Aim of Association.

"The association was founded in 1895 by a group of foresighted men representing but a small number of institutions and a very limited territory. It has steadily grown to include twenty states, Arkansas being included in 1923, and West Virginia in 1925.

"The aim of the North Central association is declared in the Constitution, Article II. It reads as follows:

"The object of the association shall be to establish closer relations between the secondary schools and institutions of higher education within the North Central states and such other territory as the association may recognize."

"That these aims are, to a large degree realized, is evidenced by the steady growth of the association in territorial accessions, in the number of affiliated and accredited schools and colleges, and in the power and prestige exercised in respect to educational policies and practices throughout the country. Twenty states are today embraced within the association. These are: Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexica, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. At the time of the annual meeting, March, 1925, the association accredited 1804 high schools and academies.

"The North Central association is seeking to promote the cause of education through three types of activities; first, by bringing about a better acquaintance, a keener sympathy and a heartier co-operation betwen the colleges and secondary schools of its territory; second, by considering common educational problems and devising ways and means of solving them; and third, by promoting the physical, intellectual and moral well being of students by urging proper sanitary conditions of school buildings, adequate library and laboratory facilities, and higher standards of scholarship.

"The association is the most generally recognized standardizing agency for high schools and colleges in the North Central states if indeed it does not rank first in prestige in the entire United States. Recognition by the North Central association means, therefore, in the educational world the same as high ranking by Dun or Bradstreet in the field of finance and business."

Factors in Classification.

In determining the classification of schools, consideration is given the location and construction of buildings; library and laboratory facilities; requirements for graduation; efficiency of instruction, acquired habits of thought and study, general intellectual and moral tone of the school and the co-operative attitude of the community; salary schedule of teachers; preparation

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.
As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.
To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

AINT IT THE GRAND, GLORIOUS FEELING

"I can not praise Ka-di-ok enough for what it has done for me," said Mr. H. D. Mays, 10 South 5th St., Martin's Ferry, O., to the Ka-di-ok representative. Mr. Mays is a 71-year "young" carpenter contractor of that city, and, since taking Ka-di-ok, has engaged in the construction of five houses there. He was a sufferer from rheumatism, affecting his entire body, indigestion, stomach trouble, loss of appetite, and the usual ills accompanying a disordered stomach.

H. D. Mays

After taking Ka-di-ok he emphatically declares his rheumatic pains have all left him, his appetite has returned, and he feels "glorious." Ka-di-ok will do for others what it did for Mr. Mays, if you will only give it a trial. The label on the bottle states in plain language the ills for which it is recommended, and it does exactly what is claimed for it, as testified to by thousands of grateful people all over the country.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathew's Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 West Sixth street.

QUESTIONS LACK OF SAFETY FUNDS

Criticisms aimed at the lack of funds in the safety department and the alleged slowness with which Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation has been progressing, brought about heater varbal tilts between various city of of city council.

Directing his guns on the police department, City Auditor Fred Eckfeld revealed a situation which he termed as "uncalled for." He pointed out that there is but $340.16 in the safety fund, and charges of $3,045 to face during the months of April, May and June.

"There is something rotten in Denmark," the auditor declared as he compared fines collected the first three months of 1924 and those brought in this year. He advised either councilmanic co-operation with Mayor James S. Barnes, or a reduction in safety department expenses.

In defense of the department, Mayor Barnes pointed to the fact that council had refused to allow him to get equipment with which to operate the department for the highest possible financial returns. He asserted that he had not been given the co-operation that he should have received and that a "certain element" had tried repeatedly to hinder him. He asserted he was willing to work night and day if co-operation for his efforts were forthcoming.

President of Council Blackburn raised a question, during the session, as to whether Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation had progressed as rapidly as it should.

Resenting the intimation that he had not handled the legal end of the paving negotiations as rapidly as he should, City Solicitor George D. Ingram asserted that the city was going as fast as it could in this particular matter, and that he refused to be hurried in an important proceeding such as the improvement involved.

The solons enacted an ordinance under suspended rules and on third and final reading, vacating Geisse alley and a portion of lot No. 1, near Second and Broadway. This action was the result of an appeal by the Stevenson Foundry Co., which seeks additional ground on which to enlarge their plant. Satisfactory arrangements for property owners that might be affected by the vacation have been provided by the Foundry company.

Two bond ordinances for the Wells avenue-Lisbon street paving were passed on third and final readings.

FRIDAY SERVICE AT LOCAL CHURCH

Services will be held in the Church of the Ascension, Eleventh and Main streets, on the afternoon of Good Friday, from 2 until 3 o'clock, to commemorate the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ upon the cross, Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector, announced today.

Denies he's "Fred Jenkins."

R. L. Jenkins, of Irondale, today issued a statement in which he desires to make public the fact that he is not the "Fred Jenkins" who was arrested recently at Yellow Creek on a liquor charge by Jefferson county prohibition agents. The "Fred Jenkins" name, it was pointed out, was a fictitious cognomen given by the prisoner to his captors, but which has proved inconvenient for the real Jenkins.

QUESTIONS LACK OF SAFETY FUNDS

Criticisms aimed at the lack of funds in the safety department and the alleged slowness with which Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation has been progressing, brought about heater varbal tilts between various city of of city council.

Directing his guns on the police department, City Auditor Fred Eckfeld revealed a situation which he termed as "uncalled for." He pointed out that there is but $340.16 in the safety fund, and charges of $3,045 to face during the months of April, May and June.

"There is something rotten in Denmark," the auditor declared as he compared fines collected the first three months of 1924 and those brought in this year. He advised either councilmanic co-operation with Mayor James S. Barnes, or a reduction in safety department expenses.

In defense of the department, Mayor Barnes pointed to the fact that council had refused to allow him to get equipment with which to operate the department for the highest possible financial returns. He asserted that he had not been given the co-operation that he should have received and that a "certain element" had tried repeatedly to hinder him. He asserted he was willing to work night and day if co-operation for his efforts were forthcoming.

President of Council Blackburn raised a question, during the session, as to whether Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation had progressed as rapidly as it should.

Resenting the intimation that he had not handled the legal end of the paving negotiations as rapidly as he should, City Solicitor George D. Ingram asserted that the city was going as fast as it could in this particular matter, and that he refused to be hurried in an important proceeding such as the improvement involved.

The solons enacted an ordinance under suspended rules and on third and final reading, vacating Geisse alley and a portion of lot No. 1, near Second and Broadway. This action was the result of an appeal by the Stevenson Foundry Co., which seeks additional ground on which to enlarge their plant. Satisfactory arrangements for property owners that might be affected by the vacation have been provided by the Foundry company.

Two bond ordinances for the Wells avenue-Lisbon street paving were passed on third and final readings.

Services will be held in the Church of the Ascension, Eleventh and Main streets, on the afternoon of Good Friday, from 2 until 3 o'clock, to commemorate the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ upon the cross, Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector, announced today.

Denies he's "Fred Jenkins."

R. L. Jenkins, of Irondale, today issued a statement in which he desires to make public the fact that he is not the "Fred Jenkins" who was arrested recently at Yellow Creek on a liquor charge by Jefferson county prohibition agents. The "Fred Jenkins" name, it was pointed out, was a fictitious cognomen given by the prisoner to his captors, but which has proved inconvenient for the real Jenkins.

East Liverpool-Pittsburgh Road

The campaign of the Chamber of Commerce and other good road boosters here for the completion of the East Liverpool-Pittsburgh link of the Lincoln Highway is making progress.

Acting upon request of East Liverpool and Chester boosters, Pittsburgh manufacturers and merchants went to Harrisburg, Pa., Monday, to urge upon the legislature the merits of the Harris bill for making an improved road between Imperial, Pa., and Chester and East Liverpool. This stretch of thirteen miles is said to be the only unimproved section of the trans-continental road between New York and Omaha.

Emphasizing the importance of the movement, the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph, editorially, says:

"The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce has long urged that the state take this enterprise in hand. Elimination of this bad spot would be a boon not only to tourists, but to motorists traveling on business between Pittsburgh and this prosperous section of West Virginia and Ohio. Those states have done their share. Pennsylvania should see to it that the Lincoln Highway within its borders is not marred by this comparatively short stretch of road that is a relic of pre-automobile days.

"It is announced that construction of more than fifty miles of state highways in Western Pennsylvania will be started within the next two weeks, the cost to be met by the bond issue. This Lincoln Highway improvement would be a sound investment, benefiting not only Pittsburgh, but a wide stretch of surrounding territory. Prompt action by the legislature is necessary if it is not to be postponed for two years more. The arguments presented by representative Pittsburghers should convince the committee of the advisability of making a favorable recommendation."

And all this indicates that East Liverpool and Chester good road boosters are permitting no grass to grow under their feet in their determination to open the arteries of transportation for the benefit of Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Opera For the World

"I'll tell the world" ceases to be slang and takes on the dignity of a symbolic slogan,, as radio extends its triumphs. Broadcasters are telling the world all kinds of things, with a persistency and range that admit no opposition. The time is already here when one man in one spot may speak, or one singer may sing, to an audience covering this continent and reaching across the neighboring oceans. But no speaker or singer so far has appealed directly and consciously to all the world.

Germany will set a precedent in this respect on Good Friday. Under the baton of Max von Schillings, director general of the state opera, Wagner's "Parsifal" is to be "transmitted to the world." It will be broadcast from the station at Koenigswusterhausen, starting at 3 p. m. European time, which is 9 a. m. New York time. It is expected that direct reception will cover a range of several thousand miles, and the opera will be rebroadcast by many distant sending stations, so that, with good air conditions, it may be heard literally in all quarters of the world.

This is a worthy experiment of a sort that may become common within a few years. "Parsifal" is often criticised as long, heavy and tedious; but it has wonderful music in it, and as appropriate to the occasion.

Opera, too, carries well by radio, as spoken drama seldom does, and has a steadily growing appeal among radio fans.

Free Fashions

From Paris, traditional dictator of styles, comes word that women are appropriating men's dinner suits for evening wear. The costs are the same, likewise the white collar and black tie. There is, indeed, a sort of skirt, but so plain, straight and tight that it looks not unlike trousers.

There is continual danger, observers say, of women being mistaken for men at evening functions in this costume, with embarrassing complications.

There is an artistic row over it, too. "Sacrilege!" cries the famous French actress, Mme. Sorel. "For heaven's sake, don't take anything more from woman's womanliness. Leave men the ugliest thing they possess—their dress!"

And must America succumb to this dreadful fate? Possibly not. There is hope in a recent dispatch from Chicago, reporting a session of the Fashion Art League of America. "Feminine fashions," it says, "are returning to the feminine, and the era of masculine dominance, boyish bobs, sternly tailored suits, mannish silhouettes and straight lines is about to close."

Moreover, remarks an observant young lady not associated with any particular style movement, "there are no rigid fashions any more in this country. American women are free to wear about anything they please between the neck and the ankles." Which is as it should be.

Norway and Sweden are sore because they haven't had any winter at all. They should be philosophical about such matters, like Florida and California.

The Scotch are said to be changing from the bagpipe to the saxophone, so we might as well change the other way. Either one is better than the other.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

ON THE ATLANTIC, April 8.—This evening I watched the Olympic ride gallantly through a squall. The sun was out but ahead were low, lowering clouds. We ploughed into the dark through the curtain of slashing rain. Mountainous waves crashed and the wind shrieked. One wave 70 feet high hit the bridge.

In 30 minutes we were in the sunshine again. Then the sun began to vanish leaving the vague violet of the sea and the pansy dusk of the sky. Suddenly the west went black and stars blazed out against the velvet plush of night. No wonder a seaman never tires of the sea.

I have been doing considerable reading aboard ship. Among the books I found interesting were "Stacey," "Thomas the Lambkin," "Gold," "Beggars of Life" and Gamaliel Bradford's "Samuel Pepys." I commend them all. Ialso read "White Light Nights" for the second time and found it awful.

On the voyage from Europe, owing to the alteration in time as the ship proceeds westward, it is necessary to put watches back every 24 hours from 35 to 45 minutes. As I have a new watch I fear to tinker with it and never know the time. I see no reason for knowing time on a ship anyway.

It is somewhat like the old yarn of the negro in jail calling out to another negro on the street: "What time is it?" the pedestrian replied: "What difference does it make? You ain't goin' anywhere."

The leading news in the daily giggle or Ocean Times today was from Constinople. It read: "The Angoria Assembly has approved of martial law in Kurdistan." Still each passenger welcomes its daily visit. There is much good material in it reprinted from exchanges.

I notice in it an advertisement of the Restaurant Marquery in Paris which has a line reading: "A Feature: A visit to the cellar." That is also a feature of almost any visit to a home in America.

Ship stewards apear to have names different from the average man. Among those I recall in crossing are Skilling, Tweedie, Light, Mussie, Clout, Pedy and Waser.

In every ship smoking room one finds those tweedy looking habitual voyagers. They generally have mighty cigars in their mouths and magnums of champagne in ice pails beside them. They are maniacs of motion—never content to be in one spot for long. They seek no casual acquaintance. I sat next to one who was reading the Echo de Paris. A steward evidently knew him from other crossings and they talked. As he told of his travels, the world shrank to the size of a thin dime. Since last they met he had been to islands in the Southern Pacific, New Zealand, Central Asia and Thibet. He was on his way to New York. Two days there and then to San Francisco to embark for Japan. He was of enormous build and heavily bronzed and drank glass after glass of champagne with fargantuan gulps.

Then, too, there is usually one of those amiable old gentlemen on every ship who seems to take a philanthropic interest in the ship's management. He brags about the meals and the steadiness of the ship. He is always drawing people into the friendly circle in which he happens to be. The one on this ship is really a good sort yet it is a strange world and I think most of the passengers look upon him as a trifle ridiculous and wish he were not so affable. I even find myself avoiding him.

A Scotsman parades the deck in kilts and other regalia. His knees are bare but I notice he wears spats. That is perhaps Scotch thrift for spats do save the wear and tear on shoe laces.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Great Medical Center.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—One of the last things which congress did before adjourning was to authorize the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the construction of permanent buildings at Walter Reed hospital to replace the temporary buildings of Washington's famous army hospital.

These temporary buildings have long been recognized as fire traps, and as one officer put it, "it is only because of constant vigilance and care that there has not been a terrible catastrophe." For several years efforts have been made to impress upon congress the great need of such an appropriation. Now when the money is actually appropriated in December, work may be commenced on this very important project.

From time to time there has been so much criticism of the hospitals in which veterans are being taken care of that it seems strange that there should have been any opposition to the idea that the temporary buildings at Walter Reed should be replaced by modern, fireproof ones. But the congressional hearings disclosed such opposition. One of the arguments used against putting up permanent buildings was that if this were done it would be impossible ever to cut through the grounds certain streets which some groups of citizens are interested in seeing continued.

From a realtor's point of view the extension of certain streets through the hospital grounds would be extremely advantageous, but on the other hand the hospital authorities maintain that such procedure is not only illogical but unnecessary. The automobiles constantly going up and down these streets would be a menace to those patients who were able to wander around the grounds. The noise of such traffic would be a great annoyance to very ill or nervous patients, and exceedingly detrimental to their welfare.

The plans for Walter Reed hospital are very ambitious and it is hoped that eventually it will be the greatest center of its sort in the world. At the present time the Army Medical School, the Army Dental School, the Army School of Nursing and the Army Veterinary School are located there.

To Add Museum and Library.

Eventually it is hoped to move to this reservation the Army Medical Museum and the Army Medical Library. In view of all these things the army medical authorities feel that the hospital grounds should be kept free from public highways, as is the case with the grounds of the Soldier's Home. Congress enacted legislation which provides that no streets shall ever be cut through this reservation.

In addition to the money which congress is going to appropriate to Walter Reed hospital for the construction of permanent buildings, the Veterans' Bureau is going to use $900,000 of its appropriation for the building of the new west wing. This is to consist entirely of wards. It is deemed proper that the bureau should use the money in this way in view of the fact that the hospital reserves 500 beds for bureau patients, out of an approximate total of one thousand. These are filled almost all the time.

There is no discrimination between the bureau's patients and those who are actually connected with the service. If anything, the bureau's patients have a little the better of it in that they do not come under quite so strict discipline as those still in service. And for the most part they seem satisfied with the treatment accorded them.

The main building is largely used for very ill patients, or those who must undergo operations. This is because the facilities for giving prompt and special attention to patients are greater and more centralized in this building. Also this building is more quiet. The fact that a patient is from the Veterans' Bureau, from the rank and file, an officer's wife, or an officer himself, has nothing to do with his being given a bed in this main building. The only thing that determines that he should be housed here is the seriousness of his condition. When his condition permits he is moved to a ward in one of the temporary buildings in order that some other urgent case may take his place.

Since most of the staff of the hospital live within the grounds, or very close by, it is possible to get quick service in an emergency at any time. There are on duty at the hospital at all times a certain number of doctors. If it was found at 2 o'clock in the

In 30 minutes we were in the sunshine again. Then the sun began to vanish leaving the vague violet of the sea and the pansy dusk of the sky. Suddenly the west went black and stars blazed out against the velvet plush of night. No wonder a seaman never tires of the sea.

I have been doing considerable reading aboard ship. Among the books I found interesting were "Stacey," "Thomas the Lambkin," "Gold," "Beggars of Life" and Gamballel Bradford's "Samuel Pepys." I commend them all. Ialso read "White Light Nights" for the second time and found it awful.

On the voyage from Europe, owing to the alteration in time as the ship proceeds westward, it is necessary to put watches back every 24 hours from 35 to 45 minutes. As I have a new watch I fear to tinker with it and never know the time. I see no reason for knowing time on a ship anyway.

It is somewhat like the old yarn of the negro in jail calling out to another negro on the street: "What time is it?" the pedestrian replied: "What difference does it make? You ain't goin' anywhere."

The leading news in the daily giggle or Ocean Times today was from Constinople. It read: "The Angoria Assembly has approved of martial law in Kurdistan." Still each passenger welcomes its daily visit. There is much good material in it reprinted from exchanges.

I notice in it an advertisement of the Restaurant Marquery in Paris which has a line reading: "A Feature: A visit to the cellar." That is also a feature of almost any visit to a home in America.

Ship stewards apear to have names different from the average man. Among those I recall in crossing are Skilling, Tweedie, Light, Mussie, Clout, Pedy and Waser.

In every ship smoking room one finds those tweedy looking habitual voyagers. They generally have mighty cigars in their mouths and magnums of champagne in ice pails beside them. They are maniacs of motion—never content to be in one spot for long. They seek no casual acquaintance. I sat next to one who was reading the Echo de Paris. A steward evidently knew him from other crossings and they talked. As he told of his travels, the world shrank to the size of a thin dime. Since last they met he had been to islands in the Southern Pacific, New Zealand, Central Asia and Thibet. He was on his way to New York. Two days there and then to San Francisco to embark for Japan. He was of enormous build and heavily bronzed and drank glass after glass of champagne with fargantuan gulps.

Then, too, there is usually one of those amiable old gentlemen on every ship who seems to take a philanthropic interest in the ship's management. He brags about the meals and the steadiness of the ship. He is always drawing people into the friendly circle in which he happens to be. The one on this ship is really a good sort yet it is a strange world and I think most of the passengers look upon him as a trifle ridiculous and wish he were not so affable. I even find myself avoiding him.

A Scotsman parades the deck in kilts and other regalia. His knees are bare but I notice he wears spats. That is perhaps Scotch thrift for spats do save the wear and tear on shoe laces.

LEMON JUICE WHITENS SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Great Medical Center.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—One of the last things which congress did before adjourning was to authorize the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the construction of permanent buildings at Walter Reed hospital to replace the temporary buildings of Washington's famous army hospital.

These temporary buildings have long been recognized as fire traps, and as one officer put it, "it is only because of constant vigilance and care that there has not been a terrible catastrophe." For several years efforts have been made to impress upon congress the great need of such an appropriation. Now when the money is actually appropriated in December, work may be commenced on this very important project.

From time to time there has been so much criticism of the hospitals in which veterans are being taken care of that it seems strange that there should have been any opposition to the idea that the temporary buildings at Walter Reed should be replaced by modern, fireproof ones. But the congressional hearings disclosed such opposition. One of the arguments used against putting up permanent buildings was that if this were done it would be impossible ever to cut through the grounds certain streets which some groups of citizens are interested in seeing continued.

From a realtor's point of view the extension of certain streets through the hospital grounds would be extremely advantageous, but on the other hand the hospital authorities maintain that such procedure is not only illogical but unnecessary. The automobiles constantly going up and down these streets would be a menace to those patients who were able to wander around the grounds. The noise of such traffic would be a great annoyance to very ill or nervous patients, and exceedingly detrimental to their welfare.

The plans for Walter Reed hospital are very ambitious and it is hoped that eventually it will be the greatest center of its sort in the world. At the present time the Army Medical School, the Army Dental School, the Army School of Nursing and the Army Veterinary School are located there.

To Add Museum and Library.

Eventually it is hoped to move to this reservation the Army Medical Museum and the Army Medical Library. In view of all these things the army medical authorities feel that the hospital grounds should be kept free from public highways, as is the case with the grounds of the Soldier's Home. Congress enacted legislation which provides that no streets shall ever be cut through this reservation.

In addition to the money which congress is going to appropriate to Walter Reed hospital for the construction of permanent buildings, the Veterans' Bureau is going to use $900,000 of its appropriation for the building of the new west wing. This is to consist entirely of wards. It is deemed proper that the bureau should use the money in this way in view of the fact that the hospital reserves 500 beds for bureau patients, out of an approximate total of one thousand. These are filled almost all the time.

There is no discrimination between the bureau's patients and those who are actually connected with the service. If anything, the bureau's patients have a little the better of it in that they do not come under quite so strict discipline as those still in service. And for the most part they seem satisfied with the treatment accorded them.

The main building is largely used for very ill patients, or those who must undergo operations. This is because the facilities for giving prompt and special attention to patients are greater and more centralized in this building. Also this building is more quiet. The fact that a patient is from the Veterans' Bureau, from the rank and file, an officer's wife, or an officer himself, has nothing to do with his being given a bed in this main building. The only thing that determines that he should be housed here is the seriousness of his condition. When his condition permits he is moved to a ward in one of the temporary buildings in order that some other urgent case may take his place.

Since most of the staff of the hospital live within the grounds, or very close by, it is possible to get quick service in an emergency at any time. There are on duty at the hospital at all times a certain number of doctors. If it was found at 2 o'clock in the

Easter MILLINERY

Whatever Else is to Engage Milady's Attention for the Next Few Days, She Is Not to Forget that Easter is Only Four Days Away and that the New Chapeau Must Be in Readiness for That Eventful Morning.

Beginning Tomorrow,--a Special Presentation of Easter Millinery

$2.75 - $5.00 - $12.00

"In-between" groups, too, of course, and certainly, within this price range is comprised a showing that worthily reflects the broadness and versatility of "Moyer Brothers" millinery service. For in this delightful assemblage, every new and authoritative version of the mode is presented. Hats such as will distinguish Fifth Avenue's Easter fashion parades—hats such as Paris herself, will favor with her gracious approval upon that festival occasion when all the world of fashion puts on its new spring clothes.

Truly a season of a whimsical mood and one that offers that delightful freedom of expression so dear to those women of fashion who seek to express something of their personality and individual tastes in their apparel. And because it is a season of a versatile mode— we have gathered lavishly, but critically—and always with the assurance of long experience and that indefinable "style sense" that is ever apparent in "Fashion" millinery exhibits. Mere platitudes to list all the fashionable materials or to enumerate all the beautiful new Spring shades—the completeness of their representation is a matter of course.

MOTHER TELLS STORY OF ALLEGED ATTACK UPON MADGE OBERHOLTZER

Girl Cannot Live, Doctors Say as D. C. Stephenson is Accused in Sensational Indiana Case.

By SONIA LEE.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—The story of Madge Oberholtzer, alleged victim of a man's desire, was told here today at the bedside where the unconscious girl is dying from slow poison which has been seeping through her veins since she sought death as a way out in Hammond Ind., 23 days ago.

It was told by a mother who watches and waits, hoping against hope, for the daughter whose doom she has heard from the lips of attending physicians—physicians who have said:

"She cannot live."

The mother, Mathilda Jane Oberholtzer, sketches the details of her daughter's leaving home — how she went to attend a "party" at the home of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan leader and political power in Indiana, who is under indictment for the alleged attack on the girl. And she interrupts her tale, which grows bitter at times, to lay a cool hand on the feverish brow of the girl.

Called on Telephone.

"It was on a Sunday," the mother says. "Madge went to Stephenson's about 9 o'clock after he had called her on the telephone twice during the day and had left a number when he failed to find her in."

The girl failed to return and the mother became anxious. She had never stayed away before. The father was ill and the mother feared to share her worries and anxieties. She called Asa Smith, a young attorney, who tried to calm her and finally came a telegram from Hammond:

"Driving through to Chicago. Be home on night train—Madge," it read.

But Madge was not on the night train She was away all that night while the mother made frantic efforts to locate her and the next day, a strange man brought her back, unconscious, while the mother was out, mumbled something about "an accident at Muncie" and left.

Trapped, Mother Claims.

Since then the girl has had but a few moments of consciousness, according to the mother. She has been able to tell brokenly of the terrible happenings of those days when she was absent.

"Mother, mother, dearie," comes faintly from the bed.

"My daughter told me," she begins again "before she became unconscious eleven days ago, that just as soon as she got to Stephenson's she knew she was trapped. She said that she had something to drink and then—I'm not quite clear here—but they were going to take her to Chicago. She thought they were driving through and she pleaded to go home for a hat as an excuse. But they took her right along. When they got to town, they bundled her into a compartment, and shortly took the car, presumably to drive through.

"See," the woman pulls back the girl's nightgown, displays the three bruises. "She was a mass of black and blue spots when she was first brought back."

Bought Poison, Took It.

"When they got to Hammond they went to a hotel. There were two rooms, and 'Shorty' met them with the car later on. There was more drinking, she told me. Stephenson stood over her while she wrote out the telegram I received, and it was then sent to the telegraph office by messenger. One of the men gave her some money to buy a hat, and she went out and bought the poison and she took it when she came back to the hotel.

"They laughed at her when she said she had taken poison. They tried to make her say that she had not. But then she got sick and she went to the telephone to call me, but she was so weak she couldn't stand up.

"If she had only let me know. Nothing would have stood in my way and she would have received medical attention immediately. She has so little chance now—even after the blood Marshall, her brother, has given her. I wanted to offer mine—but his was better.

Lost Much Blood

"When she became sick they started back. She begged them to leave her by the side of the road so that some one would pick her up and take her to a doctor. She was burning up. But they promised to stop at the next town—and the next—and the next. But they never stopped and she was losing so much blood, and suffering tortures. Someone suggested that the best way out was for Stephenson to marry her, but she refused.

"My girl was in that car when I was at Stephenson's door looking for her. She couldn't cry. She begged them to take her home. She couldn't move, she was so weak. And there she lay, helpless, and I was only such a little way from her.

"From now on, as I understand it, she remembers but little. She said that she was taken to the garage, to the servant quarters. She may have been unconscious — she may have slept. But the next thing she knows she was being carried upstairs and put to bed—in her own room."

She holds her child's hands in both her own. The girl mutters through straight rows of white teeth. She draws back her slightly pink lips.

Calls for Mother.

"Mother, mother, dearie, mother dearie," become blurred in the rapidity of repetition. She calls for Marshall and then her mother again. Her heavy fringed lids flutter, and tears squeeze out. Her curved black brows draw straight, as she seems to remember with dulling monotony some experience.

"She had told me that she had met him at the governor's ball," the mother recollects. She had gone with another young man, but she danced with Stephenson. Another time she went to a party at his house with a friend of his—a senator from Evansville. I didn't know she was seeing him. I don't know how frequently she saw him—if at all. But if I could lay my hands on him, I would kill him like the beast he is."

In the meanwhile, Stephenson answers the charges with the countercharge of frame-up on the part of his enemies in the Klan. He claims that this is merely another desperate effort to eliminate him from Indiana politics and Klan affairs.

But "finis" to the idle chatter is written by Dr. Kingsbury, the attending physician, with the statement:

"The girl cannot live. If she should, it would upset all medical precedent. The waste content of her blood is more than six times that of normal. There has been no change in her condition in the last few days, but she will not live."

Edgarle Bloor

later a bullet whizzed through the side curtain of the automobile between the heads of two occupants and passed through the windshield.

Bloor told Mayor Brown that he had fired at the road and that the bullet richocheted through the side of the car. The two Russell boys, unaware that it was a police officer who had attempted to stop them, reported the affair to Police Captain Conley. It was not until later in the evening that it was learned it was Bloor who had fired the shot.

Mackall Makes Denial.

Mrs. Russell stated this morning that yesterday she learned that Bloor was preparing to file charges of fast and reckless driving against her son. She went to the office of Justice P. V. Mackall yesterday afternoon and filed charges against Bloor.

Justice Mackall, this morning, denied that charges had been filed against Bloor, asserting that the matter had been "settled out of court." He further declared that Bloor had not been arrested but admitted that he had been in his office to arrange a settlement with Mrs. Russell.

Mackall's clerk at 11:40 o'clock this morning reluctantly admitted no record of the case against Bloor had been made in the court docket. She declined to discuss the case further, referring newspapermen to the justice who had left the office for his home.

Bloor's bond, which is reported to have been furnished last evening before a settlement was made, was signed by William Cline, turnkey at the city jail.

Two Persons Killed, Another Injured in Trolley-auto Crash

NEWARK, O., April 8.—Lewis Martin, wealthy stock farmer living near Luray, and his daughter, Hazel, teacher in the Kirkersville schools, were instantly killed, and Miss Dora Compton, adopted daughter of Martin, was probably fatally injured about 8 o'clock this morning when their auto stalled on the interurban track at Livingston crossing and was struck by train No. 7 of the C. N. and Z. Traction company.

The auto was practically demolished and the interurban car so badly damaged that it was put out of commission and placed on a side track.

SEAMAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Kitchen of Astoria, N. Y., Flat Turned into Death Chamber.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The kitchen of a neatly furnished flat in Astoria, N. Y., was turned into a death chamber today when Joseph Reichel, 28, shot and killed his wife, May, 30, and then pressed the still smoking muzzle of the gun against his temple and ended his own life.

Reichel was a seaman. He had been drinking, Alfred Kneib, 26, his best friend, told police.

Kneib, a boarder in the Reichel home, related to the authorities the circumstances of the killing. Kneib denied he was the cause of the family dissension.

in sentiment which is said to have occurred in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Toledo and other large centers.

"The Republican majority voted in favor of the gas tax," said Emmons. "In view of this decision I could not vote any other way but to override the veto when this measure comes up."

Straw votes in Cleveland show a majority of 54 to 1 and in Youngstown 40 to 1 against the proposed gas tax. Representatives of the Ohio State Automobile Association have threatened to call a referendum on the measure should the necessary three-fourths majority, required to pass the measure over the executive's veto, be mustered in the legislature.

Guilford Bill Get O. K.

"I don't believe there is a shadow of doubt as to what the governor's action will be on the Guilford park bill," Emmons declared. "He must either sign, veto or allow the measure to become a law without his signature today. In view of the promises which he has made I have every reason to believe that the measure will become a law."

The bill carries with it an appropriation of $32,500 with which to purchase the ground. Another appropriation sets aside $15,300 to close the gap in the dam and make other improvements. The measure will become a law 90 days after it is signed.

The legislature is not expected to remain in session for more than two or three days after it reconvenes to re-enact measures vetoed by the governor. The threatened fight over the passage of the Bible measure may tie up proceedings for a few days.

Emmons will leave for Columbus on Wednesday, April 15.

APPEALS COURT MAKES RULINGS

Opinions are Handed Down in Five Cases at Lisbon.

The court of appeals, sitting in Lisbon, today handed down five opinions out of 13 cases assigned for arguments.

The case of Willis O. Hall against C. C. Ashbaugh and others, of East Liverpool, having to do with the disposition of the war chest fund, was not argued, although it was assigned. A commissioner has been appointed to hear evidence in the action.

The two cases of John Donohue, of Wellsville, against the state of Ohio, which were carried up on error from common pleas court, were dismissed on account of a bill of exceptions not being signed with the 10-day limit as described by law.

In the case of Elizabeth Hekinson against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and others, which had been carried to the court of appeals on error from common pleas, the court held there was no change in the beneficiary and the case was remanded to common pleas court.

In the action of William Davidson and others against the city of Wellsville, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, although in some respects modified. The court held that the property owner was liable for loss sustained by the city of Wellsville. Davidson sued the city for damages as a result of injuries suffered by his wife when she fell over a stone on the pavement, and the judgment against the city was rendered. Property owner is now held for the damages the municipality sustained.

In the case of Lodge Thorn, an infant, against the McLean Fire Brick Co., the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

Judge Roberts announced the case of the Banner Machine Co., against the Columbiana Boiler Co. would be considered when the court convenes in Carrollton next week. Both of these concerns are in Columbiana.

B. F. Carson against Thomas Cadwallader.

A decision of importance to municipalities which operate their own water works system was handed down by the court in the case of James E. Evans, as administrator, against the city of Salem. This was a test case and had to do with many actions now in court as the result of the typhoid fever epidemic in Salem several years ago, following which a number of damage actions were filed against the municipality. The question before the court of appeals had to do with the demurrer to the petition. This was reversed and the petition against the city is held valid. This opinion was handed down by Judge John Pollock.

Seventy-five thousand pine trees destroyed by fire in South Bridge. Scores of autoists had narrow escapes in fleeing from the onrushing flames. Many daring rescues were recorded during the night.

In the Rocky hill section of West Warwick, R. I., a woman was trapped in her home by fires on all sides. A volunteer fireman in an automobile rode through the wall of flames and rescued her from certain death.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 8.—With the worst forest fire of the season under control after burning over more than 1,000 acres of brush and timber land in the vicinity of Wopsononock, north of here, a second forest fire is raging on Lock Mountain, south of this city.

The new fire is near a state game preserve.

Corsage (most important, orchids generally popular), $10.00.

Total, $200.00.

Mr. New Yorker estimated Easter dress tax:

Sack suit (preferably in gray), $60.00.

Hat (pearl gray most popular), $8.00.

Shoes (tan or black), $11.00.

Socks (wide choice of colors), $1.25.

White shirt (with feld collar), $4.75.

Gloves (gray suede), $5.00.

Cane (malaca, with narrow band of silver), $10.00.

Total, $100.00.

Skirts will be very short, coming barely to below the knees.

The trend in millinery is toward the picturesque type of hat with more trimming than heretofore, including ribbons, feathers and flowers.

Transparent straw and Bankoks are in demand.

Scarves of all colors will be worn swung around the neck with a loose end flowing in the breeze.

The day of the Easter frock coat and high hat is passing, say Fifth avenue haberdashers. For those men who would preserve red blooded formality in their Easter perambulating and oxford gray sack coat is offered with vest of worsted material and trousers a trifle lighter in shade than the coat. Gray suede gloves out of the black derby, shoes and socks completes this new "formal" outfit.

Light gray double breasted suits with wide trousers are most in demand for the Easter season. The style is toward broad shoulders with fitted hips to coat. Men's stores also are selling a number of three button, double breasted blue suits.

DR. J. O. CAMPBELL KIWANIS SPEAKER

Dr. James O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the noon-day luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday.

Russell C. Heddleston, chairman of the program committee, announced today that Congressman C. Ellis Moore, of Cambridge, will be the speaker at next week's luncheon. Congressman Moore, who represents the Fifteenth Ohio district, was to have visited this city about three months ago, but was unable to leave Washington while congress was in session.

DEATH ROLL

J. Wilson.

J. Wilson, employed by the McLain Fire Brick company at Salsbury, died this morning in the City hospital following a brief illness of complications.

The body was removed to the Haugh funeral home in Wellsville, and later will be taken to Logan, O. Mr. Wilson was not married.

A Tough Situation

"My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me despondent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. My cousin in Columbus wrote me about having taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and advised me to try it. I am now feeling better than for fifteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. MOTHER TELLS STORY OF ALLEGED ATTACK UPON MADGE OBERHOLTZER

Girl Cannot Live, Doctors Say as D. C. Stephenson is Accused in Sensational Indiana Case.

By SONIA LEE.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—The story of Madge Oberholtzer, alleged victim of a man's desire, was told here today at the bedside where the unconscious girl is dying from slow poison which has been seeping through her veins since she sought death as a way out in Hammond Ind., 23 days ago.

It was told by a mother who watches and waits, hoping against hope, for the daughter whose doom she has heard from the lips of attending physicians—physicians who have said:

"She cannot live."

The mother, Mathilda Jane Oberholtzer, sketches the details of her daughter's leaving home — how she went to attend a "party" at the home of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan leader and political power in Indiana, who is under indictment for the alleged attack on the girl. And she interrupts her tale, which grows bitter at times, to lay a cool hand on the feverish brow of the girl.

Called on Telephone.

"It was on a Sunday," the mother says. "Madge went to Stephenson's about 9 o'clock after he had called her on the telephone twice during the day and had left a number when he failed to find her in."

The girl failed to return and the mother became anxious. She had never stayed away before. The father was ill and the mother feared to share her worries and anxieties. She called Asa Smith, a young attorney, who tried to calm her and finally came a telegram from Hammond:

"Driving through to Chicago. Be home on night train—Madge," it read.

Put Madge was not on the night train She was away all that night while the mother made frantic efforts to locate her and the next day, a strange man brought her back, unconscious, while the mother was out, mumbled something about "an accident at Muncie" and left.

Trapped, Mother Claims.

Since then the girl has had but a few moments of consciousness, according to the mother. She has been able to tell brokenly of the terrible happenings of those days when she was absent.

"Mother, mother, dearie," comes faintly from the bed.

"My daughter told me," she begins again "before she became unconscious eleven days ago, that just as soon as she got to Stephenson's she knew she was trapped. She said that she had something to drink and then—I'm not quite clear here—but they were going to take her to Chicago. She thought they were driving through and she pleaded to go home for a hat as an excuse. But they took her right along. When they got to town, they bundled her into a compartment, and shortly took the car, presumably to drive through.

"See," the woman pulls back the girl's nightgown, displays the three bruises. "She was a mass of black and blue spots when she was first brought back."

Bought Poison, Took It.

"When they got to Hammond they went to a hotel. There were two rooms, and 'Shorty' met them with the car later on. There was more drinking, she told me. Stephenson stood over her while she wrote out the telegram I received, and it was then sent to the telegraph office by messenger. One of the men gave her some money to buy a hat, and she went out and bought the poison and she took it when she came back to the hotel.

"They laughed at her when she said she had taken poison. They tried to make her say that she had not. But then she got sick and she went to the telephone to call me, but she was so weak she couldn't stand up.

"If she had only let me know. Nothing would have stood in my way and she would have received medical attention immediately. She has so little chance now—even after the blood Marshall, her brother, has given her. I wanted to offer mine—but his was better.

Lost Much Blood

"When she became sick they started back. She begged them to leave her by the side of the road so that some one would pick her up and take her to a doctor. She was burning up. But they promised to stop at the next town—and the next—and the next. But they never stopped and she was losing so much blood, and suffering tortures. Someone suggested that the best way out was for Stephenson to marry her, but she refused.

"My girl was in that car when I was at Stephenson's door looking for her. She couldn't cry. She begged them to take her home. She couldn't move, she was so weak. And there she lay, helpless, and I was only such a little way from her.

"From now on, as I understand it, she remembers but little. She said that she was taken to the garage, to the servant quarters. She may have been unconscious — she may have slept. But the next thing she knows she was being carried upstairs and put to bed—in her own room."

She holds her child's hands in both her own. The girl mutters through straight rows of white teeth. She draws back her slightly pink lips.

Calls for Mother.

"Mother, mother, dearie, mother dearie," become blurred in the rapidity of repetition. She calls for Marshall and then her mother again. Her heavy fringed lids flutter, and tears squeeze out. Her curved black brows draw straight, as she seems to remember with dulling monotony some experience.

"She had told me that she had met him at the governor's ball," the mother recollects. She had gone with another young man, but she danced with Stephenson. Another time she went to a party at his house with a friend of his—a senator from Evansville. I didn't know she was seeing him. I don't know how frequently she saw him—if at all. But if I could lay my hands on him, I would kill him like the beast he is."

In the meanwhile, Stephenson answers the charges with the countercharge of frame-up on the part of his enemies in the Klan. He claims that this is merely another desperate effort to eliminate him from Indiana politics and Klan affairs.

But "finis" to the idle chatter is written by Dr. Kingsbury, the attending physician, with the statement:

"The girl cannot live. If she should, it would upset all medical precedent. The waste content of her blood is more than six times that of normal. There has been no change in her condition in the last few days, but she will not live."

Edgarle Bloor

later a bullet whizzed through the side curtain of the automobile between the heads of two occupants and passed through the windshield.

Bloor told Mayor Brown that he had fired at the road and that the bullet richocheted through the side of the car. The two Russell boys, unaware that it was a police officer who had attempted to stop them, reported the affair to Police Captain Conley. It was not until later in the evening that it was learned it was Bloor who had fired the shot.

Mackall Makes Denial.

Mrs. Russell stated this morning that yesterday she learned that Bloor was preparing to file charges of fast and reckless driving against her son. She went to the office of Justice P. V. Mackall yesterday afternoon and filed charges against Bloor.

Justice Mackall, this morning, denied that charges had been filed against Bloor, asserting that the matter had been "settled out of court." He further declared that Bloor had not been arrested but admitted that he had been in his office to arrange a settlement with Mrs. Russell.

Mackall's clerk at 11:40 o'clock this morning reluctantly admitted no record of the case against Bloor had been made in the court docket. She declined to discuss the case further, referring newspapermen to the justice who had left the office for his home.

Bloor's bond, which is reported to have been furnished last evening before a settlement was made, was signed by William Cline, turnkey at the city jail.

CARD OF THANKS.

Especially do we wish to thank the Rev. Mr. Dimit for his comforting words, the singers and also those who contributed floral offerings.

Two Persons Killed, Another Injured in Trolley-auto Crash

NEWARK, O., April 8.—Lewis Martin, wealthy stock farmer living near Luray, and his daughter, Hazel, teacher in the Kirkersville schools, were instantly killed, and Miss Dora Compton, adopted daughter of Martin, was probably fatally injured about 8 o'clock this morning when their auto stalled on the interurban track at Livingston crossing and was struck by train No. 7 of the C. N. and Z. Traction company.

The auto was practically demolished and the interurban car so badly damaged that it was put out of commission and placed on a side track.

SEAMAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Kitchen of Astoria, N. Y., Flat Turned into Death Chamber.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The kitchen of a neatly furnished flat in Astoria, N. Y., was turned into a death chamber today when Joseph Reichel, 28, shot and killed his wife, May, 30, and then pressed the still smoking muzzle of the gun against his temple and ended his own life.

Reichel was a seaman. He had been drinking, Alfred Kneib, 26, his best friend, told police.

Kneib, a boarder in the Reichel home, related to the authorities the circumstances of the killing. Kneib denied he was the cause of the family dissension.

in sentiment which is said to have occurred in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Toledo and other large centers.

"The Republican majority voted in favor of the gas tax," said Emmons. "In view of this decision I could not vote any other way but to override the veto when this measure comes up."

Straw votes in Cleveland show a majority of 54 to 1 and in Youngstown 40 to 1 against the proposed gas tax. Representatives of the Ohio State Automobile Association have threatened to call a referendum on the measure should the necessary three-fourths majority, required to pass the measure over the executive's veto, be mustered in the legislature.

Guilford Bill Get O. K.

"I don't believe there is a shadow of doubt as to what the governor's action will be on the Guilford park bill," Emmons declared. "He must either sign, veto or allow the measure to become a law without his signature today. In view of the promises which he has made I have every reason to believe that the measure will become a law."

The bill carries with it an appropriation of $32,500 with which to purchase the ground. Another appropriation sets aside $15,300 to close the gap in the dam and make other improvements. The measure will become a law 90 days after it is signed.

The legislature is not expected to remain in session for more than two or three days after it reconvenes to re-enact measures vetoed by the governor. The threatened fight over the passage of the Bible measure may tie up proceedings for a few days.

Emmons will leave for Columbus on Wednesday, April 15.

President H. M. Gage of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was elected as president of the association for the 1925-26 period. Prof. J. B. Edmonson, of the University of Michigan, was named secretary, and Principal W. I. Early of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, was continued as treasurer.

APPEALS COURT MAKES RULINGS

Opinions are Handed Down in Five Cases at Lisbon.

The court of appeals, sitting in Lisbon, today handed down five opinions out of 13 cases assigned for arguments.

The case of Willis O. Hall against C. C. Ashbaugh and others, of East Liverpool, having to do with the disposition of the war chest fund, was not argued, although it was assigned. A commissioner has been appointed to hear evidence in the action.

The two cases of John Donohue, of Wellsville, against the state of Ohio, which were carried up on error from common pleas court, were dismissed on account of a bill of exceptions not being signed with the 10-day limit as described by law.

In the case of Elizabeth Hekinson against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and others, which had been carried to the court of appeals on error from common pleas, the court held there was no change in the beneficiary and the case was remanded to common pleas court.

In the action of William Davidson and others against the city of Wellsville, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, although in some respects modified. The court held that the property owner was liable for loss sustained by the city of Wellsville. Davidson sued the city for damages as a result of injuries suffered by his wife when she fell over a stone on the pavement, and the judgment against the city was rendered. Property owner is now held for the damages the municipality sustained.

In the case of Lodge Thorn, an infant, against the McLean Fire Brick Co., the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

Judge Roberts announced the case of the Banner Machine Co., against the Columbiana Boiler Co. would be considered when the court convenes in Carrollton next week. Both of these concerns are in Columbiana.

B. F. Carson against Thomas Cadwallader.

A decision of importance to municipalities which operate their own water works system was handed down by the court in the case of James E. Evans, as administrator, against the city of Salem. This was a test case and had to do with many actions now in court as the result of the typhoid fever epidemic in Salem several years ago, following which a number of damage actions were filed against the municipality. The question before the court of appeals had to do with the demurrer to the petition. This was reversed and the petition against the city is held valid. This opinion was handed down by Judge John Pollock.

Massachusetts—Two thousand acres of timber burned in Marlborough and a hundred homes menaced. Eight hundred acres burned over in the Prospect Hill district of Whitinsville. Seventy-five thousand pine trees destroyed by fire in South Bridge. Scores of autoists had narrow escapes in fleeing from the onrushing flames. Many daring rescues were recorded during the night.

In the Rocky hill section of West Warwick, R. I., a woman was trapped in her home by fires on all sides. A volunteer fireman in an automobile rode through the wall of flames and rescued her from certain death.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 8.—With the worst forest fire of the season under control after burning over more than 1,000 acres of brush and timber land in the vicinity of Wopsononock, north of here, a second forest fire is raging on Lock Mountain, south of this city.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 8.—Stocks of the leading motor manufacturers continued their forward movement in the early trading today. Most of the stocks in this group reaching the highest price levels for the current movement and in cases the highest for the year.

Maxwell a stock's rise to 96, up 20 points from its February low, reflected confidence in the expected 8 per cent dividend declaration by the directors of the company this week. General Motors reached the high point on the recovery of 72¼, as also did Studebaker, Willys-Overland pfd., Packard Chandler and Hupp.

California Petroleum continued in the leadership of the independent oil stocks, heavy buying sending the price up to 21½. Almost as prominent was the market action of independent oil and gas, Pan-American oils, Pure Oil and the listed Standard oils. General Asphalt and Marlond Oil were also active and strong.

Judge Gary's statement that incoming orders for steel products showed a decided change for the better and that funamental business conditions in America were never better than today helped to stimulate bullish sentiment in the security markets.

WHAT EASTER PARADE COSTS

Mr. and Mrs. New Yorkers Will Spend $300.

NEW YORK, April 8.—It will cost Mr. and Mrs. New Yorkers $300 to walk down Fifth avenue in the Easter parade next Sunday. Mrs. New Yorker will account for $200 of this sum, a ratio justified by the color she will provide in the annual fashion pilgrimage.

This estimate for the average man and woman who would follow "the dictates of fashion" was compiled from a survey of wholesale and retail establishments catering to the Easter fashion demand.

Estimated Easter wardrobe budget for Mrs. New Yorker:

Ensemble (light shades predominating), $125.

Shoes (black or in satin or kid to blend with ensemble), $13.

Hosiery (very sheer silk in light colors or matching shoes), $3.50.

Gloves (kid or suede to match shoes and hat), $5.00.

Scarf (of gay color to match suit or hat), $8.50.

Handbag (plain silk, color of shoes or fancy beaded), $15.00.

Corsage (most important, orchids generally popular), $10.00.

Total, $200.00.

Mr. New Yorker estimated Easter dress tax:

Sack suit (preferably in gray), $60.00.

Hat (pearl gray most popular), $8.00.

Shoes (tan or black), $11.00.

Socks (wide choice of colors), $1.25.

White shirt (with feld collar), $4.75.

Gloves (gray suede), $5.00.

Cane (malaca, with narrow band of silver), $10.00.

Total, $160.00.

Skirts will be very short, coming barely to below the knees.

The trend in millinery is toward the picturesque type of hat with more trimming than heretofore, including ribbons, feathers and flowers.

Transparent straw and Bankoks are in demand.

Scarves of all colors will be worn swung around the neck with a loose end flowing in the breeze.

The day of the Easter frock coat and high hat is passing, say Fifth avenue haberdashers. For those men who would preserve red blooded formality in their Easter perambulating and oxford gray sack coat is offered with vest of worsted material and trousers a trifle lighter in shade than the coat. Gray suede gloves out of the black derby, shoes and socks completes this new "formal" outfit.

Light gray double breasted suits with wide trousers are most in demand for the Easter season. The style is toward broad shoulders with fitted hips to coat. Men's stores also are selling a number of three button, double breasted blue suits.

DR. J. O. CAMPBELL KIWANIS SPEAKER

Dr. James O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the noon-day luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday.

Congressman Moore, who represents the Fifteenth Ohio district, was to have visited this city about three months ago, but was unable to leave Washington while congress was in session.

JAPS WILL TRY TRIP TO PARIS VIA SIBERIA

Two Flying Craft Will Attempt Journey in 13 Days.

OUTLINE PLANS

Private Enterprise, But Gets Unofficial Support.

TOKIO—Japanese planes will blaze a new air route between Europe and the Orient this spring when two flying craft will attempt the journey from Tokio to Paris, via Siberia.

The flight is to be sponsored by the Tokio Asahi Shimbun, and its sister newspaper, the Osaka Asahi Shimbun, and will represent Japan's first attempt at trans-continental flying.

Although ostensibly a private enterprise, the flight will receive considerable unofficial support from the Japanese authorities. Experts of the Japanese naval and military air services are co-operating and advising as to routes, equipment and other details of the flight.

The expense of the venture, however, is to be borne entirely by the Asahi Shimbun, which has been active in promoting the interests of aviation in Japan for more than 15 years. It is expected that the total cost of the flight will be approximately $200,000.

Start May 1.

According to present plans, the two planes will leave Tokio on May 1. If they are able to follow the schedule now outlined they will arrive in Paris on May 14 or 15. The distance to be covered is approximately 12,118 kilometres, and the estimated flying time is 61 hours and 25 minutes.

The schedule of the flight, as now arranged, calls for a first-day flight from Tokio to Osaka, in southern Japan. From Osaka, on the second day, the planes will hop to Seoul, Korea. On the third day a flight from Seoul to Harbin will be made; the fourth day from Harbin to Chita; the fifth day from Chita to Irkutsk; the sixth day from Irkutsk to Krasnoyarsk; the seventh from Krasnoyarsk to Omsk; the eighth from Omsk to Cheliabinsk; the ninth from Cheliabinsk to Samara and the tenth from Samara to Moscow.

On the eleventh day the pilots will rest at Moscow, and the day following they will undertake the longest hop of the journey, going from Moscow to Warsaw, a distance of 1,260 kilometres. The flight from Warsaw to Prague is scheduled for the thirteenth day, and the final hop, from Prague to Paris, for the fourteenth.

It is probable that a flight from Paris to London also will be made, but this will be more in the nature of a sight-seeing jaunt and is not to be regarded as an integral part of the official flight.

Two Planes.

The two planes to be used in the journey will be a Breguet and a Dorraine, each of 400 horsepower and capable of flying 10 hours without a stop. The pilots have not been selected, but each plane will carry three men—a pilot, a mechanician and a reporter from the Asahi staff.

One of the objects of the flight is to determine the practicability of the trans-Siberian route as an aerial highway between Europe and Japan.

Signing of the recent treaty between Japan and Russia, bringing these two nations into closer relationship, has revived interest here in the future of transportation and communication with Europe across the vast expanse of Asiatic Russia.

Garlic Halts Strike.

WOODSFIELD, April. Garlic is credited with breaking the hunger strike of Mike Sedrick while in the Monroe county jail, charged, for the third time, with violating prohibition laws. For a week after his third arrest, Sedrick did not eat. Then friends brought garlic—the raw bulbs of the plant and some cooked in sausages—together with chese, pickles and other "delicacies," which, it was known, Mike liked. The aroma of the garlic caused Mike to capitulate and soon he was disposing of the foodstuffs as fast as a big-city editor disposes of country correspondence.

Wellesley Girls Prefer Pajamas; "Nighties" Taboo

From the prosaic confines of a laundry which caters almost exclusively to Wellesley College students comes the information that the old fashioned, yet highly respected nightie" has fallen into disfavor among college girls.

Here's the word of the laundry proprietor: "Only six nightgowns appeared in this week's wash from Wellesley. That's from a total of 300 customers. Filmsy pajamas are in vogue all right. I can remember ten or fifteen years back—that was before the bob, or teddies, or step-ins—when we used to get 200 nightgowns a week.

Gray Haired People
Need Only this Clean, Colorless Liquid

Youthful Looks Quickly Return

Letters like the following tell what the clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, is doing for gray haired men and women.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger."

Kolor-Bak is the most satisfactory substitute for the natural hair pigmentation. With its use, the hair not only takes on its former shade; it acquires a beautiful lustre and softness. Kolor-Bak also removes dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and keeps the hair from falling out.

If you are gray, ask for a bottle of Kolor-Bak. No sample of hair required—no tests to make—as this clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Your money returned instantly if not satisfactory.

JAPS WILL TRY TRIP TO PARIS VIA SIBERIA

Two Flying Craft Will Attempt Journey in 13 Days.

OUTLINE PLANS

Private Enterprise, But Gets Unofficial Support.

TOKIO—Japanese planes will blaze a new air route between Europe and the Orient this spring when two flying craft will attempt the journey from Tokio to Paris, via Siberia.

The flight is to be sponsored by the Tokio Asahi Shimbun, and its sister newspaper, the Osaka Asahi Shimbun, and will represent Japan's first attempt at trans-continental flying.

Although ostensibly a private enterprise, the flight will receive considerable unofficial support from the Japanese authorities. Experts of the Japanese naval and military air services are co-operating and advising as to routes, equipment and other details of the flight.

The expense of the venture, however, is to be borne entirely by the Asahi Shimbun, which has been active in promoting the interests of aviation in Japan for more than 15 years. It is expected that the total cost of the flight will be approximately $200,000.

Start May 1.

According to present plans, the two planes will leave Tokio on May 1. If they are able to follow the schedule now outlined they will arrive in Paris on May 14 or 15. The distance to be covered is approximately 12,118 kilometres, and the estimated flying time is 61 hours and 25 minutes.

The schedule of the flight, as now arranged, calls for a first-day flight from Tokio to Osaka, in southern Japan. From Osaka, on the second day, the planes will hop to Seoul, Korea. On the third day a flight from Seoul to Harbin will be made; the fourth day from Harbin to Chita; the fifth day from Chita to Irkutsk; the sixth day from Irkutsk to Krasnoyarsk; the seventh from Krasnoyarsk to Omsk; the eighth from Omsk to Cheliabinsk; the ninth from Cheliabinsk to Samara and the tenth from Samara to Moscow.

On the eleventh day the pilots will rest at Moscow, and the day following they will undertake the longest hop of the journey, going from Moscow to Warsaw, a distance of 1,260 kilometres. The flight from Warsaw to Prague is scheduled for the thirteenth day, and the final hop, from Prague to Paris, for the fourteenth.

It is probable that a flight from Paris to London also will be made, but this will be more in the nature of a sight-seeing jaunt and is not to be regarded as an integral part of the official flight.

Two Planes.

The two planes to be used in the journey will be a Breguet and a Dorraine, each of 400 horsepower and capable of flying 10 hours without a stop. The pilots have not been selected, but each plane will carry three men—a pilot, a mechanician and a reporter from the Asahi staff.

One of the objects of the flight is to determine the practicability of the trans-Siberian route as an aerial highway between Europe and Japan.

Signing of the recent treaty between Japan and Russia, bringing these two nations into closer relationship, has revived interest here in the future of transportation and communication with Europe across the vast expanse of Asiatic Russia.

Gray Haired People Need Only this Clean, Colorless Liquid

Youthful Looks Quickly Return

Letters like the following tell what the clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, is doing for gray haired men and women.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger."

Kolor-Bak is the most satisfactory substitute for the natural hair pigmentation. With its use, the hair not only takes on its former shade; it acquires a beautiful lustre and softness. Kolor-Bak also removes dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and keeps the hair from falling out.

If you are gray, ask for a bottle of Kolor-Bak. No sample of hair required—no tests to make—as this clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Your money returned instantly if not satisfactory.

TESTS LISTED FOR CHILDREN

Examinations Scheduled Under Mother's Pension Enactment.

Those women who receive mothers' pension from the county, will have their children examined by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner, within the next fortnight.

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, who has charge of this work because of the Juvenile court work being under his direction has sent notices to all those receiving pensions when and where to take their children to undergo this physical examination.

The first examination will be held in Lisbon next Monday. Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock there will be an examination conducted in the rooms of the East Liverpool Red Cross, and Thursday of next week there will be an examination of those children in the Salem district. This examination will be held in the Memorial Hall, commencing at 10 o'clock in the morning Friday of next week several examinations of subjects will be conducted at West Point and also another examination at East Liverpool on the same day. In the afternoon the examination will be transferred to Wellsville, the work being done in the Wellsville city building beginning at 1 o'clock.

On April 22 at 9 o'clock there will be an examination conducted in the mayor's office at Leetonia, and at 10 o'clock the same morning the work will be transferred to Columbiana, in the office of Justice of the Peace Weaver.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon of April 22 an examination will be conducted in the office of Mayor A. W. Farren at East Palestine.

Two cards will be used in recording the record of each child examination, one will disclose the record of the child in school, and the other will record the results of the physical examination, the latter card having to do with the examination of the ears, eyes, nose, teeth, throat, lungs, heart, mentality, muscular development, nervous system and also suggestions of the examiner.

"We believe that so much good has been accomplished that we desire to continue the practice of having a physical examination of the children whose mothers are receiving a mother's pension, in order that the court and the officials may be of assistance where medical treatment or surgical operation would be helpful," Jugde Lodge Riddle declared.

"The order making the allowance to mothers is only effective for a six months period at which time the court may extend the allowance for another period of six months or less."

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

Within an hour, the water-casks at least replenished and stowed aboard, the Arabella and the Elizabeth put to sea upon that angry chase.

"What now, Peter?" cried the young Jeremy Pitt. "Lord, man what is there here to fret you? Surely 'tisn't the thought of Rivarol?"

"No," said Blood thickly. And for once he was communicative. It may well be that he must vent the thing that oppressed him or be driven mad by it. And Pitt, after all, was his friend and loved him, and, so, a proper man for confidences. "But if she knew! If she knew! Oh God! I had thought to have done with piracy; thought to have done with it for ever. Yet here have I been committed by this scoundrel to the worst piracy that ever I was guilty of. Think of Cartagena! Think of the hell those devils will be making of it now! And I must have that on my soul!"

Setting a course for Hispaniola, since they judged that thither must Rivarol go to refit before attempting to cross to France, the Arabella and the Elizabeth ploughed briskly northward with a moderately favourable wind for two days and nights without ever catching a glimpse of their quarry. The third dawn brought with it a haze which circumscribed their range of vision to something between two and three miles, and deepened their growing vexation and their apprehension that M. de Rivarol might escape them altogether.

They had Jamaica on their larboard beam some thirty miles to westward, and, indeed, away to the northwest, faintly visible as a bank of clouds, appeared the great ridge of the Blue Mountains whose peaks were thrust into the clear upper air above the low-lying haze. The wind was westerly, and it bore to their ears a booming sound which in less experienced ears might have passed for the breaking of surf upon a lee shore.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulberry-coat.

"Guns!" said Pitt, who stood with Blood upon the quarter-deck. Blood nodded, listening.

"Ten miles away, perhaps, fifteen—somewhere off Port Royal, I should judge," Pitt added. Then he looked at his captain. "Does it concern us?" he asked.

"Guns off Port Royal . . . that should argue Colonel Bishop at work. I think it may concern us. Anyway, we'll stand in to investigate."

Close-hauled they tacked aweather, guided by the sound of combat, for an hour, perhaps. Then, as, telescope to his eye, Blood raked the haze, the guns abruptly ceased. They held to their course, nevertheless, with all hands on deck, eagerly, anxiously scanning the sea ahead. And presently an object loomed into view, which soon defined itself for a great ship on fire. As the Arabella with the Elizabeth following closely raced nearer on their northwesterly tack, the outlines of the blazing vessel grew clearer.

"An English ship!" he cried.

He scanned the seas for the conqueror in the battle of which this grim evidence was added to that of the sounds they had heard, and then at last, as they drew closer to the doomed vessel, they made out the shadowy outlines of three tall ships, some three or four miles away, standing in toward Port Royal. Pitt, who through the telescope was examining the receding squadron, observed things apparent only to the eye of the trained mariner, and made the incredible announcement that the largest of these three vessels was Rivarol's Victorieuse. They took in sail and hove to as they came up with the drifting boats, laden to capacity with survivors.

CHAPTER XXVI

THE SERVICE OF KING WILLIAM

One of the boats bumped alongside the Arabella, and up the entrance ladder came first a slight, spruce little gentleman in a coat of mulberry satin laced with gold, whose wizened, yellow, rather peevish face was framed in a heavy black periwig. His modish and costly apparel had nowise suffered by the adventure through which he had passed, and he carried himself with the easy assurance of a man of rank. He was closely followed by one who in every particular, save that of age, was the physical opposite, corpulent in a brawny, vigorous way, with a full, round, weather-beaten face whose mouth was humorous and whose eyes were blue and twinkling.

As the little man stepped from the ladder into the waist, whither Captain Blood had gone to receive him, his sharp, ferrety dark eyes swept the uncouth ranks of the assembled crew of the Arabella.

"And where the devil may I be now?" he demanded irritably. "Are you English, or what the devil are you?"

"Myself, I have the honour to be Irish, sir. My name is Blood—Captain Peter Blood, and this is my ship the Arabella, all very much at your service."

"Blood!" shrilled the little man. "O 'Sblood! A pirate!" He swung to the Colossus who followed him—"A damned pirate, van der Kuylen. Read my vitals, but we're come from Scylla to Charybdis."

"So?" said the other gutturally, and again, "So?" Then the humour of it took him, and he yelded to it.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulbery-coat. "A fine tale this'll make at home! Admiral van der Kuylen first loses his fleet in the night, then has his flagship fired under him by a French squadron, and ends all by being captured by a pirate. I'm glad you find it matter for laughter. Since for my sins I happen to be with you, I'm damned if I do."

"There's a misapprehension, if I may make so bold as to point it out," put in Blood quietly. "You are not captured, gentlemen; you are rescued. When you realize it, perhaps it will occur to you to acknowledge the hospitality I am offering you. It may be poor, but it is the best at my disposal."

"Damme! Do you permit yourself to be ironical?" he disapproved him. "I am Lord Willoughby, King William's Governor-General of the West Indies, and this is Admiral van der Kuylen, commander of His Majesty's West Indian fleet, at present mislaid somewhere in this damned Caribbean Sea."

"King William?" quoth Blood. "And who may be King William, and of what may he be King?"

"I am alluding to His Majesty King William III—William of Orange—who, with Queen Mary, has been ruling England for two months and more."

"D'ye mean, sir, that they've roused themselves at home, and kicked out that scoundrel James and his gang of ruffians?"

"Slife! Hadn't you heard? Where the devil have you been at all?"

Briefly he gave an account. After that, with renewed assurances that aboard his ship they should be honourably entreated, Captain Blood led the Governor-General and the Admiral to his cabin, what time the work of rescue went on.

"Go home, if you will," said his lordship when comfortable. "Here is a great chance for you, since you declare yourself sick of piracy. Should you choose to serve King William out here during this war, your knowledge of the West Indies should render you a very valuable servant to His Majesty's Government, which you would not find ungrateful. You should consider it, Damme, sir, I repeat: it is a great chance you are given."

Pitt came in to report that the work of rescue was at an end, and the men picked up—some forty-five in all—safe aboard the two buccaneer ships. He asked for orders. Blood rose.

"I am negligent of your lordship's concerns in my consideration of my own. You'll be wishing me to land you at Port Royal."

"At Port Royal?" The little man squirmed wrathfully on his seat. Wrathfully and at length he informed Blood that they had put into Port Royal last evening to find its Deputy-Governor absent. "He had gone on some wildgoose chase to Tortuga after buccaneers, taking the whole of the fleet with him."

"Is Rivarol aware of this?" Blood cried sharply.

It was the Dutch Admiral who answered him. "Vould he go dere if he were not? M. de Rivarol he take some of our men prisoners. Berhaps dey tell him. Berhaps he make dem tell. Id is a great ob-tordunidy."

Those women who receive mothers' pension from the county, will have their children examined by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner, within the next fortnight.

"We believe that so much good has been accomplished that we desire to continue the practice of having a physical examination of the children whose mothers are receiving a mother's pension, in order that the court and the officials may be of assistance where medical treatment or surgical operation would be helpful," Jugde Lodge Riddle declared.

"The order making the allowance to mothers is only effective for a six months period at which time the court may extend the allowance for another period of six months or less."

CAPTAIN BLOOD

By RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

Within an hour, the water-casks at least replenished and stowed aboard, the Arabella and the Elizabeth put to sea upon that angry chase.

"What now, Peter?" cried the young Jeremy Pitt. "Lord, man what is there here to fret you? Surely 'tisn't the thought of Rivarol?"

"No," said Blood thickly. And for once he was communicative. It may well be that he must vent the thing that oppressed him or be driven mad by it. And Pitt, after all, was his friend and loved him, and, so, a proper man for confidences. "But if she knew! If she knew! Oh God! I had thought to have done with piracy; thought to have done with it for ever. Yet here have I been committed by this scoundrel to the worst piracy that ever I was guilty of. Think of Cartagena! Think of the hell those devils will be making of it now! And I must have that on my soul!"

Setting a course for Hispaniola, since they judged that thither must Rivarol go to refit before attempting to cross to France, the Arabella and the Elizabeth ploughed briskly northward with a moderately favourable wind for two days and nights without ever catching a glimpse of their quarry. The third dawn brought with it a haze which circumscribed their range of vision to something between two and three miles and deepened their growing vexation and their apprehension that M. de Rivarol might escape them altogether.

They had Jamaica on their starboard beam some thirty miles to westward, and, indeed, away to the northwest, faintly visible as a bank of clouds, appeared the great ridge of the Blue Mountains whose peaks were thrust into the clear upper air above the low-lying haze. The wind was westerly, and it bore to their ears a booming sound which in less experienced ears might have passed for the breaking of surf upon a lee shore.

"Guns!" said Pitt, who stood with Blood upon the quarter-deck. Blood nodded, listening.

"Ten miles away, perhaps fifteen—somewhere off Port Royal, I should judge," Pitt added. Then he looked at his captain. "Does it concern us?" he asked.

"Guns off Port Royal . . . that should argue Colonel Bishop at work. I think it may concern us. Anyway, we'll stand in to investigate."

Close-hauled they tacked aweather, guided by the sound of combat, for an hour, perhaps. Then, as, telescope to his eye, Blood raked the haze, the guns abruptly ceased. They held to their course, nevertheless, with all hands on deck, eagerly, anxiously scanning the sea ahead. And presently an object loomed into view, which soon defined itself for a great ship on fire. As the Arabella with the Elizabeth following closely raced nearer on their northwesterly tack, the outlines of the blazing vessel grew clearer.

"An English ship!" he cried.

He scanned the seas for the conqueror in the battle of which this grim evidence was added to that of the sounds they had heard, and then at last, as they drew closer to the doomed vessel, they made out the shadowy outlines of three tall ships, some three or four miles away, standing in toward Port Royal. Pitt, who through the telescope was examining the receding squadron, observed things apparent only to the eye of the trained mariner, and made the incredible announcement that the largest of these three vessels was Rivarol's Victorieuse. They took in sail and hove to as they came up with the drifting boats, laden to capacity with survivors.

CHAPTER XXVI

THE SERVICE OF KING WILLIAM

One of the boats bumped alongside the Arabella, and up the entrance ladder came first a slight, spruce little gentleman in a coat of mulberry satin laced with gold, whose wizened, yellow, rather peevish face was framed in a heavy black periwig. His modish and costly apparel had nowise suffered by the adventure through which he had passed, and he carried himself with the easy assurance of a man of rank. He was closely followed by one who in every particular, save that of age, was the physical opposite, corpulent in a brawny, vigorous way, with a full, round, weather-beaten face whose mouth was humorous and whose eyes were blue and twinkling.

As the little man stepped from the ladder into the waist, whither Captain Blood had gone to receive him, his sharp, ferrety dark eyes swept the uncouth ranks of the assembled crew of the Arabella.

"And where the devil may I be now?" he demanded irritably. "Are you English, or what the devil are you?"

"Myself, I have the honour to be Irish, sir. My name is Blood—Captain Peter Blood, and this is my ship the Arabella, all very much at your service."

"Blood!" shrilled the little man. "O 'Sblood! A pirate!" He swung to the Colossus who followed him—"A damned pirate, van der Kuylen. Rend my vitals, but we're come from Scylla to Charybdis."

"So?" said the other gutturally, and again, "So?" Then the humour of it took him, and he yelded to it.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulbery-coat. "A fine tale this'll make at home! Admiral van der Kuylen first loses his fleet in the night, then has his flagship fired under him by a French squadron, and ends all by being captured by a pirate. I'm glad you find it matter for laughter. Since for my sins I happen to be with you, I'm damned if I do."

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulberry-coat.

"There's a misapprehension, if I may make so bold as to point it out," put in Blood quietly. "You are not captured, gentlemen; you are rescued. When you realize it, perhaps it will occur to you to acknowledge the hospitality I am offering you. It may be poor, but it is the best at my disposal."

"Damme! Do you permit yourself to be ironical?" he disapproved him. "I am Lord Willoughby, King William's Governor-General of the West Indies, and this is Admiral van der Kuylen, commander of His Majesty's West Indian fleet, at present mislaid somewhere in this damned Caribbean Sea."

"King William?" quoth Blood. "And who may he be King?"

"I am alluding to His Majesty King William III—William of Orange—who, with Queen Mary, has been ruling England for two months and more."

"D'ye mean, sir, that they've roused themselves at home, and kicked out that scoundrel James and his gang of ruffians?"

"'Slife! Hadn't you heard? Where the devil have you been at all?"

Briefly he gave an account. After that, with renewed assurances that aboard his ship they should be honourably entreated, Captain Blood led the Governor-General and the Admiral to his cabin, what time the work of rescue went on.

"Go home, if you will," said his lordship when comfortable. "Here is a great chance for you, since you declare yourself sick of piracy. Should you choose to serve King William out here during this war, your knowledge of the West Indies should render you a very valuable servant to His Majesty's Government, which you would not find ungrateful. You should consider it. Damme, sir, I repeat: it is a great chance you are given."

Pitt came in to report that the work of rescue was at an end, and the men picked up—some forty-five in all—safe aboard the two buccaneer ships. He asked for orders. Blood rose.

"I am negligent of your lordship's concerns in my consideration of my own. You'll be wishing me to land you at Port Royal."

"At Port Royal?" The little man squirmed wrathfully on his seat. Wrathfully and at length he informed Blood that they had put into Port Royal last evening to find its Deputy-Governor absent. "He had gone on some wildgoose chase to Tortuga after buccaneers, taking the whole of the fleet with him."

"Is Rivarol aware of this?" Blood cried sharply.

It was the Dutch Admiral who answered him. "Would he go dere if he were not? M. de Rivarol he take some of our men prisoners. Berhabs dey tell him. Berhabs he make dem tell. Id is a great cherdunidy."

SENATE DEFEATS CHILD LABOR ACT

The state senate yesterday voiced its unwillingness to ratify the proposed child labor amendment, both by speeches and by decisive vote, while the house of delegates devoted its energies to reducing the size of its calendar and brushed five bills out of the way by adopting motions to indefinitely postpone them.

The senate vote of four for ratification and 22 against ratification of the child labor amendment was cast on a straight resolution that the bill be ratified, as introduced by Senator Henshaw, who then voted against it.

An effort was made to substitute for this resolution the one which the house of delegates had adopted last week and which set forth the state's faith in its own child labor laws and declared the will of the legislature that the amendment to the federal constitution be not ratified. This proposal was understood to contain the ideas expressed by Governor Gore in a conference last week with Republican senators, and its substitution for the Henshaw resolution was proposed by majority Leader Wright Hugus. Senators Highland Jackson and White however, voted with the Democrats against the substitution which was lost, 16 to 10.

HOW TO EASILY LOSE FAT

Paris Sends Us Simple Formula to Get Thin
Prominent American Specialists, Doctors and Former Health Commissioner Exclusively Recommends New French Discovery to FAT PEOPLE.

Without injuring your health or having to diet or exercise, you can to-day easily take off 5 to 6 pounds a week with a French prescription conveniently put up in a small tablet called SAN-GRI-NA. Since SAN-GRI-NA has been introduced in America, it has met with such tremendous success that Doctors, Specialists, Nurses, and Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, have thoroughly investigated it, and now exclusively recommend it to fat people as absolutely harmless and most effective. If you have been fat for years; if your case is most obstinate; if you have tried everything advertised without success; if you suffer from puffing, high blood pressure, tired feeling—simply do this: Get a package of SAN-GRI-NA, take two small tablets before each meal, and watch your weight gradually go down and your health improve. Not only will SAN-GRI-NA do away with fat, but almost from the minute you start taking it you will feel a wonderful change in your entire system. Thousands of people already have been benefited by SAN-GRI-NA, and are sending in most gratifying reports. These cases vary in reducing from 10 to 70 pounds in a remarkably short time, and many say that "almost immediately after taking SAN-GRI-NA they felt 100 per cent. better."

Mrs. Koster, of Brooklyn, writes: "With SAN-GRI-NA, in six weeks I lost 39 pounds of ugly fat, and after years of suffering I was relieved from heart trouble. I now can climb the stairs without puffing, and I have found wonderful relief. You can use my letter, as well as my name, as I am grateful, and wish to help as many of my sisters as I can."
"When I first sent for SAN-GRI-NA I had been under the Doctor's care for heart trouble and high blood pressure. After I used SAN-GRI-NA for two weeks I was much better."—Mrs. Fonquerney.
"SAN-GRI-NA is a great help to me. I have reduced 20 pounds since I first started to use it."—Mrs. Wm. Parker.
"I have used 2 boxes of SAN-GRI-NA and I have lost 20 lbs."—Mrs. Dull, Oklahoma.
"I lost 8 pounds with one box of SAN-GRI-NA."—Mrs. Whiting, Springfield, Mass.
"I am very pleased with results. I have lost 14 pounds in 10 days."—Mrs. Hay, Vancouver.
NOTE.—Since SAN-GRI-NA has been introduced in America, it has met with such tremendous success that imitations cannot be avoided. Save yourself a disappointment. Ask for and be sure to get SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept a substitute claimed "just as good."

SENATE DEFEATS CHILD LABOR ACT

The state senate yesterday voiced its unwillingness to ratify the proposed child labor amendment, both by speeches and by decisive vote, while the house of delegates devoted its energies to reducing the size of its calendar and brushed five bills out of the way by adopting motions to indefinitely postpone them.

The senate vote of four for ratification and 22 against ratification of the child labor amendment was cast on a straight resolution that the bill be ratified, as introduced by Senator Henshaw, who then voted against it.

An effort was made to substitute for this resolution the one which the house of delegates had adopted last week and which set forth the state's faith in its own child labor laws and declared the will of the legislature that the amendment to the federal constitution be not ratified. This proposal was understood to contain the ideas expressed by Governor Gore in a conference last week with Republican senators, and its substitution for the Henshaw resolution was proposed by majority Leader Wright Hugus. Senators Highland Jackson and White however, voted with the Democrats against the substitution which was lost, 16 to 10.

HOW TO EASILY LOSE FAT

Paris Sends Us Simple Formula to Get Thin

Prominent American Specialists, Doctors and Former Health Commissioner Exclusively Recommends New French Discovery to FAT PEOPLE.

Without injuring your health or having to diet or exercise, you can to-day easily take off 5 to 6 pounds a week with a French prescription conveniently put up in a small tablet called SAN-GRI-NA. Since SAN-GRI-NA has been introduced in America, it has met with such tremendous success that Doctors, Specialists, Nurses, and Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, have thoroughly investigated it, and now exclusively recommend it to fat people as absolutely harmless and most effective. If you have been fat for years; if your case is most obstinate; if you have tried everything advertised without success; if you suffer from puffing, high blood pressure, tired feeling—simply do this: Get a package of SAN-GRI-NA, take two small tablets before each meal, and watch your weight gradually go down and your health improve. Not only will SAN-GRI-NA do away with fat, but almost from the minute you start taking it you will feel a wonderful change in your entire system. Thousands of people already have been benefited by SAN-GRI-NA, and are sending in most gratifying reports. These cases vary in reducing from 10 to 70 pounds in a remarkably short time, and many say that "almost immediately after taking SAN-GRI-NA they felt 100 per cent. better."

I now can climb the stairs without puffing, and I have found wonderful relief. You can use my letter, as well as my name, as I am grateful, and wish to help as many of my sisters as I can."

"When I first sent for SAN-GRI-NA I had been under the Doctor's care for heart trouble and high blood pressure. After I used SAN-GRI-NA for two weeks I was much better."—Mrs. Fonquerney.

"SAN-GRI-NA is a great help to me. I have reduced 20 pounds since I first started to use it."—Mrs. Wm. Parker.

morning that a patient needed an immediate operation it could be performed at once. If a consultation was deemed expedient the chief surgeon and any others of the staff needed might be telephoned and they could be on hand within a very short time.

Officers Subject to Call.

The officers on duty at the hospital are always subject to call. The fact that they may have some personal engagement makes no difference if an emergency case is brought in. Not so long ago a certain young officer attached to the oral surgery department invited a party of friends to dinner and the theatre. During the afternoon of the appointed day it was decided to operate on two aviators who had been in a serious automobile accident and had been considerably broken up as to faces and jaws. About 6 o'clock, when his guests were putting on the finishing touches to their toilettes and were beginning to look forward with anticipation to a nice thick juicy steak with all the trimmings, he telephoned that he had finished with one man and was just starting into the operating room with the other. He finally reached the theatre by the middle of the first act. Which shows that duty is the first consideration with those attached to the hospital.

The Army Medical School is not an undergraduate school. It conducts only post graduate courses, with special emphasis on serum therapy, Roentgenology, preventive medicine and epidemiology. As a clinic they have the entire Walter Reed General hospital. After graduation student officers are sent to the Medical Field Service School at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, where they are instructed in military drill, taught to be soldiers, and familiarized with the medical department field units used in peace and war. The Veterinary School and the Dental School are conducted on the same principles.

The nurses attending the Army School of Nursing receive much the same training as those in civilian hospitals with the possible exception that they perhaps have stricter discipline, since they must conform to military practices the same as other officers and men serving in the army. Particular emphasis is also given to public health training and as a method of obtaining practical training the hospital each year details nurses for a specified period only to work with local public health and welfare organizations.

Walter Reed hospital of course is not the only army hospital in which Veterans' Bureau patients are being taken care of. Army hospitals in all sections of the country are being utilized for this purpose. According to a recent report of the Veterans' Bureau the army reserves 2,837 beds in their hospitals for such patients, 2,256 of which were occupied at the date of the report. It is true in all of these, as at Walter Reed, that no discrimination is shown between bureau patients and those from the army.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Dog Hero Gives Life To Save Stray Puppy From Watery Grave

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April.—A dog hero, who gave his life for a stray puppy, is being mourned by the children of Riverside street, West Springfield.

The canine hero, owned by C. M. Bryant, was playing with a party of children on the banks of the Connecticut river. A puppy, which had been tied in a sack, was thrown into the river. The dog ran to the edge of the thin ice, gripped the sack in his teeth and started back to the shore. But the ice broke, and both dogs perished.

DEFIANCE, April.—Kicked in the stomach and thigh by his two horses while he was tending them, J. R. Brombes received painful bruises. His condition, however, was not deemed serious.

When Your Skin Is Sallow and Dull
Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.
But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.
Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucus membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.
COULD BE BEAUTIFUL
Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.
We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these facts.
You cannot be attractive with catarrh!

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Dog Hero Gives Life To Save Stray Puppy From Watery Grave

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April.—A dog hero, who gave his life for a stray puppy, is being mourned by the children of Riverside street, West Springfield.

The canine hero, owned by C. M. Bryant, was playing with a party of children on the banks of the Connecticut river. A puppy, which had been tied in a sack, was thrown into the river. The dog ran to the edge of the thin ice, gripped the sack in his teeth and started back to the shore. But the ice broke, and both dogs perished.

DEFIANCE, April.—Kicked in the stomach and thigh by his two horses while he was tending them, J. R. Brombes received painful bruises. His condition, however, was not deemed serious.

When Your Skin Is Sallow and Dull

Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.

But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.

Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucus membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.

COULD BE BEAUTIFUL

Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.

We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these facts.

You cannot be attractive with catarrh!

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering — the hoping — the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

Grass Fire Here.

Fire department was called out late yesterday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire on the hillside back of the street car barn.

Although Mexico produces more sugar than it can use, the sweet is imported in the north central states because it is cheaper to buy from the United States than from mills in the southern or western parts of Mexico.

With a roof of glass so that the building may be used as a summer garden in winter, an amusement center, 262 feet long and 100 feet wide, will be erected in Victrola, Canada, and house swimming pol, baths and dancing floor.

Uncle Sam Bars Their Marriage

Promises not to marry signed by actresses usually are scraps of paper, but not so in the cases of Eileen Seymour (at top) and Margot Greville, English beauties. In order to gain a waiver from immigration authorities permitting them to appear in a production in New York, they had to agree not to marry while they are in the U. S.

AINT IT THE GRAND, GLORIOUS FEELING

"I can not praise Ka-di-ok enough for what it has done for me," said Mr. H. D. Mays, 10 South 5th St., Martin's Ferry, O., to the Ka-di-ok representative. Mr. Mays is a 71-year "young" carpenter contractor of that city, and, since taking Ka-di-ok, has engaged in the construction of five houses there. He was a sufferer from rheumatism, affecting his entire body, indigestion, stomach trouble, loss of appetite, and the usual ills accompanying a disordered stomach.

H. D. Mays

After taking Ka-di-ok he emphatically declares his rheumatic pains have all left him, his appetite has returned, and he feels "glorious." Ka-di-ok will do for others what it did for Mr. Mays. If you will only give it a trial. The label on the bottle states in plain language the ills for which it is recommended, and it does exactly what is claimed for it, as testified to by thousands of grateful people all over the country.

YOUR HEALTH

What to Do to Be Armed Against Dangers of Colds

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

ONE of my readers has written, asking for a series of articles on colds, influenze and pneumonia. This is a time of year when it is well to be armed against the things which make for disease of the respiratory organs, as we call the nose, throat and lungs.

To-day I will tell you something about how you get colds and influenza, bronchitis and pneumonia.

We believe now that all these ailments are caused by an infecting agent, perhaps a germ of some sort. But the mere presence of the germ is not enough. There must be a lowering of the resistance of the body to permit the germ to do its work.

The reason we put locks on our doors and catches on our windows is to keep out the occasional individual who might happen along and covet our possessions. These frail things would not resist an army, but they are proof against ordinary efforts to effect entrance.

Our bodies are not made to resist the mass attacks of the virulent germs which swarm in time of epidemic. Under epidemic conditions, the strongest may fall but under ordinary conditions reasonable care will protect against infection.

Filth and germs are twins—Siamese twins at that. Where you find filth you will find germs.

These are strong words but they are true words. In human beings freedom from germs can be guaranteed only when there is produced a condition of surgical cleanliness.

Such cleanliness of very bodily surface is impossible, of course. But the nearer you approach it the safer you are.

Suppose you start from home in the morning with a clean body well-scrubbed mouth, cleared-out nostrils, clean hands and immaculate finger-nails, clean underwear and stockings—how long will you stay clean?

You go into a street car or a crowded store and somebody coughs, sneezes or talks loudly. Immediately the air in the vicinity is filled with a spray of moisture from his mouth. It lands on your face and is breathed into your nostrils.

Under a microscope each tiny droplet of this spray is big as a world and teeming with a population of germs—perhaps of a cold or of influenza, possibly pneumonia.

Your hands come in contact with the moist secretions left on door-knobs or toilet articles by disease-infected persons. You touch your fingers to your lips or nostrils, and soon you get the effects of an infection which might be avoided by cleanliness and care.

Bardsey Isle King Is Seeking Bride And Good Time

CARNARVON, Wales. — Love Pritchard, eighty-three-year-old self-styled King of Bardsey Island, who, evacuated the island through food troubles, wants a wife.

He has visited the nearby town of Aberdaron in search of a place in which to set up house, stating that he intended to marry soon and wants a nice young girl of 18.

"What's the use of staying on Bardsey to starve?" he asked. "We have grown tired of being on that dead-and-alive hole and are now out for a good time, and intend to enjoy all the things that we have missed."

Every ship carrying lumber to Belfast, Ireland, is said to hold pine from America for use in various industries of Northern Ireland.

Mines Close Down.

NELSONVILLE, April.—The large mines of the Carbondale Coal company and the Poston Coal company, at Carbondale and Millfield, have been closed for an indefinite period. Lack of orders is said to be the cause. Owners of these mines, each of which employes about 300 men, would not state when work will be resumed.

Among the accidents reported at the opening of Parliament in London was that of "a guardsman posted opposite the House of Lords fainting and falling upon his bayonet that pierced his chin."

American Davis Cup Defense May Lose Tilden and Richards

Can't Play Unless Committee Changes Player-Writer Rule

National Champion and Runner-up Refuse to Quit the Jobs Which Make Them Their "Bread and Butter."

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 8.—William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, respective national champion and his runner-up in the national ranking list, are lost to the American Davis cup defense and tournament tennis in general for the season of 1925 unless there is a hurried revision of the player-writer rule. Richards today set at rest any doubt that might exist on the subject by declaring himself out from behind the net and in at the front of a typewriter. He added that he was merely echoing the sentiments of Tilden.

The latter, according to Richards, is confident that the United States Lawn Tennis association will rewrite the rule before the Davis cup issue comes to a head. If the association does not, neither Tilden nor Richards is likely to take a racquet in hand during the impending season except for exercise and purposes of exhibition.

"It all comes down to a question of our bread and butter," Richards said. "The association has passed a rule forbidding us to write a line on tournaments in which we are competing. That is just the time when our employers want our articles. Even if the employers were willing to abide by this condition, they couldn't be expected to pay our salaries while we play tennis. If I wanted the day off to go swimming, I couldn't expect to be paid for it. By the same token, I couldn't expect my salary to run on while I am away for a week or ten days playing tennis. I am a married man and have more than myself to think of. Need I say more?"

The young man did, however. He added that he, for one, would not be a party to the American team that is supposed to be headed for Wimbledon this summer. Neither will Tilden nor, for that matter, William M. Johnston, according to Richards. This statement lends color to the impression that the American invaders will just about represent the competitive strength of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Asked why Tilden, a member of the special committee that drafted the latest player-writer rule, rubber stamped the proposition when not in favor of it, Richards declared the American champion had no alternative. Six members of the seven-man committee favored the rule, as drafted. Tilden, he said, merely climbed on the band wagon as a passenger, not as a musician.

RUTH ORDERED TO TAKE REST

May Not be Well Enough to Play When Season Opens.

ASHVILLE, N. C., April 8.—Babe Ruth will leave Ashville this afternoon for New York if his condition is considered sufficiently good for the trip, it was announced this morning by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees.

Ruth's collapse at the railway station yesterday, when he fainted after having been ill most of the time enroute, was ascribed to a highly aggravated nervous condition following several attacks of influenza.

Ruth may not be well enough to play baseball when the American league season opens, it was said. Physicians have ordered absolute rest for him.

Ruth was not ill this morning, aside from weakness following his collapse. He was left in bed at the Batter Park hotel here when his team mates resumed their northward journey today. He planned to take a train direct to New York about four o'clock this afternoon.

According to Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, speaking before he left this morning, Ruth has been playing ball through sheer nerve since the team started north from Florida. In Atlanta a few days ago the slugger was forced to leave a game after a few innings but returned to the line-up the following day.

Sunday in Chattanooga he was taken ill and entered the game there over the protests of Huggins and several team mates.

Enroute from Knoxville Ruth realized he had reached the end of his string and told players of both Brooklyn and New York clubs that he was sick.

"I feel like I'm burning up inside," he said, according to "Dock" Woods, trainer of the Yankees. The trainer attempted to relieve him but Ruth's condition became worse and finally became alarming. Woods said Ruth was delirious with a high fever at times just before the train reached Asheville and when he attempted to leave the train collapsed in a faint.

Several players picked up the big outfielder and carried him to a taxicab which rushed him to the Battery Park hotel and doctors were hurriedly summoned. His fever was soon allayed but not until after he had passed through a period of illness that was decidedly alarming to players of the Yankees.

Ruth had a mild attack of a similar illness at Hot Springs this spring before joining the Yankees in Florida. He had not fully recovered, physicians said.

"Ace" Hudkins is New Pacific Coast Champ

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wild cat," was today the Pacific coast lightweight champion following his ten-round victory over Joe Benjamin, Stockton "sheik" in the Vernon coliseum here last night. Ace outsmarted, out-boxed and outguessed Benjamin throughout and had him nearly out in the sixth when Hudkins claimed the referee's failure to count cost him a knockout.

The Nebraska "ace" immediately after the fight issued a challenge to any lightweight in the world.

ART FLETCHER, OF PHILLIES, HAS BEST MINOR LEAGUE TEAM NOW IN MAJORS

By Norman E. Brown

BRADENTON, Fla., April 8.—Art Fletcher is in fine shape this spring. He is going to give the other seven ball clubs in the National League some interesting afternoons the coming summer. This regardless of the makeup of his ball club.

That's about the way you see things after looking over the Phillies here. Fletcher has the poorest looking ball club in Florida. If there is any honor in having that distinction Fletcher can be covered. Otherwise I see little ahead of him to make him smile.

Last year it was Fletcher's tireless energy and ability to inject fight into his team that carried that club along. Fletcher must carry the load this year.

He will, however, present a different lineup to the hometown fans. As the team stands now he will trek into Philadelphia with three new men in his infield. Heinie Sand, shortstop, will be the only 1924 infielder on the job.

Fletcher here is playing "Chicken" Hawkes, ex-Yank, at first. Walter Kimmick, once a Red and with Vernon last year, is on second. Charley Huber, obtained from Beaumont, is on third.

Huber has been up before. He is not a spring chicken—about twenty-seven. He is a brilliant fielder, however, and everyone likes a good fielder at the last corner. If Hawkes fails to hit his stride at first when the regular season gets under way the veteran Walter Holke will go back to first. Fletcher hopes to keep Hawkes there, however. Horace Ford has taken his dolls home and said he won't play anymore unless he gets lots and lots of money. And at this writing no additional requisitions had been drawn on the Phils' exchequer to induce Mr. Ford to return to the club. So he can be crossed off the list of utility infielders.

Fletcher's outfield will be George Burns, ex-Giant, in left; George Harper, also an ex-Red, in center and Cy Williams in right. This is a change for the venerable Cy and one that he requested.

The Phils' pitching staff will again consist of Jimmy Ring and the field as they say at the race track. The field consists of Betts, Carlson, Couch, Clarence Mitchell and probably Hubbell, one of the season's longest holdouts.

Among the rookie pitchers Ray Pierce looks the best. He was with the Cubs some time ago. He's a left-hander and tiny but, boy, he can pitch. Then there's Dana Fillingim, once a Brave. He's hopeful of coming back. They all are. He has the average chance, no more, no less.

Jack Knight came up from Houston ready to go, according to Texas League fans. He will be kept for a time at least.

Butch Henline and Wilson will do the catching again.

No effort is made in this epistle to place the Phils in the coming fracas. But as the team looks now Fletcher is going to put a whole lot of energy in to carrying a weak team some place in the race.

More power to Arthur if he does something.

PHYSICIAN'S GLAND EXPERIMENTS ASTOUND SCIENTIFIC WORLD

Through a New Scientific Discovery the Vital Glands May Be Assisted in Their Work of Supplying the Energizing Glandular Secretions Which Are So Necessary to Vigorous Health.

Thousands of Men and Women Now Take Glandogen to Help Regain Normal Health, Vigor and Strength

"We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals.

Wonders have been worked in the rejuvenation of youth and vigor by glandular treatment in one of California's State institutions. This "Scientific Magic" has been performed by the head physician and surgeon, who reports success in 90% of 1,000 cases treated.

Probably the most remarkable instance is the case of a 73-year-old man who displayed the athletic prowess of a youth of twenty by running a 60-yard race in 8 seconds.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS REVEAL AMAZING FACTS ABOUT GLANDS.

Dr. Serge Voronoff, an international authority on Organotheraphy has said: "The brain, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all other organs would be incapable of playing any useful part without the aid of the glands. The functioning of our organs is no more than the activity of our glands."

At a recent medical convention in Chicago an eminent physician stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands, many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular tratment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

GLANDULAR TREATMENT (GLANDOGEN) CAN NOW BE TAKEN IN CONVENIENT TABLET FORM.

Thousands of men and women are now turning to glandular treatment to help regain lost strength, vigor, vitality and health. Since science has prepared a gland treatment in simple, compact tablet form—Glandogen—it is a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glandogen is scientifically prepared in two different forms, one for men and one for women, from the vital glands of healthy young animals, combined with other efficacious ingredients. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate store will supply you.

American Davis Cup Defense May Lose Tilden and Richards

Can't Play Unless Committee Changes Player-Writer Rule

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 8.—William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, respective national champion and his runner-up in the national ranking list, are lost to the American Davis cup defense and tournament tennis in general for the season of 1925 unless there is a hurried revision of the player-writer rule. Richards today set at rest any doubt that might exist on the subject by declaring himself out from behind the net and in at the front of a typewriter. He added that he was merely echoing the sentiments of Tilden.

The latter, according to Richards, is confident that the United States Lawn Tennis association will rewrite the rule before the Davis cup issue comes to a head. If the association does not, neither Tilden nor Richards is likely to take a racquet in hand during the impending season except for exercise and purposes of exhibition.

"It all comes down to a question of our bread and butter," Richards said. "The association has passed a rule forbidding us to write a line on tournaments in which we are competing. That is just the time when our employers want our articles. Even if the employers were willing to abide by this condition, they couldn't be expected to pay our salaries while we play tennis. If I wanted the day off to go swimming, I couldn't expect to be paid for it. By the same token, I couldn't expect my salary to run on while I am away for a week or ten days playing tennis. I am a married man and have more than myself to think of. Need I say more?"

The young man did, however. He added that he, for one, would not be a party to the American team that is supposed to be headed for Wimbledon this summer. Neither will Tilden nor, for that matter, William M. Johnston, according to Richards. This statement lends color to the impression that the American invaders will just about represent the competitive strength of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Asked why Tilden, a member of the special committee that drafted the latest player-writer rule, rubber stamped the proposition when not in favor of it, Richards declared the American champion had no alternative. Six members of the seven-man committee favored the rule, as drafted. Tilden, he said, merely climbed on the band wagon as a passenger, not as a musician.

RUTH ORDERED TO TAKE REST

May Not be Well Enough to Play When Season Opens.

ASHVILLE, N. C., April 8.—Babe Ruth will leave Ashville this afternoon for New York if his condition is considered sufficiently good for the trip, it was announced this morning by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees.

Ruth's collapse at the railway station yesterday, when he fainted after having been ill most of the time enroute, was ascribed to a highly aggravated nervous condition following several attacks of influenza.

Ruth may not be well enough to play baseball when the American league season opens, it was said. Physicians have ordered absolute rest for him.

Ruth was not ill this morning, aside from weakness following his collapse. He was left in bed at the Batter Park hotel here when his team mates resumed their northward journey today. He planned to take a train direct to New York about four o'clock this afternoon.

According to Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, speaking before he left this morning, Ruth has been playing ball through sheer nerve since the team started north from Florida. In Atlanta a few days ago the slugger was forced to leave a game after a few innings but returned to the line-up the following day.

Sunday in Chattanooga he was taken ill and entered the game there over the protests of Huggins and several team mates.

Enroute from Knoxville Ruth realized he had reached the end of his string and told players of both Brooklyn and New York clubs that he was sick.

"I feel like I'm burning up inside," he said, according to "Dock" Woods, trainer of the Yankees. The trainer attempted to relieve him but Ruth's condition became worse and finally became alarming. Woods said Ruth was delirious with a high fever at times just before the train reached Asheville and when he attempted to leave the train collapsed in a faint.

Several players picked up the big outfielder and carried him to a taxicab which rushed him to the Battery Park hotel and doctors were hurriedly summoned. His fever was soon allayed but not until after he had passed through a period of illness that was decidedly alarming to players of the Yankees.

Ruth had a mild attack of a similar illness at Hot Springs this spring before joining the Yankees in Florida. He had not fully recovered, physicians said.

ART FLETCHER, OF PHILLIES, HAS BEST MINOR LEAGUE TEAM NOW IN MAJORS

By Norman E. Brown

BRADENTON, Fla., April 8.—Art Fletcher is in fine shape this spring. He is going to give the other seven ball clubs in the National League some interesting afternoons the coming summer. This regardless of the makeup of his ball club.

That's about the way you see things after looking over the Phillies here. Fletcher has the poorest looking ball club in Florida. If there is any honor in having that distinction Fletcher can be covered. Otherwise I see little ahead of him to make him smile.

Last year it was Fletcher's tireless energy and ability to inject fight into his team that carried that club along. Fletcher must carry the load this year.

He will, however, present a different lineup to the hometown fans. As the team stands now he will trek into Philadelphia with three new men in his infield. Heinie Sand, shortstop, will be the only 1924 infielder on the job.

Fletcher here is playing "Chicken" Hawkes, ex-Yank, at first. Walter Kinmick, once a Red and with Vernon last year, is on second. Charley Huber, obtained from Beaumont, is on third.

Huber has been up before. He is not a spring chicken about twenty-seven. He is a brilliant fielder, however, and everyone likes a good fielder at the last corner. If Hawkes fails to hit his stride at first when the regular season gets under way the veteran Walter Holke will go back to first. Fletcher hopes to keep Hawkes there, however. "Ace" Hudkins is New Pacific Coast Champ

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wild cat," was today the Pacific coast lightweight champion following his ten-round victory over Joe Benjamin, Stockton "sheik" in the Vernon coliseum here last night. Ace outsmarted, out-boxed and outguessed Benjamin throughout and had him nearly out in the sixth when Hudkins claimed the referee's failure to count cost him a knockout.

The Nebraska "ace" immediately after the fight issued a challenge to any lightweight in the world.

The Silk Association of America, however, says that William Skinner and Sons, Holyoke, Massachusetts, have the largest silk mill under one roof in the world, there being 2,300 looms there. Schwarzenbach, Huber and Company have the largest mills in Europe, but they do not have a large number of mills under one roof. They are scattered in small units in various towns and villages.

Q. How much sugar is raised in a year? H. M. S.

Q. How far can moose and deer swim? C. H. G.

A. The Biological Survey says that it has no information with regard to the exact distance that moose can swim, but it has been found that these animals oftentimes swim rivers a mile or two broad. Deer swim about the same distance. The caribou are perhaps the best swimmers and they have been known to cross lakes six or eight miles wide.

Q. Are the majority of our prominent people city or country bred? A. E.

Q. What was known as the Yellow Day in connection with the building of the Brooklyn Bridge? P. H. D.

A. Accounts of the construction of the bridge state that one Sunday morning neglect by the watchman inside a caisson allowed air to blow out, creating a panic and stampede above ground and flinging over buildings and shipping a coat of yellow mud. If Porter Sleeps, Pullman Company Must Pay Losses

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—If a Pullman porter sleeps while the passengers are asleep the company is responsible for all losses sustained by the passengers. This ruling was handed down in common pleas court here by Judge Rowand when he sustained a verdict of $185 in favor of Hugh A. Marx.

Marx was a passenger on a sleeping car from Pittsburgh to Boston April 22, 1923. He awoke during the night and rang for the porter to get him additional blankets. He got no response. He then ascertained that the conductor and porter had gone to sleep after all the passengers had retired. When he awoke next morning he found his baggage was gone.

Octopuses? We Know Them.
Gagging Karolyi.
Immoral Audiences.
Al Smith and Wadsworth.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Too late for that; we are used to "octopuses" and we don't mind them.

When the old Standard Oil was said to be worth a thousand millions everybody shivered and some cried "Horror." Now one little branch of the old Standard Oil in Indiana is worth in its new combination more than five hundred millions and it is NOT the biggest Standard unit.

The country no longer asks: "How much" money have you? But rather what do you do with the money you have?

The Rockefellers on the whole appear to be doing pretty well with their Foundations, their fight against disease, all the way from "Paris to Peking and from Peking to Rome." Also in Central America and all over the globe.

It doesn't make much difference how much THEY HAVE, if it pays taxes and doesn't corrupt government.

Count Karolyi, now in America, was before the war one of the richest men in Hungary, worth perhaps thirty millions.

He was the first president of the Hungarian republic. His entire fortune was confiscated. He came to this country to join his wife, granddaughter of the great Hungarian statesman, Andrassy, prime minister of Hungary 58 years ago.

In a few days Count Karolyi leaves for England, where he will speak in public concerning affairs of his own country and other countries.

Great Britain, which is a democracy, will be amused to learn that while in the United States Karolyi was forbidden, by the government, to make public speeches.

Why was he forbidden? Heaven only knows. Somebody over here who still has forty millions probably didn't want him to talk.

In England, where they have brains and a democracy, they are not afraid of free speech.

When red Indians tortured a victim the worst part of the performance was not the torture, but the fact that the entire Indian village intensely enjoyed the horrible spectacle, approved and joined in torture.

Politics in New York state may interest the whole country. Wadsworth, whose term soon ends, may fight Governor Al Smith for his seat in the senate.

Governor Smith will be fighting, not for a mere senatorship, but to show that he has New York state in the hollow of his hand, and thus make himself the "logical" Democratic candidate for president in 1928.

Noted citizens ask President Coolidge to "outlaw war."

How would you go about "outlawing war?"

How would you keep Austria from declaring war on little Serbia, following the murder of an Austrian heir to the throne?

How would you keep Germany from declaring war on France now, if she had the money, weapons and flying machines.

How would you keep Japan from declaring war on the United States, if Japan thought it her duty to change our minds about Asiatic immigration.

You can't outlaw war, but you can do much to prevent it. The way to prevent war is to be ready for it. Ten thousand first class flying machines, with good pilots, half of them swift pursuit planes, the other half heavy bombing planes, would do more for peace than all the sighs, groans and solemn nonsense about "outlawing war."

Fear works strangely. A man challenged to a duel killed himself through fear of the duel. Another whose life depended to walking across a deep chasm, on a narrow plank, jumped down to his death rather than make the effort.

Atillo Diaz, playing cards with others when masked entered, and held up the players, dived head first through an upper window and killed himself.

TAFT PROMISES VOTES TO PASS CITY MEASURE OVER DONAHEY'S VETO

State Representative Declares Enough Support to Enact East Liverpool Bill Has Been Pledged in Assembly.

WILL STAND PAT ON GASOLINE TAX

County Legislator Will Return to Columbus on April 15 to Consider Proposals Rejected by Governor.

East Liverpool's municipal court bill, which fell beneath the veto axe of Gov. A. V. Donahey last week, will be re-enacted by the state legislature, when it re-convenes on April 16, according to assurances, received by State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, East Rochester, sponsor of the measure, from Majority Leader Robert Taft, Cincinnati, he announced today.

Favors Gas Tax Bill

"Seven municipal court measures, establishing new courts or relating to those already in existence, which Governor Donahey has disapproved, will be passed over the governor's veto. Mr. Taft has assured me," said Emmons.

Bills establishing municipal courts in Ashtabula and East Liverpool were halted by the veto powers of the governor. He has indicated that he will sign municipal measures for Springfield and Canton. The other bills relate to courts which already are in existence.

Emmons will vote to override the governor's veto on the gasoline tax measure, despite the reported change

NEW ENGLAND FOREST FIRES CREATE TERROR

Scores Homeless and Property Worth Millions Destroyed.

BLAZES CHECKED

Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire Suffer.

BOSTON, April 8.—Homeless families and destroyed property worth several million dollars were revealed by the sun today after forest fires had created a night of terror in a score or more towns in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

Tired volunteer fire fighters reported, however, that all the fires had either burned themselves out or were under control today.

A summary of the forest fire damage follows:

Rhode Island—Five homes destroyed. Many animals, horses, pigs, goats and dogs were burned to death. Villages of Chompton, Anthony and Washington hemmed in at one time by walls of fire. The villages were saved by backfires.

New Hampshire—Forest fire with three-mile front destroyed three homes in Deerfield, ignited 15 houses at one time and burned over 3,000,000 feet of timber. Citizens of Boscawen battled all night with a fire which burned down one home and destroyed 50 acres of timber. Summer colony at Ashland threatened with destruction with fire-sweeping outlying sections.

When the office was opened this morning, there was nearly two inches of water on the floor. Water at noon today continued to drip from the ceiling. On account of the dampness of the record room, Judge Lodge Riddle dismissed his force of employes for the day.

HINDENBURG'S HAT IN GERMAN RING AGAINST WILHELM MARX

Field Marshal, 77, Accepts Presidential Nomination.

REICHS' ENTRY

BERLIN, April 8.—The Reichs bloc, comprising the Nationist parties and the reactionary elements, today succeeded in persuading Field Marshal Erich Von Hindenburg, the 77-year-old veteran, to accept the presidential nomination.

WILHELM PLAYS POLITICAL ROLE

HANOVER, Germany, April 8.—It was a private message from the former Kaiser Wilhelm that it was the "only way to save the nation, which in luenced Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to reconsider his decision and decide to become a candidate for the presidency April 26, it was said here today.

Added to this was said to be the insistent argument of Admiral Von Tirpitz that Hindenberg was the "only man able to defeat Marx," the Republican.

The great question here following Hindenburg's decision to seek the presidency was whether Ludendorff will support him or announce his own candidacy.

Von Hindenburg's acceptance was announced following a conference between the veteran general and Admiral Von Tirpitz, at Hanover. The Monarchistic forces had persuaded Germany's "grand old man of the sea" to prevail upon the "grand old man of the army" to take the step it was believed would bring victory to the Nationalists.

It was only with an effort that Von Hindenburg was persuaded to enter the race. His refusal was first reported, then his reconsideration, then again his definite refusal. Even today, before his acceptance of the candidacy, he was reported to have told Von Tirpitz:

"I am too old to accept such a difficult and responsible post."

Von Hindenburg will oppose Wilhelm Marx, former chancellor and candidate of the Republican coalition. The delay of the Nationalist bloc to secure a candidate for the second presidential election, April 26, has elated the Republicans, who were convinced by it that Marx will be victor in the run-off election.

Chicago Defeats Municipal Ownership Of Transit Systems

CHICAGO, April 8.—Chicago's proposed traction ordinance which was to have given the city municipaly-owned and operated transit systems and provided for the construction of subways, was defeated by approximately 100,000 votes at yesterday's referendum, today's returns showed.

Two suburbs — Evanston and Oak Park— defeated Sunday movies.

Farmer, Grocer and Miller Succumbs After Less Than Two Hours' Illness of Acute Indigestion and Neuralgia.

Charles H. Blazer, 72 years old, lifelong resident of this city and an active church and temperance worker, died suddenly in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Homer Huff, Orchard Grove and Jennings avenues, at 12:45 o'clock this morning. Death was due to an attack of acute indigestion and neuralgia of the heart.

Mr. Blazer, who has been employed at the Faulk Brothers mill, Dresden avenue, worked yesterday, and last evening was engaged about the yard of his home. He retired about 10:30, apparently in normal health.

About 11:15 o'clock he summoned his daughter, Mrs. Huff, because of a severe pain. Dr. W. N. Bailey was immediately summoned, the physician administered medicine which relieved the pain but death followed shortly afterwards.

Mr. Blazer was born in Macomb, Ill., February 8, 1853. His father died when he was young and he came to East Liverpool with his uncle, Joseph Montgomery, who owned a large farm which is now a part of Thompson park, just outside the city. He made his home with his uncle for many years.

Funeral Services Friday.

For four years he lived with his mother in Asheville, N. C., where he was engaged in the grocery business. He later returned to East Liverpool, where he entered the employment of the Faulk Brothers company, feed dealers and millers. He has been connected with this firm for about 26 years.

He was active in the prohibition movement here. He was an elder of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church for several years and also held the same office in the First Presbyterian church. He was affiliated with the Royal Arcanum lodge.

Mr. Blazer is survived by four children: Mrs. Huff, with whom he made his home; Joseph and Miss Mary Blazer, both of this city, and Mrs. Claude Knox, of Glendale, Cal. His wife died about 33 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Huff home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

DR. W. E. BIEDERWOLF WILL RETURN FOR TWO MEETINGS IN TABERNACLE

Dr. C. F. Swift, Pittsburgh, of National Reform Association, Will Co-operate in Services on April 18-19.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, of Monticello, Ind., who conducted a six weeks' evangelistic campaign here last fall, will return to East Liverpool for a series of week-end services in the tabernacle, Second and Washington streets, Saturday and Sunday, April 18 and 19.

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Frederic A. Dean, wife of the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Dr. Biederwolf will return here under auspices of the East Liverpool Welfare association, which purchased the tabernacle building following the close of the revival services last December.

Dr. Biederwolf will conduct services in the tabernacle on Saturday and Sunday evenings. On Sunday morning he will fill the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, East End.

An afternoon meeting will also be held in the tabernacle, on April 19, at which Rev. C. F. Swift, D. D., field representative for the National Reform association, will speak on the subject, "The Pillars and Perils of Democracy.

Dr. Swift was pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church here about 25 years ago. He is an ex-member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, but for several years has been connected with the National Reform association, which maintains its headquarters in Pittsburgh.

The tabernacle services will be open to the general public. As the tabernacle must be cleared from the playground lot before May 1, these will likely be the last meetings to be held in the big shed, it was said.

SYMPATHY COSTS OHIOAN $1,000

LORAIN, April 8.—Paul Konienzy is through with the sympathy racket, and tears will hereafter find his heart a stone. Too much sympathy cost him $1,000.

A weeping stranger and companion offered Konienzy half of the insurance of a dead brother if he would aid in securing a passport. As a guarantee of good faith, Konienzy put up $1,000.

"That's the last I saw of either the money or the men," he explained to police.

EDGARLE BLOOR IS ARRESTED, THEN FREED, IN GUN PLAY CASE

Charge Against Special Policeman Withdrawn by Complainant.

PAYS DAMAGES

Mrs. M. C. Russell Acts, Then Officer Accuses Auto Driver.

As an aftermath of the alleged gun play along the River road Sunday night, in which two East End youths are said to have narrowly escaped being wounded, Special Patrolman Edgarle Bloor, Oak street, was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith, last evening, upon charges of malicious destruction of property and shooting with intent to wound.

The charges were filed before Justice P. V. Mackall by Mrs. M. C. Russell, First avenue, East End, in behalf of her son, Evan Russell, 20, driver of an automobile which Bloor is alleged to have attempted to halt.

Upon Bloor's promise to make good the damage done to the automobile and his agreement to pay the costs of the case, Mrs. Russell withdrew the charges, she said today. Mrs. Russell added that Bloor this morning replaced the car's broken windshield and also furnished a new side curtain, both of which contained bullet holes.

Mayor Dismisses Boy.

Bloor, after being dismissed by Justice Mackall, filed a charge of fast and reckless driving against young Russell in police court. The youth was arrested at his home, late last night, by Patrolman Chester Smith and brought to city hall. He was later released and ordered to appear before Mayor Brown this morning. Mayor Brown today dismissed the boy, asserting that the charges had been dropped.

The alleged shooting occurred about 9 o'clock last Sunday night, when young Russell, his brother and three other companions were on their way down town. At a point along the River road near the Harker pottery, it is alleged another automobile had been stopped. Beside it stood two girls and a man, the Russell automobile party said.

As Evan Russell and his companions passed the machine, Bloor is said to have attempted to halt them, but believing him to be some enemy, Russell "stepped on the gas." An instant

NILES FEARS POTTERY LOSS

Atlas China Company Considers Offers to Move Plant.

The Atlas China company, of Niles, which suffered a $300,000 fire loss on March 28, when a large part of the plant was destroyed, may quit Niles, unless better fire protection is provided.

A. O. C. Ahrendts, formerly of Chester, manager of the plant, announced today that several other cities have made offers for the plant. For that reason the company is undecided whether it will rebuild in Niles or locate its plant elsewhere.

The Niles city council has already taken steps to give the plant better fire protection by extending the water mains and increasing the personnel of the fire department.

The company which was running at 100 per cent capacity at the time of the blaze, will be unable to resume operations for at least four months, it is claimed.

EAST LIVERPOOL HIGH SCHOOL IS AGAIN PLACED ON CLASS A LIST OF ACCREDITED INSTITUTIONS

For the twenty-third consecutive year, the East Liverpool high school is listed among the Class A institutions of accredited high schools by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, thus opening the doors of colleges for its graduates.

Official notification of the action of the association for the 1925-26 period was received today by Miss Florence Updegraff, principal.

The association, which does not issue certificates of crediting for more than one year, sends representatives to make an annual examination of high schools seeking places on the honor list.

The certificate for the East Liverpool school, which has been on the accredit list of Class A schools since 1903, will be issued on or about April 10.

Aim of Association.

"The association was founded in 1895 by a group of foresighted men representing but a small number of institutions and a very limited territory. It has steadily grown to include twenty states, Arkansas being included in 1923, and West Virginia in 1925.

"The aim of the North Central association is declared in the Constitution, Article II. It reads as follows:

"The object of the association shall be to establish closer relations between the secondary schools and institutions of higher education within the North Central states and such other territory as the association may recognize."

"That these aims are, to a large degree realized, is evidenced by the steady growth of the association in territorial accessions, in the number of affiliated and accredited schools and colleges, and in the power and prestige exercised in respect to educational policies and practices throughout the country. Twenty states are today embraced within the association. These are: Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexica, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. At the time of the annual meeting, March, 1925, the association accredited 1804 high schools and academies.

"The North Central association is seeking to promote the cause of education through three types of activities; first, by bringing about a better acquaintance, a keener sympathy and a heartier co-operation betwen the colleges and secondary schools of its territory; second, by considering common educational problems and devising ways and means of solving them; and third, by promoting the physical, intellectual and moral well being of students by urging proper sanitary conditions of school buildings, adequate library and laboratory facilities, and higher standards of scholarship.

"The association is the most generally recognized standardizing agency for high schools and colleges in the North Central states if indeed it does not rank first in prestige in the entire United States. Recognition by the North Central association means, therefore, in the educational world the same as high ranking by Dun or Bradstreet in the field of finance and business."

Factors in Classification.

In determining the classification of schools, consideration is given the location and construction of buildings; library and laboratory facilities; requirements for graduation; efficiency of instruction, acquired habits of thought and study, general intellectual and moral tone of the school and the co-operative attitude of the community; salary schedule of teachers; preparation

Rub on Good Old Musterole
That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.
Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.
As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.
To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

AINT IT THE GRAND, GLORIOUS FEELING

"I can not praise Ka-di-ok enough for what it has done for me," said Mr. H. D. Mays, 10 South 5th St., Martin's Ferry, O., to the Ka-di-ok representative. Mr. Mays is a 71-year "young" carpenter contractor of that city, and, since taking Ka-di-ok, has engaged in the construction of five houses there. He was a sufferer from rheumatism, affecting his entire body, indigestion, stomach trouble, loss of appetite, and the usual ills accompanying a disordered stomach.

H. D. Mays

After taking Ka-di-ok he emphatically declares his rheumatic pains have all left him, his appetite has returned, and he feels "glorious." Ka-di-ok will do for others what it did for Mr. Mays, if you will only give it a trial. The label on the bottle states in plain language the ills for which it is recommended, and it does exactly what is claimed for it, as testified to by thousands of grateful people all over the country.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathew's Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 West Sixth street.

QUESTIONS LACK OF SAFETY FUNDS

Criticisms aimed at the lack of funds in the safety department and the alleged slowness with which Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation has been progressing, brought about heater varbal tilts between various city of of city council.

Directing his guns on the police department, City Auditor Fred Eckfeld revealed a situation which he termed as "uncalled for." He pointed out that there is but $340.16 in the safety fund, and charges of $3,045 to face during the months of April, May and June.

"There is something rotten in Denmark," the auditor declared as he compared fines collected the first three months of 1924 and those brought in this year. He advised either councilmanic co-operation with Mayor James S. Barnes, or a reduction in safety department expenses.

In defense of the department, Mayor Barnes pointed to the fact that council had refused to allow him to get equipment with which to operate the department for the highest possible financial returns. He asserted that he had not been given the co-operation that he should have received and that a "certain element" had tried repeatedly to hinder him. He asserted he was willing to work night and day if co-operation for his efforts were forthcoming.

President of Council Blackburn raised a question, during the session, as to whether Wells avenue-Lisbon street legislation had progressed as rapidly as it should.

Resenting the intimation that he had not handled the legal end of the paving negotiations as rapidly as he should, City Solicitor George D. Ingram asserted that the city was going as fast as it could in this particular matter, and that he refused to be hurried in an important proceeding such as the improvement involved.

The solons enacted an ordinance under suspended rules and on third and final reading, vacating Geisse alley and a portion of lot No. 1, near Second and Broadway. This action was the result of an appeal by the Stevenson Foundry Co., which seeks additional ground on which to enlarge their plant. Satisfactory arrangements for property owners that might be affected by the vacation have been provided by the Foundry company.

Two bond ordinances for the Wells avenue-Lisbon street paving were passed on third and final readings.

FRIDAY SERVICE AT LOCAL CHURCH

Services will be held in the Church of the Ascension, Eleventh and Main streets, on the afternoon of Good Friday, from 2 until 3 o'clock, to commemorate the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ upon the cross, Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector, announced today.

Denies he's "Fred Jenkins."

R. L. Jenkins, of Irondale, today issued a statement in which he desires to make public the fact that he is not the "Fred Jenkins" who was arrested recently at Yellow Creek on a liquor charge by Jefferson county prohibition agents. The "Fred Jenkins" name, it was pointed out, was a fictitious cognomen given by the prisoner to his captors, but which has proved inconvenient for the real Jenkins.

East Liverpool-Pittsburgh Road

The campaign of the Chamber of Commerce and other good road boosters here for the completion of the East Liverpool-Pittsburgh link of the Lincoln Highway is making progress.

Acting upon request of East Liverpool and Chester boosters, Pittsburgh manufacturers and merchants went to Harrisburg, Pa., Monday, to urge upon the legislature the merits of the Harris bill for making an improved road between Imperial, Pa., and Chester and East Liverpool. This stretch of thirteen miles is said to be the only unimproved section of the trans-continental road between New York and Omaha.

Emphasizing the importance of the movement, the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph, editorially, says:

"The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce has long urged that the state take this enterprise in hand. Elimination of this bad spot would be a boon not only to tourists, but to motorists traveling on business between Pittsburgh and this prosperous section of West Virginia and Ohio. Those states have done their share. Pennsylvania should see to it that the Lincoln Highway within its borders is not marred by this comparatively short stretch of road that is a relic of pre-automobile days.

"It is announced that construction of more than fifty miles of state highways in Western Pennsylvania will be started within the next two weeks, the cost to be met by the bond issue. This Lincoln Highway improvement would be a sound investment, benefiting not only Pittsburgh, but a wide stretch of surrounding territory. Prompt action by the legislature is necessary if it is not to be postponed for two years more. The arguments presented by representative Pittsburghers should convince the committee of the advisability of making a favorable recommendation."

And all this indicates that East Liverpool and Chester good road boosters are permitting no grass to grow under their feet in their determination to open the arteries of transportation for the benefit of Eastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Opera For the World

"I'll tell the world" ceases to be slang and takes on the dignity of a symbolic slogan,, as radio extends its triumphs. Broadcasters are telling the world all kinds of things, with a persistency and range that admit no opposition. The time is already here when one man in one spot may speak, or one singer may sing, to an audience covering this continent and reaching across the neighboring oceans. But no speaker or singer so far has appealed directly and consciously to all the world.

Germany will set a precedent in this respect on Good Friday. Under the baton of Max von Schillings, director general of the state opera, Wagner's "Parsifal" is to be "transmitted to the world." It will be broadcast from the station at Koenigswusterhausen, starting at 3 p. m. European time, which is 9 a. m. New York time. It is expected that direct reception will cover a range of several thousand miles, and the opera will be rebroadcast by many distant sending stations, so that, with good air conditions, it may be heard literally in all quarters of the world.

This is a worthy experiment of a sort that may become common within a few years. "Parsifal" is often criticised as long, heavy and tedious; but it has wonderful music in it, and as appropriate to the occasion.

Opera, too, carries well by radio, as spoken drama seldom does, and has a steadily growing appeal among radio fans.

Free Fashions

From Paris, traditional dictator of styles, comes word that women are appropriating men's dinner suits for evening wear. The costs are the same, likewise the white collar and black tie. There is, indeed, a sort of skirt, but so plain, straight and tight that it looks not unlike trousers.

There is continual danger, observers say, of women being mistaken for men at evening functions in this costume, with embarrassing complications.

There is an artistic row over it, too. "Sacrilege!" cries the famous French actress, Mme. Sorel. "For heaven's sake, don't take anything more from woman's womanliness. Leave men the ugliest thing they possess—their dress!"

And must America succumb to this dreadful fate? Possibly not. There is hope in a recent dispatch from Chicago, reporting a session of the Fashion Art League of America. "Feminine fashions," it says, "are returning to the feminine, and the era of masculine dominance, boyish bobs, sternly tailored suits, mannish silhouettes and straight lines is about to close."

Moreover, remarks an observant young lady not associated with any particular style movement, "there are no rigid fashions any more in this country. American women are free to wear about anything they please between the neck and the ankles." Which is as it should be.

Norway and Sweden are sore because they haven't had any winter at all. They should be philosophical about such matters, like Florida and California.

The Scotch are said to be changing from the bagpipe to the saxophone, so we might as well change the other way. Either one is better than the other.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

ON THE ATLANTIC, April 8.—This evening I watched the Olympic ride gallantly through a squall. The sun was out but ahead were low, lowering clouds. We ploughed into the dark through the curtain of slashing rain. Mountainous waves crashed and the wind shrieked. One wave 70 feet high hit the bridge.

In 30 minutes we were in the sunshine again. Then the sun began to vanish leaving the vague violet of the sea and the pansy dusk of the sky. Suddenly the west went black and stars blazed out against the velvet plush of night. No wonder a seaman never tires of the sea.

I have been doing considerable reading aboard ship. Among the books I found interesting were "Stacey," "Thomas the Lambkin," "Gold," "Beggars of Life" and Gamaliel Bradford's "Samuel Pepys." I commend them all. Ialso read "White Light Nights" for the second time and found it awful.

On the voyage from Europe, owing to the alteration in time as the ship proceeds westward, it is necessary to put watches back every 24 hours from 35 to 45 minutes. As I have a new watch I fear to tinker with it and never know the time. I see no reason for knowing time on a ship anyway.

It is somewhat like the old yarn of the negro in jail calling out to another negro on the street: "What time is it?" the pedestrian replied: "What difference does it make? You ain't goin' anywhere."

The leading news in the daily giggle or Ocean Times today was from Constinople. It read: "The Angoria Assembly has approved of martial law in Kurdistan." Still each passenger welcomes its daily visit. There is much good material in it reprinted from exchanges.

I notice in it an advertisement of the Restaurant Marquery in Paris which has a line reading: "A Feature: A visit to the cellar." That is also a feature of almost any visit to a home in America.

Ship stewards apear to have names different from the average man. Among those I recall in crossing are Skilling. Tweedie, Light, Mussie, Clout, Pedy and Waser.

In every ship smoking room one finds those tweedy looking habitual voyagers. They generally have mighty cigars in their mouths and magnums of champagne in ice pails beside them. They are maniacs of motion—never content to be in one spot for long. They seek no casual acquaintance. I sat next to one who was reading the Echo de Paris. A steward evidently knew him from other crossings and they talked. As he told of his travels, the world shrank to the size of a thin dime. Since last they met he had been to islands in the Southern Pacific, New Zealand, Central Asia and Thibet. He was on his way to New York. Two days there and then to San Francisco to embark for Japan. He was of enormous build and heavily bronzed and drank glass after glass of champagne with fargantuan gulps.

Then, too, there is usually one of those amiable old gentlemen on every ship who seems to take a philanthropic interest in the ship's management. He brags about the meals and the steadiness of the ship. He is always drawing people into the friendly circle in which he happens to be. The one on this ship is really a good sort yet it is a strange world and I think most of the passengers look upon him as a trifle ridiculous and wish he were not so affable. I even find myself avoiding him.

A Scotsman parades the deck in kilts and other regalia. His knees are bare but I notice he wears spats. That is perhaps Scotch thrift for spats do save the wear and tear on shoe laces.

LEMON JUICE WHITENS SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Great Medical Center.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—One of the last things which congress did before adjourning was to authorize the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the construction of permanent buildings at Walter Reed hospital to replace the temporary buildings of Washington's famous army hospital.

These temporary buildings have long been recognized as fire traps, and as one officer put it, "It is only because of constant vigilance and care that there has not been a terrible catastrophe." For several years efforts have been made to impress upon congress the great need of such an appropriation. Now when the money is actually appropriated in December, work may be commenced on this very important project.

From time to time there has been so much criticism of the hospitals in which veterans are being taken care of that it seems strange that there should have been any opposition to the idea that the temporary buildings at Walter Reed should be replaced by modern, fireproof ones. But the congressional hearings disclosed such opposition. One of the arguments used against putting up permanent buildings was that if this were done it would be impossible ever to cut through the grounds certain streets which some groups of citizens are interested in seeing continued.

From a realtor's point of view the extension of certain streets through the hospital grounds would be extremely advantageous, but on the other hand the hospital authorities maintain that such procedure is not only illogical but unnecessary. The automobiles constantly going up and down these streets would be a menace to those patients who were able to wander around the grounds. The noise of such traffic would be a great annoyance to very ill or nervous patients, and exceedingly detrimental to their welfare.

The plans for Walter Reed hospital are very ambitious and it is hoped that eventually it will be the greatest center of its sort in the world. At the present time the Army Medical School, the Army Dental School, the Army School of Nursing and the Army Veterinary School are located there.

To Add Museum and Library.

Eventually it is hoped to move to this reservation the Army Medical Museum and the Army Medical Library. In view of all these things the army medical authorities feel that the hospital grounds should be kept free from public highways, as is the case with the grounds of the Soldier's Home. Congress enacted legislation which provides that no streets shall ever be cut through this reservation.

In addition to the money which congress is going to appropriate to Walter Reed hospital for the construction of permanent buildings, the Veterans' Bureau is going to use $900,000 of its appropriation for the building of the new west wing. This is to consist entirely of wards. It is deemed proper that the bureau should use the money in this way in view of the fact that the hospital reserves 500 beds for bureau patients, out of an approximate total of one thousand. These are filled almost all the time.

There is no discrimination between the bureau's patients and those who are actually connected with the service. If anything, the bureau's patients have a little the better of it in that they do not come under quite so strict discipline as those still in service. And for the most part they seem satisfied with the treatment accorded them.

The main building is largely used for very ill patients, or those who must undergo operations. This is because the facilities for giving prompt and special attention to patients are greater and more centralized in this building. Also this building is more quiet. The fact that a patient is from the Veterans' Bureau, from the rank and file, an officer's wife, or an officer himself, has nothing to do with his being given a bed in this main building. The only thing that determines that he should be housed here is the seriousness of his condition. When his condition permits he is moved to a ward in one of the temporary buildings in order that some other urgent case may take his place.

Since most of the staff of the hospital live within the grounds, or very close by, it is possible to get quick service in an emergency at any time. There are on duty at the hospital at all times a certain number of doctors. If it was found at 2 o'clock in the

This accounts for the astounding growth and demand for this dependable medicine from all over the United States and from many foreign countries as well.

Easter MILLINERY

Whatever Else is to Engage Milady's Attention for the Next Few Days, She Is Not to Forget that Easter is Only Four Days Away and that the New Chapeau Must Be in Readiness for That Eventful Morning.

Beginning Tomorrow,--a Special Presentation of Easter Millinery

$2.75 - $5.00 - $12.00

"In-between" groups, too, of course, and certainly, within this price range is comprised a showing that worthily reflects the broadness and versatility of "Moyer Brothers" millinery service. For in this delightful assemblage, every new and authoritative version of the mode is presented. Hats such as will distinguish Fifth Avenue's Easter fashion parades—hats such as Paris herself, will favor with her gracious approval upon that festival occasion when all the world of fashion puts on its new spring clothes.

Truly a season of a whimsical mood and one that offers that delightful freedom of expression so dear to those women of fashion who seek to express something of their personality and individual tastes in their apparel. And because it is a season of a versatile mode— we have gathered lavishly, but critically—and always with the assurance of long experience and that indefinable "style sense" that is ever apparent in "Fashion" millinery exhibits. Mere platitudes to list all the fashionable materials or to enumerate all the beautiful new Spring shades — the completeness of their representation is a matter of course.

MOTHER TELLS STORY OF ALLEGED ATTACK UPON MADGE OBERHOLTZER

By SONIA LEE.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—The story of Madge Oberholtzer, alleged victim of a man's desire, was told here today at the bedside where the unconscious girl is dying from slow poison which has been seeping through her veins since she sought death as a way out in Hammond Ind., 23 days ago.

It was told by a mother who watches and waits, hoping against hope, for the daughter whose doom she has heard from the lips of attending physicians—physicians who have said:

"She cannot live."

The mother, Mathilda Jane Oberholtzer, sketches the details of her daughter's leaving home — how she went to attend a "party" at the home of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan leader and political power in Indiana, who is under indictment for the alleged attack on the girl. And she interrupts her tale, which grows bitter at times, to lay a cool hand on the feverish brow of the girl.

Called on Telephone.

"It was on a Sunday," the mother says. "Madge went to Stephenson's about 9 o'clock after he had called her on the telephone twice during the day and had left a number when he failed to find her in."

The girl failed to return and the mother became anxious. She had never stayed away before. The father was ill and the mother feared to share her worries and anxieties. She called Asa Smith, a young atorney, who tried to calm her and finally came a telegram from Hammond:

"Driving through to Chicago. Be home on night train—Madge," it read.

But Madge was not on the night train. She was away all that night while the mother made frantic efforts to locate her and the next day, a strange man brought her back, unconscious, while the mother was out, mumbled something about "an accident at Muncie" and left.

Trapped, Mother Claims.

Since then the girl has had but a few moments of consciousness, according to the mother. She has been able to tell brokenly of the terrible happenings of those days when she was absent.

"Mother, mother, dearie," comes faintly from the bed.

"My daughter told me," she begins again, "before she became unconscious eleven days ago, that just as soon as she got to Stephenson's she knew she was trapped. She said that she had something to drink and then—I'm not quite clear here—but they were going to take her to Chicago. She thought they were driving through and she pleaded to go home for a hat as an excuse. But they took her right along. When they got to town, they bundled her into a compartment, and shortly took the car, presumably to drive through.

"See," the woman pulls back the girl's nightgown, displays the three bruises. "She was a mass of black and blue spots when she was first brought back."

Bought Poison, Took It.

"When they got to Hammond they went to a hotel. There were two rooms, and 'Shorty' met them with the car later on. There was more drinking, she told me. Stephenson stood over her while she wrote out the telegram I received, and it was then sent to the telegraph office by messenger. One of the men gave her some money to buy a hat, and she went out and bought the poison and she took it when she came back to the hotel.

"They laughed at her when she said she had taken poison. They tried to make her say that she had not. But then she got sick and she went to the telephone to call me, but she was so weak she couldn't stand up.

"If she had only let me know. Nothing would have stood in my way and she would have received medical attention immediately. She has so little chance now—even after the blood Marshall, her brother, has given her. I wanted to offer mine—but his was better.

Lost Much Blood

"When she became sick they started back. She begged them to leave her by the side of the road so that some one would pick her up and take her to a doctor. She was burning up. But they promised to stop at the next town—and the next—and the next. But they never stopped and she was losing so much blood, and suffering tortures. Someone suggested that the best way out was for Stephenson to marry her, but she refused.

"My girl was in that car when I was at Stephenson's door looking for her. She couldn't cry. She begged them to take her home. She couldn't move, she was so weak. And there she lay, helpless, and I was only such a little way from her.

"From now on, as I understand it, she remembers butl ittle. She said that she was taken to the garage, to the servant quarters. She may have been unconscious — she may have slept. But the next thing she knows she was being carried upstairs and put to bed—in her own room."

She holds her child's hands in both her own. The girl mutters through straight rows of white teeth. She draws back her slightly pink lips.

Calls for Mother.

"Mother, mother, dearie, mother dearie," become blurred in the rapidity of repetition. She calls for Marshall and then her mother again. Her heavy fringed lids flutter, and tears squeeze out. Her curved black brows draw straight, as she seems to remember with dulling monotony some experience.

"She had told me that she had met him at the governor's ball," the mother recollects. She had gone with another young man, but she danced with Stephenson. Another time she went to a party at his house with a friend of his—a senator from Evansville. I didn't know she was seeing him. I don't know how frequently she saw him—if at all. But if I could lay my hands on him, I would kill him like the beast he is."

In the meanwhile, Stephenson answers the charges with the countercharge of frame-up on the part of his enemies in the Klan. He claims that this is merely another desperate effort to eliminate him from Indiana politics and Klan affairs.

But "finis" to the idle chatter is written by Dr. Kingsbury, the attending physician, with the statement:

"The girl cannot live. If she should, it would upset all medical precedent. The waste content of her blood is more than six times that of normal. There has been no change in her condition in the last few days, but she will not live."

Edgarie Bloor

later a bullet whizzed through the side curtain of the automobile between the heads of two occupants and passed through the windshield.

Bloor told Mayor Brown that he had fired at the road and that the bullet richocheted through the side of the car. The two Russell boys, unaware that it was a police officer who had attempted to stop them, reported the affair to Police Captain Conley. It was not until later in the evening that it was learned it was Bloor who had fired the shot.

Mackall Makes Denial.

Mrs. Russell stated this morning that yesterday she learned that Bloor was preparing to file charges of fast and reckless driving against her son. She went to the office of Justice P. V. Mackall yesterday afternoon and filed charges against Bloor.

Justice Mackall, this morning, denied that charges had been filed against Bloor, asserting that the matter had been "settled out of court." He further declared that Bloor had not been arrested but admitted that he had been in his office to arrange a settlement with Mrs. Russell.

Mackall's clerk at 11:40 o'clock this morning reluctantly admitted no record of the case against Bloor had been made in the court docket. She declined to discuss the case further, referring newspapermen to the justice who had left the office for his home.

Bloor's bond, which is reported to have been furnished last evening before a settlement was made, was signed by William Cline, turnkey at the city jail.

Two Persons Killed, Another Injured in Trolley-auto Crash

NEWARK, O., April 8.—Lewis Martin, wealthy stock farmer living near Luray, and his daughter, Hazel, teacher in the Kirkersville schools, were instantly killed, and Miss Dora Compton, adopted daughter of Martin, was probably fatally injured about 8 o'clock this morning when their auto stalled on the interurban track at Livingston crossing and was struck by train No. 7 of the C. N. and Z. Traction company.

The auto was practically demolished and the interurban car so badly damaged that it was put out of commission and placed on a side track.

SEAMAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Kitchen of Astoria, N. Y., Flat Turned into Death Chamber.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The kitchen of a neatly furnished flat in Astoria, N. Y., was turned into a death chamber today when Joseph Reichel, 28, shot and killed his wife, May, 30, and then pressed the still smoking muzzle of the gun against his temple and ended his own life.

Reichel was a seaman. He had been drinking, Alfred Kneib, 26, his best friend, told police.

Kneib, a boarder in the Reichel home, related to the authorities the circumstances of the killing. Kneib denied he was the cause of the family dissension.

in sentiment which is said to have occurred in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Toledo and other large centers.

"The Republican majority voted in favor of the gas tax," said Emmons. "In view of this decision I could not vote any other way but to override the veto when this measure comes up."

Straw votes in Cleveland show a majority of 54 to 1 and in Youngstown 40 to 1 against the proposed gas tax. Representatives of the Ohio State Automobile Association have threatened to call a referendum on the measure should the necessary three-fourths majority, required to pass the measure over the executive's veto, be mustered in the legislature.

Guilford Bill Get O. K.

"I don't believe there is a shadow of doubt as to what the governor's action will be on the Guilford park bill," Emmons declared. "He must either sign, veto or allow the measure to become a law without his signature today. In view of the promises which he has made I have every reason to believe that the measure will become a law."

The bill carries with it an appropriation of $32,500 with which to purchase the ground. Another appropriation sets aside $15,300 to close the gap in the dam and make other improvements. The measure will become a law 90 days after it is signed.

The legislature is not expected to remain in session for more than two or three days after it reconvenes to re-enact measures vetoed by the governor. The threatened fight over the passage of the Bible measure may tie up proceedings for a few days.

Emmons will leave for Columbus on Wednesday, April 15.

APPEALS COURT MAKES RULINGS

Opinions are Handed Down in Five Cases at Lisbon.

The court of appeals, sitting in Lisbon, today handed down five opinions out of 13 cases assigned for arguments.

The case of Willis O. Hall against C. C. Ashbaugh and others, of East Liverpool, having to do with the disposition of the war chest fund, was not argued, although it was assigned. A commissioner has been appointed to hear evidence in the action.

The two cases of John Donohue, of Wellsville, against the state of Ohio, which were carried up on error from common pleas court, were dismissed on account of a bill of exceptions not being signed with the 10-day limit as described by law.

In the case of Elizabeth Hekinson against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and others, which had been carried to the court of appeals on error from common pleas, the court held there was no change in the beneficiary and the case was remanded to common pleas court.

In the action of William Davidson and others against the city of Wellsville, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, although in some respects modified. The court held that the property owner was liable for loss sustained by the city of Wellsville. Davidson sued the city for damages as a result of injuries suffered by his wife when she fell over a stone on the pavement, and the judgment against the city was rendered. Property owner is now held for the damages the municipality sustained.

In the case of Lodge Thorn, an infant, against the McLean Fire Brick Co., the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

Judge Roberts announced the case of the Banner Machine Co., against the Columbiana Boiler Co. would be considered when the court convenes in Carrollton next week. Both of these concerns are in Columbiana.

B. F. Carson against Thomas Cadwallader.

A decision of importance to municipalities which operate their own water works system was handed down by the court in the case of James E. Evans, as administrator, against the city of Salem. This was a test case and had to do with many actions now in court as the result of the typhoid fever epidemic in Salem several years ago, following which a number of damage actions were filed against the municipality. The question before the court of appeals had to do with the demurrer to the petition. This was reversed and the petition against the city is held valid. This opinion was handed down by Judge John Pollock.

Massachusetts—Two thousand acres of timber burned in Marlborough and a hundred homes menaced. Eight hundred acres burned over in the Prospect Hill district of Whitinsville. Seventy-five thousand pine trees destroyed by fire in South Bridge. Scores of autoists had narrow escapes in fleeing from the onrushing flames. Many daring rescues were recorded during the night.

In the Rocky hill section of West Warwick, R. I., a woman was trapped in her home by fires on all sides. A volunteer fireman in an automobile rode through the wall of flames and rescued her from certain death.

ALTOONA, Pa., April 8.—With the worst forest fire of the season under control after burning over more than 1,000 acres of brush and timber land in the vicinity of Wopsononock, north of here, a second forest fire is raging on Lock Mountain, south of this city.

WHAT EASTER PARADE COSTS

Mr. and Mrs. New Yorkers Will Spend $300.

NEW YORK, April 8.—It will cost Mr. and Mrs. New Yorkers $300 to walk down Fifth avenue in the Easter parade next Sunday. Mrs. New Yorker will account for $200 of this sum, a ratio justified by the color she will provide in the annual fashion pilgrimage.

This estimate for the average man and woman who would follow "the dictates of fashion" was compiled from a survey of wholesale and retail establishments catering to the Easter fashion demand.

Estimated Easter wardrobe budget for Mrs. New Yorker:

Ensemble (light shades predominating), $125.

Hat (either straw or silk to match ensemble), $20.

Shoes (black or in satin or kid to blend with ensemble), $13.

Hosiery (very sheer silk in light colors or matching shoes), $3.50.

Gloves (kid or suede to match shoes and hat), $5.00.

Scarf (of gay color to match suit or hat), $8.50.

Handbag (plain silk, color of shoes or fancy beaded), $15.00.

Corsage (most important, orchids generally popular), $10.00.

Total, $200.00.

Mr. New Yorker estimated Easter dress tax:

Sack suit (preferably in gray), $60.00.

Hat (pearl gray most popular), $8.00.

Shoes (tan or black), $11.00.

White shirt (with feld collar), $4.75.

Gloves (gray suede), $5.00.

Cane (malaca, with narrow band of silver), $10.00.

Total, $160.00.

Skirts will be very short, coming barely to below the knees.

The trend in millinery is toward the picturesque type of hat with more trimming than heretofore, including ribbons, feathers and flowers.

Transparent straw and Bankoks are in demand.

Scarves of all colors will be worn swung around the neck with a loose end flowing in the breeze.

The day of the Easter frock coat and high hat is passing, say Fifth avenue haberdashers. For those men who would preserve red blooded formality in their Easter perambulating and oxford gray sack coat is offered with vest of worsted material and trousers a trifle lighter in shade than the coat. Gray suede gloves out of the black derby, shoes and socks completes this new "formal" outfit.

Light gray double breasted suits with wide trousers are most in demand for the Easter season. The style is toward broad shoulders with fitted hips to coat. Men's stores also are selling a number of three button, double breasted blue suits.

DR. J. O. CAMPBELL KIWANIS SPEAKER

Dr. James O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the noon-day luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday.

Russell C. Heddleston, chairman of the program committee, announced today that Congressman C. Ellis Moore, of Cambridge, will be the speaker at next week's luncheon. Congressman Moore, who represents the Fifteenth Ohio district, was to have visited this city about three months ago, but was unable to leave Washington while congress was in session.

DEATH ROLL

J. Wilson.

J. Wilson, employed by the McLain Fire Brick company at Salsbury, died this morning in the City hospital following a brief illness of complications.

The body was removed to the Haugh funeral home in Wellsville, and later will be taken to Logan, O. Mr. Wilson was not married.

A Tough Situation

"My wife and four children were dependent on me for their living. My stomach and liver trouble of five years had made me despondent, as no medicine seemed to help me, and I was gradually wasting away. My cousin in Columbus wrote me about having taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and advised me to try it. I am now feeling better than for fifteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

JAPS WILL TRY TRIP TO PARIS VIA SIBERIA

Two Flying Craft Will Attempt Journey in 13 Days.

OUTLINE PLANS

Private Enterprise, But Gets Unofficial Support.

TOKIO—Japanese planes will blaze a new air route between Europe and the Orient this spring when two flying craft will attempt the journey from Tokio to Paris, via Siberia.

The flight is to be sponsored by the Tokio Asahi Shimbun, and its sister newspaper, the Osaka Asahi Shimbun, and will represent Japan's first attempt at trans-continental flying.

Although ostensibly a private enterprise, the flight will receive considerable unofficial support from the Japanese authorities. Experts of the Japanese naval and military air services are co-operating and advising as to routes, equipment and other details of the flight.

The expense of the venture, however, is to be borne entirely by the Asahi Shimbun, which has been active in promoting the interests of aviation in Japan for more than 15 years. It is expected that the total cost of the flight will be approximately $200,000.

Start May 1.

According to present plans, the two planes will leave Tokio on May 1. If they are able to follow the schedule now outlined they will arrive in Paris on May 14 or 15. The distance to be covered is approximately 12,118 kilometres, and the estimated flying time is 61 hours and 25 minutes.

The schedule of the flight, as now arranged, calls for a first-day flight from Tokio to Osaka, in southern Japan. From Osaka, on the second day, the planes will "hop to Seoul, Korea. On the third day a flight from Seoul to Harbin will be made; the fourth day from Harbin to Chita; the fifth day from Chita to Irkutsk; the sixth day from Irkutsk to Krasnoyarsk; the seventh from Krasnoyarsk to Omsk; the eighth from Omsk to Cheliabinsk; the ninth from Cheliabinsk to Samara and the tenth from Samara to Moscow.

On the eleventh day the pilots will rest at Moscow, and the day following they will undertake the longest hop of the journey, going from Moscow to Warsaw, a distance of 1,260 kilometres. The flight from Warsaw to Prague is scheduled for the thirteenth day, and the final hop, from Prague to Paris, for the fourteenth.

It is probable that a flight from Paris to London also will be made, but this will be more in the nature of a sight-seeing jaunt and is not to be regarded as an integral part of the official flight.

Two Planes.

The two planes to be used in the journey will be a Breguet and a Dorraine, each of 400 horsepower and capable of flying 10 hours without a stop. The pilots have not been selected, but each plane will carry three men—a pilot, a mechanician and a reporter from the Asahi staff.

One of the objects of the flight is to determine the practicability of the trans-Siberian route as an aerial highway between Europe and Japan.

Signing of the recent treaty between Japan and Russia, bringing these two nations into closer relationship, has revived interest here in the future of transportation and communication with Europe across the vast expanse of Asiatic Russia.

Garlic Halts Strike.

WOODSFIELD, April.—Garlic is credited with breaking the hunger strike of Mike Sedrick while in the Monroe county jail, charged, for the third time, with violating prohibition laws. For a week after his third arrest, Sedrick did not eat. Then friends brought garlic—the raw bulbs of the plant and some cooked in sausages—together with chese, pickles and other "delicacies," which, it was known, Mike liked. The aroma of the garlic caused Mike to capitulate and soon he was disposing of the foodstuffs as fast as a big-city editor disposes of country correspondence.

Wellesley Girls Prefer Pajamas; "Nighties" Taboo

From the prosaic confines of a laundry which caters almost exclusively to Wellesley College students comes the information that the old fashioned, yet highly respected nightie" has fallen into disfavor among college girls.

Here's the word of the laundry proprietor: "Only six nightgowns appeared in this week's wash from Wellesley. That's from a total of 300 customers. Filmsy pajamas are in vogue all right. I can remember ten or fifteen years back—that was before the bob, or teddies, or step-ins—when we used to get 200 nightgowns a week.

Gray Haired People
Need Only this Clean, Colorless Liquid

Youthful Looks Quickly Return

Letters like the following tell what the clean, colorless liquid, known as Kolor-Bak, is doing for gray haired men and women.

"Only a short time ago my hair was quite gray and becoming grayer. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared.

"Only a few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out. Most wonderful of all, however, is that my hair is again its original shade. I look ten years younger."

Kolor-Bak is the most satisfactory substitute for the natural hair pigmentation. With its use, the hair not only takes on its former shade; it acquires a beautiful lustre and softness. Kolor-Bak also removes dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and keeps the hair from falling out.

If you are gray, ask for a bottle of Kolor-Bak. No sample of hair required—no tests to make—as this clean, colorless liquid is effective on any gray hair. Your money returned instantly if not satisfactory.

TESTS LISTED FOR CHILDREN

Examinations Scheduled Under Mother's Pension Enactment.

Those women who receive mothers' pension from the county, will have their children examined by Dr. T. T. Church, county health commissioner, within the next fortnight.

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, who has charge of this work because of the Juvenile court work being under his direction has sent notices to all those receiving pensions when and where to take their children to undergo this physical examination.

The first examination will be held in Lisbon next Monday. Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock there will be an examination conducted in the rooms of the East Liverpool Red Cross, and Thursday of next week there will be an examination of those children in the Salem district. This examination will be held in the Memorial Hall, commencing at 10 o'clock in the morning Friday of next week several examinations of subjects will be conducted at West Point and also another examination at East Liverpool on the same day. In the afternoon the examination will be transferred to Wellsville, the work being done in the Wellsville city building beginning at 1 o'clock.

On April 22 at 9 o'clock there will be an examination conducted in the mayor's office at Leetonia, and at 10 o'clock the same morning the work will be transferred to Columbiana, in the office of Justice of the Peace Weaver.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon of April 22 an examination will be conducted in the office of Mayor A. W. Farren at East Palestine.

Two cards will be used in recording the record of each child examination, one will disclose the record of the child in school, and the other will record the results of the physical examination, the latter card having to do with the examination of the ears, eyes, nose, teeth, throat, lungs, heart, mentality, muscular development, nervous system and also suggestions of the examiner.

"We believe that so much good has been accomplished that we desire to continue the practice of having a physical examination of the children whose mothers are receiving a mother's pension, in order that the court and the officials may be of assistance where medical treatment or surgical operation would be helpful," Jugde Lodge Riddle declared.

"The order making the allowance to mothers is only effective for a six months period at which time the court may extend the allowance for another period of six months or less."

Within an hour, the water-casks at least replenished and stowed aboard, the Arabella and the Elizabeth put to sea upon that angry chase.

"What now, Peter?" cried the young Jeremy Pitt. "Lord, man what is there here to fret you? Surely 'tisn't the thought of Rivarol?"

"No," said Blood thickly. And for once he was communicative. It may well be that he must vent the thing that oppressed him or be driven mad by it. And Pitt, after all, was his friend and loved him, and, so, a proper man for confidences. "But if she knew! If she knew! Oh God! I had thought to have done with piracy; thought to have done with it for ever. Yet here have I been committed by this scoundrel to the worst piracy that ever I was guilty of. Think of Cartagena! Think of the hell those devils will be making of it now! And I must have that on my soul!"

Setting a course for Hispaniola, since they judged that thither must Rivarol go to refit before attempting to cross to France, the Arabella and the Elizabeth ploughed briskly northward with a moderately favourable wind for two days and nights without ever catching a glimpse of their quarry. The third dawn brought with it a haze which circumscribed their range of vision to something between two and three miles, and deepened their growing vexation and their apprehension that M. de Rivarol might escape them altogether.

They had Jamaica on their larboard beam some thirty miles to westward, and, indeed, away to the northwest, faintly visible as a bank of clouds, appeared the great ridge of the Blue Mountains whose peaks were thrust into the clear upper air above the low-lying haze. The wind was westerly, and it bore to their ears a booming sound which in less experienced ears might have passed for the breaking of surf upon a lee shore.

"Guns!" said Pitt, who stood with Blood upon the quarter-deck. Blood nodded, listening.

"Ten miles away, perhaps, fifteen—somewhere off Port Royal, I should judge," Pitt added. Then he looked at his captain. "Does it concern us?" he asked.

"Guns off Port Royal . . . that should argue Colonel Bishop at work. I think it may concern us. Anyway, we'll stand in to investigate."

Close-hauled they tacked aweather, guided by the sound of combat, for an hour, perhaps. Then, as, telescope to his eye, Blood raked the haze, the guns abruptly ceased. They held to their course, nevertheless, with all hands on deck, eagerly, anxiously scanning the sea ahead. And presently an object loomed into view, which soon defined itself for a great ship on fire. As the Arabella with the Elizabeth following closely raced nearer on their northwesterly tack, the outlines of the blazing vessel grew clearer.

"An English ship!" he cried.

He scanned the seas for the conqueror in the battle of which this grim evidence was added to that of the sounds they had heard, and then at last, as they drew closer to the doomed vessel, they made out the shadowy outlines of three tall ships, some three or four miles away, standing in toward Port Royal. Pitt, who through the telescope was examining the receding squadron, observed things apparent only to the eye of the trained mariner, and made the incredible announcement that the largest of these three vessels was Rivarol's Victorieuse. They took in sail and hove to as they came up with the drifting boats, laden to capacity with survivors.

CHAPTER XXVI

THE SERVICE OF KING WILLIAM

One of the boats bumped alongside the Arabella, and up the entrance ladder came first a slight, spruce little gentleman in a coat of mulberry satin laced with gold, whose wizened, yellow, rather peevish face was framed in a heavy black periwig. His modish and costly apparel had nowise suffered by the adventure through which he had passed, and he carried himself with the easy assurance of a man of rank. He was closely followed by one who in every particular, save that of age, was the physical opposite, corpulent in a brawny, vigorous way, with a full, round, weather-beaten face whose mouth was humorous and whose eyes were blue and twinkling.

As the little man stepped from the ladder into the waist, whither Captain Blood had gone to receive him, his sharp, ferrety dark eyes swept the uncouth ranks of the assembled crew of the Arabella.

"And where the devil may I be now?" he demanded irritably. "Are you English, or what the devil are you?"

"Myself, I have the honour to be Irish, sir. My name is Blood—Captain Peter Blood, and this is my ship the Arabella, all very much at your service."

"Blood!" shrilled the little man. "O 'Sblood! A pirate!" He swung to the Colossus who followed him—"A damned pirate, van der Kuylen. Read my vitals, but we're come from Scylla to Charybdis."

"So?" said the other gutturally, and again, "So?" Then the humour of it took him, and he yelded to it.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you porpoise?" spluttered mulbery-coat. "A fine tale this'll make at home! Admiral van der Kuylen first loses his fleet in the night, then has his flagship fired under him by a French squadron, and ends all by being captured by a pirate. I'm glad you find it matter for laughter. Since for my sins I happen to be with you, I'm damned if I do."

"There's a misapprehension, if I may make so bold as to point it out," put in Blood quietly. "You are not captured, gentlemen; you are rescued. When you realize it, perhaps it will occur to you to acknowledge the hospitality I am offering you. It may be poor, but it is the best at my disposal."

"Damme! Do you permit yourself to be ironical?" he disapproved him. "I am Lord Willoughby, King William's Governor-General of the West Indies, and this is Admiral van der Kuylen, commander of His Majesty's West Indian fleet, at present mislaid somewhere in this damned Caribbean Sea."

"King William?" quoth Blood. "And who may be King William, and of what may he be King?"

"I am alluding to His Majesty King William III—William of Orange—who, with Queen Mary, has been ruling England for two months and more."

"D'ye mean, sir, that they've roused themselves at home, and kicked out that scoundrel James and his gang of ruffians?"

"'Slife! Hadn't you heard? Where the devil have you been at all?"

Briefly he gave an account. After that, with renewed assurances that aboard his ship they should be honourably entreated, Captain Blood led the Governor-General and the Admiral to his cabin, what time the work of rescue went on.

"Go home, if you will," said his lordship when comfortable. "Here is a great chance for you, since you declare yourself sick of piracy. Should you choose to serve King William out here during this war, your knowledge of the West Indies should render you a very valuable servant to His Majesty's Government, which you would not find ungrateful. You should consider it. Damme, sir, I repeat: it is a great chance you are given."

Pitt came in to report that the work of rescue was at an end, and the men picked up—some forty-five in all—safe aboard the two buccaneer ships. He asked for orders. Blood rose.

"I am negligent of your lordship's concerns in my consideration of my own. You'll be wishing me to land you at Port Royal."

"At Port Royal?" The little man squirmed wrathfully on his seat. Wrathfully and at length he informed Blood that they had put into Port Royal last evening to find its Deputy-Governor absent. "He had gone on some wildgoose chase to Tortuga after buccaneers, taking the whole of the fleet with him."

"Is Rivarol aware of this?" Blood cried sharply.

It was the Dutch Admiral who answered him. "Would he go there if he were not? M. de Rivarol he take some of our men prisoners. Berhaps dey tell him. Berhaps he make dem tell. Id is a great embordunidy."

SENATE DEFEATS CHILD LABOR ACT

The state senate yesterday voiced its unwillingness to ratify the proposed child labor amendment, both by speeches and by decisive vote, while the house of delegates devoted its energies to reducing the size of its calendar and brushed five bills out of the way by adopting motions to indefinitely postpone them.

The senate vote of four for ratification and 22 against ratification of the child labor amendment was cast on a straight resolution that the bill be ratified, as introduced by Senator Henshaw, who then voted against it.

An effort was made to substitute for this resolution the one which the house of delegates had adopted last week and which set forth the state's faith in its own child labor laws and declared the will of the legislature that the amendment to the federal constitution be not ratified. This proposal was understood to contain the ideas expressed by Governor Gore in a conference last week with Republican senators, and its substitution for the Henshaw resolution was proposed by majority Leader Wright Hugus. Senators Highland Jackson and White however, voted with the Democrats against the substitution which was lost, 16 to 10.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING TONIGHT

Annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held at 7:30 this evening in the church. Reports will be read by the treasurer, and officers of the Sunday school, Mission and other organizations.

Two elders and three trustees will be elected to succeed F. Lee Freshwater, S. M. Newell, Luther Allison, H. C. Baxter and J. A. Stephenson.

Number of other important matters will be discussed.

SPECIAL MEETS CONTINUE HERE

Revival meetings in the First Christian church are growing in interest and enthusiasm and being largely attended. During the first days of the services 1712 chapters of the Bible were reported read. Bautismal services will be held this evening at the close of the services. This will also be observed as "Potter's night."

Rev. A. E. Sims, who is preaching the sermons will have as his subject this evening, "The Man Who Always Went Forward." Tomorrow evening the theme will be: "Can a Man Be Saved Outside of the Church?" Last evening a delegation from the Pennsylvania Avenue Church of Christ attended the services.

HOW TO EASILY LOSE FAT

Paris Sends Us Simple Formula to Get Thin

Prominent American Specialists, Doctors and Former Health Commissioner Exclusively Recommends New French Discovery to FAT PEOPLE.

Without injuring your health or having to diet or exercise, you can to-day easily take off 5 to 6 pounds a week with a French prescription conveniently put up in a small tablet called SAN-GRI-NA. Since SAN-GRI-NA has been introduced in America, it has met with such tremendous success that Doctors, Specialists, Nurses, and Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, have thoroughly investigated it, and now exclusively recommend it to fat people as absolutely harmless and most effective. If you have been fat for years; if your case is most obstinate; if you have tried everything advertised without success; if you suffer from puffing, high blood pressure, tired feeling—simply do this: Get a package of SAN-GRI-NA, take two small tablets before each meal, and watch your weight gradually go down and your health improve. Not only will SAN-GRI-NA do away with fat, but almost from the minute you start taking it you will feel a wonderful change in your entire system. Thousands of people already have been benefited by SAN-GRI-NA, and are sending in most gratifying reports. These cases vary in reducing from 10 to 70 pounds in a remarkably short time, and many say that "almost immediately after taking SAN-GRI-NA they felt 100 per cent. better."

Mrs. Koster, of Brooklyn, writes: "With SAN-GRI-NA, in six weeks I lost 39 pounds of ugly fat, and after years of suffering I was relieved from heart trouble. I now can climb the stairs without puffing, and I have found wonderful relief. You can use my letter, as well as my name, as I am grateful, and wish to help as many of my sisters as I can."

"When I first sent for SAN-GRI-NA I had been under the Doctor's care for heart trouble and high blood pressure. After I used SAN-GRI-NA for two weeks I was much better."—Mrs. Fonquerney.

"SAN-GRI-NA is a great help to me. I have reduced 20 pounds since I first started to use it."—Mrs. Wm. Parker.

"I have used 2 boxes of SAN-GRI-NA and I have lost 20 lbs."—Mrs. Dull, Oklahoma.

"I lost 8 pounds with one box of SAN-GRI-NA."—Mrs. Whiting, Springfield, Mass.

"I am very pleased with results. I have lost 14 pounds in 10 days."—Mrs. Hay, Vancouver.

NOTE.—Since SAN-GRI-NA has been introduced in America, it has met with such tremendous success that imitations cannot be avoided. Save yourself a disappointment. Ask for and be sure to get SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept a substitute claimed "just as good."

morning that a patient needed an immediate operation it could be performed at once. If a consultation was deemed expedient the chief surgeon and any others of the staff needed might be telephoned and they could be on hand within a very short time.

Officers Subject to Call.

The officers on duty at the hospital are always subject to call. The fact that they may have some personal engagement makes no difference if an emergency case is brought in. Not so long ago a certain young officer attached to the oral surgery department invited a party of friends to dinner and the theatre. During the afternoon of the appointed day it was decided to operate on two aviators who had been in a serious automobile accident and had been considerably broken up as to faces and jaws. About 6 o'clock, when his guests were putting on the finishing touches to their toilettes and were beginning to look forward with anticipation to a nice thick juicy steak with all the trimmings, he telephoned that he had finished with one man and was just starting into the operating room with the other. He finally reached the theatre by the middle of the first act. Which shows that duty is the first consideration with those attached to the hospital.

The Army Medical School is not an undergraduate school. It conducts only post graduate courses, with special emphasis on serum therapy, Roentgenology, preventive medicine and epidemiology. As a clinic they have the entire Walter Reed General hospital. After graduation student officers are sent to the Medical Field Service School at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, where they are instructed in military drill, taught to be soldiers, and familiarized with the medical department field units used in peace and war. The Veterinary School and the Dental School are conducted on the same principles.

The nurses attending the Army School of Nursing receive much the same training as those in civilian hospitals with the possible exception that they perhaps have stricter discipline, since they must conform to military practices the same as other officers and men serving in the army. Particular emphasis is also given to public health training and as a method of obtaining practical training the hospital each year details nurses for a specified period only to work with local public health and welfare organizations.

Walter Reed hospital of course is not the only army hospital in which Veterans' Bureau patients are being taken care of. Army hospitals in all sections of the country are being utilized for this purpose. According to a recent report of the Veterans' Bureau the army reserves 2,837 beds in their hospitals for such patients, 2,256 of which were occupied at the date of the report. It is true in all of these, as at Walter Reed, that no discrimination is shown between bureau patients and those from the army.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Dog Hero Gives Life To Save Stray Puppy From Watery Grave

The canine hero, owned by C. M. Bryant, was playing with a party of children on the banks of the Connecticut river. A puppy, which had been tied in a sack, was thrown into the river. The dog ran to the edge of the thin ice, gripped the sack in his teeth and started back to the shore. But the ice broke, and both dogs perished.

DEFIANCE, April.—Kicked in the stomach and thigh by his two horses while he was tending them, J. R. Brombes received painful bruises. His condition, however, was not deemed serious.

When Your Skin Is Sallow and Dull

Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.

But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.

Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucus membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.

COULD BE BEAUTIFUL

Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.

We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these facts.

You cannot be attractive with catarrh!

World's Tonic conquers catarrh!

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering — the hoping — the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Maple Syrup Time.

Sap a-boilin' in th' vat an' steam a-rollin' up;
Hired man a-goin' 'round an,' with an ol' tin cup,
Samplin' o' th' maple syrup simmerin' an' sweet.
Reckon sugar-makin' time is mighty hard t' beat!
Dad an' brother Johnny there with pails a-brimmin' high
Gath'rin' from th' buckets hangin' on th' trees; an I,
Thinkin' Im a grown-up man, behind th' team o' roans.
Maple syrup time's th' finest joy a feller owns.

Sumpthin' smelly in th' tres an' in th' thawin' ground
Know that maple syrup time's th' time fer birds t' sing.
Crunchin' o' th' horses' feet that bravely plod along
Set yer soul a'carolin' a new an' sweeeter song
Than youh've heard before. I 'llow its tone an' rhyme
Somehow can't be sung except at suger-makin' time.

Years have kind o' grabbed my hand an' led me far away
From the old an boy-loved trails I traveled yesterday;
Yet when thawin- weather comes, there's sumpthin' takes me back—
Where there's steam a-rollin' out, an' close beside th' door,
Stands a half a dozen cords o' sugar wood, or more.
Thoughts o' dingy pavements, then, jest seem t' sort o' flee.
Reckon maple syrup time wuz made for sech as me.

Uncle Sam Bars Their Marriage

Promises not to marry signed by actresses usually are scraps of paper, but not so in the cases of Eileen Seymour (at top) and Margot Greville, English beauties. In order to gain a waiver from immigration authorities permitting them to appear in a production in New York, they had to agree not to marry while they are in the U. S.

AINT IT THE GRAND, GLORIOUS FEELING

"I can not praise Ka-di-ok enough for what it has done for me," said Mr. H. D. Mays, 10 South 5th St., Martin's Ferry, O., to the Ka-di-ok representative. Mr. Mays is a 71-year "young" carpenter contractor of that city, and, since taking Ka-di-ok, has engaged in the construction of five houses there. He was a sufferer from rheumatism, affecting his entire body, indigestion, stomach trouble, loss of appetite, and the usual ills accompanying a disordered stomach.

H. D. Mays

After taking Ka-di-ok he emphatically declares his rheumatic pains have all left him, his appetite has returned, and he feels "glorious." Ka-di-ok will do for others what it did for Mr. Mays, if you will only give it a trial. The label on the bottle states in plain language the ills for which it is recommended, and it does exactly what is claimed for it, as testified to by thousands of grateful people all over the country.

YOUR HEALTH

What to Do to Be Armed Against Dangers of Colds

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

ONE of my readers has written, asking for a series of articles on colds, influenza and pneumonia. This is a time of year when it is well to be armed against the things which make for disease of the respiratory organs, as we call the nose, throat and lungs.

To-day I will tell you something about how you get colds and influenza, bronchitis and pneumonia.

We believe now that all these ailments are caused by an infecting agent, perhaps a germ of some sort. But the mere presence of the germ is not enough. There must be a lowering of the resistance of the body to permit the germ to do its work.

The reason we put locks on our doors and catches on our windows is to keep out the occasional individual who might happen along and covet our possessions. These frail things would not resist an army, but they are proof against ordinary efforts to effect entrance.

Our bodies are not made to resist the mass attacks of the virulent germs which swarm in time of epidemic. Under epidemic conditions, the strongest may fall, but under ordinary conditions reasonable care will protect against infection.

Filth and germs are twins—Siamese twins at that. Where you find filth you will find germs.

These are strong words, but they are true words. In human beings freedom from germs can be guaranteed only when there is produced a condition of surgical cleanliness.

Such cleanliness of every bodily surface is impossible, of course. But the nearer you approach it the safer you are.

Suppose you start from home in the morning with a clean body well-scrubbed mouth, cleared-out nostrils, clean hands and immaculate fingernails, clean underwear and stockings—how long will you stay clean?

You go into a street car or a crowded store and somebody coughs, sneezes or talks loudly. Immediately the air in the vicinity is filled with a spray of moisture from his mouth. It lands on your face and is breathed into your nostrils.

Under a microscope each tiny droplet of this spray is big as a world and teeming with a population of germs—perhaps of a cold or of influenza, possibly pneumonia.

Your hands come in contact with the moist secretions left on doorknobs or toilet articles by disease-infected persons. You touch your fingers to your lips or nostrils, and soon you get the effects of an infection which might be avoided by cleanliness and care.

Bardsey Isle King Is Seeking Bride And Good Time

He has visited the nearby town of Aberdaron in search of a place in which to set up house, stating that he intended to marry soon and wants a nice young girl of 18.

"What's the use of staying on Bardsey to starve?" he asked. "We have grown tired of being on that dead-and-alive hole and are now out for a good time, and intend to enjoy all the things that we have missed."

NELSONVILLE, April.—The large mines of the Carbondale Coal company and the Poston Coal company, at Carbondale and Millfield, have been closed for an indefinite period. Lack of orders is said to be the cause. Owners of these mines, each of which employes about 300 men, would not state when work will be resumed.

Among the accidents reported at the opening of Parliament in London was that of "a guardsman posted opposite the House of Lords fainting and falling upon his bayonet that pierced his chin."

American Davis Cup Defense May Lose Tilden and Richards

Can't Play Unless Committee Changes Player-Writer Rule

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 8.—William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, respective national champion and his runner-up in the national ranking list, are lost to the American Davis cup defense and tournament tennis in general for the season of 1925 unless there is a hurried revision of the player-writer rule. Richards today set at rest any doubt that might exist on the subject by declaring himself out from behind the net and in at the front of a typewriter. He added that he was merely echoing the sentiments of Tilden.

The latter, according to Richards, is confident that the United States Lawn Tennis association will rewrite the rule before the Davis cup issue comes to a head. If the association does not, neither Tilden nor Richards is likely to take a racquet in hand during the impending season except for exercise and purposes of exhibition.

"It all comes down to a question of our bread and butter," Richards said. "The association has passed a rule forbidding us to write a line on tournaments in which we are competing. That is just the time when our employers want our articles. Even if the employers were willing to abide by this condition, they couldn't be expected to pay our salaries while we play tennis. If I wanted the day off to go swimming, I couldn't expect to be paid for it. By the same token, I couldn't expect my salary to run on while I am away for a week or ten days playing tennis. I am a married man and have more than myself to think of. Need I say more?"

The young man did, however. He added that he, for one, would not be a party to the American team that is supposed to be headed for Wimbledon this summer. Neither will Tilden nor, for that matter, William M. Johnston, according to Richards. This statement lends color to the impression that the American invaders will just about represent the competitive strength of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Asked why Tilden, a member of the special committee that drafted the latest player-writer rule, rubber stamped the proposition when not in favor of it, Richards declared the American champion had no alternative. Six members of the seven-man committee favored the rule, as drafted. Tilden, he said, merely climbed on the band wagon as a passenger, not as a musician.

RUTH ORDERED TO TAKE REST

May Not be Well Enough to Play When Season Opens.

ASHVILLE, N. C., April 8.—Babe Ruth will leave Ashville this afternoon for New York if his condition is considered sufficiently good for the trip, it was announced this morning by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees.

Ruth's collapse at the railway station yesterday, when he fainted after having been ill most of the time enroute, was ascribed to a highly aggravated nervous condition following several attacks of influenza.

Ruth may not be well enough to play baseball when the American league season opens, it was said. Physicians have ordered absolute rest for him.

Ruth was not ill this morning, aside from weakness following his collapse. He was left in bed at the Batter Park hotel here when his team mates resumed their northward journey today. He planned to take a train direct to New York about four o'clock this afternoon.

According to Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, speaking before he left this morning, Ruth has been playing ball through sheer nerve since the team started north from Florida. In Atlanta a few days ago the slugger was forced to leave a game after a few innings but returned to the line-up the following day.

Sunday in Chattanooga he was taken ill and entered the game there over the protests of Huggins and several team mates.

Enroute from Knoxville Ruth realized he had reached the end of his string and told players of both Brooklyn and New York clubs that he was sick.

"I feel like I'm burning up inside," he said, according to "Dock" Woods, trainer of the Yankees. The trainer attempted to relieve him but Ruth's condition became worse and finally became alarming. Woods said Ruth was delirious with a high fever at times just before the train reached Asheville and when he attempted to leave the train collapsed in a faint.

Several players picked up the big outfielder and carried him to a taxicab which rushed him to the Battery Park hotel and doctors were hurriedly summoned. His fever was soon allayed but not until after he had passed through a period of illness that was decidedly alarming to players of the Yankees.

Ruth had a mild attack of a similar illness at Hot Springs this spring before joining the Yankees in Florida. He had not fully recovered, physicians said.

ART FLETCHER, OF PHILLIES, HAS BEST MINOR LEAGUE TEAM NOW IN MAJORS

By Norman E. Brown

BRADENTON, Fla., April 8.—Art Fletcher is in fine shape this spring. He is going to give the other seven ball clubs in the National League some interesting afternoons the coming summer. This regardless of the makeup of his ball club.

That's about the way you see things after looking over the Phillies here. Fletcher has the poorest looking ball club in Florida. If there is any honor in having that distinction Fletcher can be covered. Otherwise I see little ahead of him to make him smile.

Last year it was Fletcher's tireless energy and ability to inject fight into his team that carried that club along. Fletcher must carry the load this year.

He will, however, present a different lineup to the hometown fans. As the team stands now he will trek into Philadelphia with three new men in his infield. Heinie Sand, shortstop, will be the only 1924 infielder on the job.

Fletcher here is playing "Chicken" Hawkes, ex-Yank, at first. Walter Kimmick, once a Red and with Vernon last year, is on second. Charley Huber, obtained from Beaumont, is on third.

Huber has been up before. He is not a spring chicken—about twenty-seven. He is a brilliant fielder, however, and everyone likes a good fielder at the last corner. If Hawkes fails to hit his stride at first when the regular season gets under way the veteran Walter Holke will go back to first. Fletcher hopes to keep Hawkes there, however. Horace Ford has taken his dolls home and said he won't play anymore unless he gets lots and lots of money. And at this writing no additional requisitions had been drawn on the Phils' exchequer to induce Mr. Ford to return to the club. So he can be crossed off the list of utility infielders.

Fletcher's outfield will be George Burns, ex-Giant, in left; George Harper, also an ex-Red, in center and Cy Williams in right. This is a change for the venerable Cy and one that he requested.

The Phils' pitching staff will again consist of Jimmy Ring and the field as they say at the race track. The field consists of Betts, Carlson, Couch, Clarence Mitchell and probably Hubbell, one of the season's longest holdouts.

Among the rookie pitchers Ray Pierce looks the best. He was with the Cubs some time ago. He's a left-hander and tiny but, boy, he can pitch. Then there's Dana Fillingim, once a Brave. He's hopeful of coming back. They all are. He has the average chance, no more, no less.

Jack Knight came up from Houston ready to go, according to Texas League fans. He will be kept for a time at least.

Butch Henline and Wilson will do the catching again.

No effort is made in this epistle to place the Phils in the coming fracas. But as the team looks now Fletcher is going to put a whole lot of energy into carrying a weak team some place in the race.

More power to Arthur if he does something.

PHYSICIAN'S GLAND EXPERIMENTS ASTOUND SCIENTIFIC WORLD

Through a New Scientific Discovery the Vital Glands May Be Assisted in Their Work of Supplying the Energizing Glandular Secretions Which Are So Necessary to Vigorous Health.

Thousands of Men and Women Now Take Glandogen to Help Regain Normal Health, Vigor and Strength

"We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals.

Wonders have been worked in the rejuvenation of youth and vigor by glandular treatment in one of California's State institutions. This "Scientific Magic" has been performed by the head physician and surgeon, who reports success in 90% of 1,000 cases treated.

Probably the most remarkable instance is the case of a 73-year-old man who displayed the athletic prowess of a youth of twenty by running a 50-yard race in 6 seconds.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS REVEAL AMAZING FACTS ABOUT GLANDS.

Dr. Serge Voronoff, an international authority on Organotheraphy has said: "The brain, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all other organs would be incapable of playing any useful part without the aid of the glands. The functioning of our organs is no more than the activity of our glands."

At a recent medical convention in Chicago an eminent physician stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands, many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular tratment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands:

GLANDULAR TREATMENT (GLANDOGEN) CAN NOW BE TAKEN IN CONVENIENT TABLET FORM.

Thousands of men and women are now turning to glandular treatment to help regain lost strength, vigor, vitality and health. Since science has prepared a gland treatment in simple, compact tablet form—Glandogen—it is a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glandogen is scientifically prepared in two different forms, one for men and one for women, from the vital glands of healthy young animals, combined with other efficacious ingredients. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate store will supply you.

"Ace" Hudkins is New Pacific Coast Champ

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wild cat," was today the Pacific coast lightweight champion following his ten-round victory over Joe Benjamin, Stockton "sheik" in the Vernon coliseum here last night. Ace outsmarted, out-boxed and outguessed Benjamin throughout and had him nearly out in the sixth when Hudkins claimed the referee's failure to count cost him a knockout.

The Nebraska "ace" immediately after the fight issued a challenge to any lightweight in the world.

Power Beyond Need

The Roadster $1095 at factory

Glass enclosures at small extra cost

Oakland Six has more power than you will ever need. Best of all, it does not derive this power from an oversized engine nor from an extravagant use of gasoline. It is more powerful than engines of similar size because of its correct design. Made to standards as exact as those of the finest aeroplane motors, it is a true reflection of the intensified engineering that characterizes every detail of Oakland construction. Find out what Oakland power means. Here is our invitation. Take the car out where the going is hardest and where the grades are tough and steep. Make your own tests in your own way. Then you will know. Learn also how easy and convenient it is to purchase an Oakland Six on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

DETROIT, Mich., April 8.—Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola again won their events last night but failed to fracture any records. Nurmi raced to victory in the 3,000-metres in 8 minutes, 46 seconds. Ritola gave his numerous opponents a two lap handicap and won hadily.

Joie Ray of the I. A. C. and Jackson V. Scholz, were disappointed. The latter was forced to finish last in a field of four in the finals of the 50 yard dash. Honors went to Dehart Hubbard, of Michigan who Equalled the world's record of 5 1-5 seconds. Joie Ray again lost to Lloyd Hahn of Boston in a special match race at three quarters of a mile.

Q. How many radio stations are there in the United States? A. C. S.

A. There are now 563 broadcasting stations either in operation or under construction. Of these 455 are Class A, 500 watts power or less with radius of good practical reception of 25 to 50 miles. In Class B there are 168 stations, over 500 watts, with increasing power and much wider radius.

Q. Where is the largest silk mill in the world? E. K. B.

A. There are no official statistics as to the location of the largest silk mill in the world. The Silk Association of America, however, says that William Skinner and Sons, Holyoke, Massachusetts, have the largest silk mill under one roof in the world, there being 2,300 looms there. Schwarzenbach, Huber and Company have the largest mills in Europe, but they do not have a large number of mills under one roof. They are scattered in small units in various towns and villages.

A. The Biological Survey says that it has no information with regard to the exact distance that moose can swim, but it has been found that these animals oftentimes swim rivers a mile or two broad. Deer swim about the same distance. The caribou are perhaps the best swimmers and they have been known to cross lakes six or eight miles wide.

Q. Are the majority of our prominent people city or country bred? A. E.

A. Recently Mr. Fred Adams Woods analyzed "Who's Who in America" and found that cities of more than 8,000 inhabitants have furnished about twice as many prominent men as their percentage of the total population would lead one to expect.

Q. What was known as the Yellow Day in connection with the building of the Brooklyn Bridge? P. H. D.

A. Accounts of the construction of the bridge state that one Sunday morning neglect by the watchman inside a caisson allowed air to blow out, creating a panic and stampede above ground and flinging over buildings and shipping a coat of yellow mud. It can not be as easily cut as the ordinary type of glass.

If Porter Sleeps, Pullman Company Must Pay Losses

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—If a Pullman porter sleeps while the passengers are asleep the company is responsible for all losses sustained by the passengers. This ruling was handed down in common pleas court here by Judge Rowand when he sustained a verdict of $185 in favor of Hugh A. Marx.

Marx was a passenger on a sleeping car from Pittsburgh to Boston April 22, 1923. He awoke during the night and rang for the porter to get him additional blankets. He got no response. He then ascertained that the conductor and porter had gone to sleep after all the passengers had retired. When he awoke next morning he found his baggage was gone.

600 Good Books? Hardly.
The "No-Man" Husband.
The Apes Remember.
Coolidge Commonsense.

— By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The League of Nations will publish a list of the 600 best books produced in each year. What a fine world this would be if it could produce 600 books really worth keeping!

Of all books written you might destroy all but 600 and still have left everything really important.

The Caliph Omar destroyed the magnificent library at Alexandria, saying that if the books agreed with the Koran they were superfluous and if they opposed it they were vicious and should be destroyed for that reason.

That was too drastic, but if the League of Nations could find six books every year of permanent value that would be a good many.

The experienced lady divides husbands into the weak "YES-MAN" and the powerful, manly "NO-MAN."

The "NO-MAN," as you guess, harks back to the cave and knows how to say "no." A woman likes to be bossed, says Miss Bayes, and soon gets tired of a "YES-MAN."

An interesting definition of husbands, but there is such a thing as saying "NO" too often. Who knows but No. 6 may be another "YES-MAN?"

Professor Wolfgang Koehler of Berlin, tells Columbia university how the great apes resemble man. They vary in intelligence, as men do, but have better memories than men. They know enough to break a branch from a tree to reach out for a fruit beyond the reach of their hands.

Prof. Koehler annoys those who are sure that Darwin didn't know what he was talking about.

How does the mud wasp perform a surgical operation upon a caterpillar, paralyzing and keeping it alive all winter, to be eaten by young wasps when they hatch!

Who taught the ant to organize cities, establish a nobility of parasites and take care, like the bees, of a queen, because she means the perpetuation of the tribe?

Who taught working bees to let the male drones live until the queen has made her choice and then kill the survivors?

He who denies the importance of evolution is, of course, an ignoramus. He who would use evolution to explain everything is equally foolish.

President Coolidge talked good common sense on giving preference to home industry and American workmen." Newspapers say he "defended" such preference, but there is not need for defence.

The duty of a nation, its government and its chief executive is to work for that nation and for the working people that have created it.

The British are not bashful about giving the preference to British workers. In every advertisement you read "British made," or "British built." Too many Americans brag about the fact taht what they often is "imported from England," as though there is nothing fit to produce or use in this country. If you make your money in America, spend it in America.

MRS. GEORGIA HACKETT RUGGLES of Los Angeles left the bulk of her fortune, $500,000, to the Christian Science church. The church cannot get the money, because the will was made only 26 days before the lady died.

Under California law no church can inherit unless the will was made 30 days before death

Jail "Doctor" After he Sells Baby for $100 To New York Couple

NEW YORK, April 9.—"Dr." H. L. Green was under arrest today following his denial that the baby sold to Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Grofe for $100 was the Lillian McKenzie child, missing for the past two years, and for whom a nation-wide search was made.

Green, who said his real name was Henry Lee Mottard, graduate of the Nation school of chiropractice in Chicago, was charged with performing an illegal operation. He practiced at Kaukauna, Wis., before coming to New York.

Police said information obtained from Green would be investigated to determine if an illegal medical "ring" was in operation. Detectives were sent to the Greentree farm at Smithtown, Long Island, where Green says he has been living. Other arrests may result from the investigation, police said.

GOV. DONAHEY KILLS CITY,S FINE-SPLITTING DETECTIVE ORDINANCE

Councilmanic Bill, Blamed for Tragic Climax of East Liverpool-Wellsville Raiders' Last January, is Wiped Off Statute Books by Executive's Approval of Senator Bender's Bill.

MEASURE PROVIDES AGENTS' PAY MUST COME FROM GENERAL FUND

Legislation Prohibits Payment of Percentage of Fines to Officers Engaged in Running Down Violators of Liquor Law—Provides for Fixed Compensation and Specified Term.

East Liverpool's fine-splitting detective ordinance, which was blamed for the tragic climax of the Wellsville-East Liverpool raiders' war last January, is dead.

This was the opinion expressed today by Solicitor Harry Brokaw today, following Gov. A. V. Donahey's action yesterday in signing the bill introduced by Senator George H. Bender of Cleveland, to abolish the practice of paying prohibition enforcement agents and attorneys hired to prosecute liquor law violators, out of a split of the fines and fees.

Under the Bender law, salaries of all constables, marshals and attorneys hired to prosecute law violators must be fixed and paid out of the general revenue fund, and the employes must be hired for a fixed term. Under existing statutes, political subdivisions could set aside a portion of fines collected for payment of these agents.

The measure wipes off the councilmanic statute books the so-called "Ten per cent" ordinance, under the provisions of which liquor law detectives were to be paid part of the fines assessed against persons convicted of violating the prohibition statutes.

Signs Another Bender Bill.

Enactment of the ordinance, which caused a storm of protest here, and repeal of which was petitioned by 2,865 electors, was followed by an invasion of Wellsville by a squad of Steubenville detectives, co-operating with Patrolmen Norman McFarland and Herman Roth and Turnkey William A. Cline. Reprisal raids were immediately staged in East Liverpool by Wellsville police. As a result, one of the men arrested here committed suicide.

Gov. Donahey yesterday also signed another bill introduced by Senator Bender, which makes it first degree murder to kill a prohibition agent engaged in the performance of his duty.

Vetoes Two More Bills.

COLUMBUS, April 9.—Gov. Donahey again swung his veto axe today and sent two more bills back to the house of their origin without his approval. Thirteen others, however, were approved and signed.

Persons employed by an industrial concern which does not pay premiums into the Ohio Workmen's Compensation fund will collect damages from the fund in case of injury under the provisions of one of the bills signed today by the governor. The measure bears the title Rebman-Kumler. The present law provides that a person may not collect damages unless the employer is insured under the workmen's Compensation Act.

Bills which would regulate and license real estate brokers and salesmen and which would change the present law granting exemption from civil service to soldiers and Red Cross nurses of the Spanish and World wars were vetoed by the governor.

FREEMAN CHILD FIRE VICTIM

Wellsville Girl, Six Years Old, Dies of Burns.

Florence Freeman, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Freeman, of 409 Commerce street, Wellsville, died last night at 10:30 o'clock in the family residence as a result of burns sustained Monday afternoon.

The child was burned over practically her entire body after her clothing had caught fire from matches with which she was playing during the absence of her mother.

Mrs. Freeman, it is said, had left the children alone for a few minutes while she stepped out of the house.

Screams of Florence brought neighbors and the mother to the back porch of the Freeman residence a short time later, where they found the girl enveloped in flames which were consuming her clothing.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two brothers and a sister.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the family residence. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

American Missionary Dies.

RANGOON, India, April 9.—Dr. Wm. Frye Thomas, 69 years old of the American Baptist mission, of Burma, died here today Dr. Thomas was widely known in missionary and native circles for his courageous and effective work for many years among the Hill tribes.

Anti-Fascist Meetings Banned.

MILAN, Italy, April 9.—All political meetings of parties opposed to fascism have been forbidden by Minister of the Interior Federzon with the approval of Premier Mussolini, it was announced today. Even private halls have been closed to avoid conflicts and disorders.

OHIOAN FLEES ATLANTA PRISON

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9.—Search was being made throughout Georgia and neighboring states today for Robert A. Schulter, honor farm convict at the United States penitentiary here, who, according to authorities, has been missing since yesterday. Schulter, sentenced from Columbus, O., on charges of using the mails to defraud, is the first prisoner to escape since John W. Snook, new warden, took over his duties.

PLANS TO QUIT CABINET POST

John W. Weeks.

WAR SECRETARY WEEKS, ILL, TO RESIGN PLACE

Charles D. Hilles, New York, Looms as Successor.

CAPITAL REPORT

Cabinet Change is Expected Within 10 Days.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The resignation of John W. Weeks, as secretary of war, and the appointment of his successor, probably Charles D. Hilles, of New York, is expected within 10 days, according to seemingly authentic reports in administration circles here today.

Secretary Weeks has notified President Coolidge that he cannot continue in his post, but his actual resignation is being held up until Mr. Coolidge is ready to announce his successor.

While his physicians continue to report daily improvement in Secretary Weeks' condition, he still is a "mighty sick man," it was said today. Cabinet officers and others who have called at his home have not been admitted to the sick room.

Doctors Order Rest

The doctors are understood to have told him that any unusual exertion or any continuation of his desk work at the war department might prove fatal. Reluctantly, after this advice, Secretary Weeks is said to have remarked:

"Well, I'll quit. The administration can get along much better without me than my family can."

Hilles is credited with a preference for the postmaster-generalship rather than the war department and this may lead to the transfer of Postmaster-General New to Weeks' post.

Secretary Weeks' physicians have insisted that he leave Washington for a long rest, preferably in some rural retreat where absolute rest and quiet would be assured. He has a summer cottage in New Hampshire that may be utilized.

MUSSOLINI TAKES OVER NEW JOB

ROME, April 9.—Premier Mussolini today took over the ministry of war, made vacant by the resignation of Minister Di Gorgio when the senate disapproved his army reform bill. In a message to the army he said:

"I intend to dedicate my constant energy to making the army a more decisive instrument of Italian power."

Second U. P. Church Pastor is Speaker at Luncheon.

TAXATION TOPIC

Frank Swaney Suggests Possibility of Air Landing Field.

Taxation is the biggest problem facing the American people today, Rev. Dr. James O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, told 60 members of the Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon in the Larkins annex, Market street, today. His subject was "Community Federation of Brains."

"Despite the great importance of the taxation question, very few people understand it or make any effort to understand it," he said. "We pay our taxes, make a kick about them being high and then let the matter drop. It's a big subject that affects every one of us.

"Another matter which interests most of us is city improvements. We often wonder why things are not done. The answer is revenue. Americans are poor municipal planners. In this respect, German cities are far ahead of American municipalities."

The speaker voiced a plea for the Carnegie library. "We have an excellent building here, fine people in charge, but yet you are trying to make those people make brick without straw," he said. "The library is sadly in need of books, reference books that would be of valuable as-

EIGHT KURDISTAN REBELS EXECUTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 9. — Eight Kurdistan rebels were executed today before the mosque at Diar Bekir, the war office announced.

Complete mobilization of Turkish federal troops was ordered today because of the seriousness of the rebellion. The Turks are pressing the rebels hard in every section, but the rebellion is widespread.

The rebels lost 300 killed in a battle near Silvan and in retreat the survivors burned the villages of Bourgas and El Madin.

Boy, 17, Convicted of Delinquency in Zanesville Case.

GIRL TESTIFIES

Defendant Under Eyes of Juvenile Authorities Until he is 21.

By HAROLD G. McCOY

ZANESVILLE, O., April 9.—Hal Donahey, son of the governor of Ohio, today was placed in custody of the Muskingum probate court until he reaches his twenty-first birthday as a result of his flight to Columbus Sunday night with Lillian Vogel, 15-year-old Zanesville girl. Both were found guilty by the court of charges against them.

In addition, probate judge Clarence Graham imposed a fine of $100 on Hal after he had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of the girl in inducing her to go with him to Columbus and secreting her in a rooming house there. The fine was promptly paid by James W. Huffman, executive clerk to the governor.

Court Explains Severe Fine.

Judge Graham told Hal he made the fine a severe one because he did not "come clean" when first questioned as to the whereabouts of the Vogel girl when she had been reported missing and search for her was in progress.

The Vogel girl, a colorless Miss, was charged with incorrigibility and truancy from school. She is a ward of the juvenile court. She was ordered to get back to her books this afternoon and was placed on strict probation. If Hal becomes the central figure in any more escapades like the one just closed or his conviction four weeks ago for violation of a traffic ordinance in Columbus and his stay of three days in the Columbus city prison, he will be promptly haled back into the local juvenile court and dealt

Self-Confessed "Lone Wolf" Bandit Is Declared Sane

BOSTON, April 9.—James E. Walter, of Richmond, Va., self-confessed "Lone Wolf" bandit, is sane. Government alienists so reported today to Judge Bishop in superior court.

The alienists said the "wolf" was sane but of "abnormal personality."

Judge Bishop gave Walter's attorney three hours to read the report before beginning the trial of the man who terrorized the women of the Back Bay district.

MRS. COOLIDGE WILL SELECT EASTER ATTIRE FROM HER PRESENT WARDROBE

President's Wife, However, Has Extensive Array From Which to Choose Owing to Rigid Fashion Obligations.

WASHINGTON, April 9. — Attention, women!

Let the Coolidge brand of economy solve the problem of your Easter finery if you are hard put to it for the wherewithal.

Pick your attire for Sunday from stock on hand. It will be perfectly proper; your criterion will be the first lady of the land.

Mrs. Coolidge is making no investment in Easter toggery this year. Her costume will be selected from her present wardrobe, and its nature will depend entirely upon the weather. Not even a new hat has found its way to the White House.

The president's wife, however, has an extensive array from which to choose. Owing to the rigid—and expensive—fashion obligations imposed upon the mistress of the White House, Mrs. Coolidge has a wardrobe that is complete from A to Z.

For instance, the prevailing style calls for the ensemble costume. She has three. Should it be rainy or cold there are a half dozen or more cloth coats awaiting selection. The number of hats and slippers available would appall the average housewife.

VON HINDENBURG TO CONDUCT 'SILENT CAMPAIGN' FOR GERMAN PRESIDENCY

Field Marshal Declares he Will Not Make Speeches, But Will Issue "Easter Message" to Voters.

BERLIN, April 9.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg will conduct a "silent campaign" for the presidency, it was announced by his sponsors today. He supplemented this by declaring that he would not make a single speech and his only statement to voters would be a brief "Easter message."

Hindenburg is determined to keep aloof from party strife, his friends declared. Despite his pacific attitude, it was predicted the election would be one of the most bitterly fought contests in German history.

The chances of Hindenburg have been greatly improved by the withdrawal of Ludendorff, politicians said, and by the action of the Communists in opposing Hindenburg and Marx, candidate of the Republicans. The Communist newspaper, Rote Fahne, in headlines, said of Hndenburg:

Intense Interest in Fight.

Overnight the German political situation has developed from apathy to tenson. Millions of partisans who did not vote at the first election either through indifference or objection to the field of candidates suddenly have become intensely interested.
